Fire at Joffre Destroys Home

(from our own correspondent)

JOFFRE. — The Ed Gynnup family lost their home and all possessions in an early-morning fire on New Year's day, but they consider themselves lucky to have escaped unharmed.

Mrs. Gynnup woke up from a crackling noise about 8:00 o'clock New Year's morning, so flew quickly upstairs to the attic from what is believed to have been an overheated chimney. She and her husband had time only to scamper from the building with their four pre-school children into below zero temperature.

They lived on the old homestead of Mr. Gynnup's parents down by the river, about eight to ten miles southeast of Joffre.

One report stated that they pulled a bed mattress out of the house for the bare-footed children to stand on. Mr. Gynnup and an old worker from across the river who noticed the flames, kept throwing snow on the family car parked nearby to save it.

The fire was far too advanced to save the house or its contents.

The family is now living in the Marvin Evans house just out of Haynes.

A neighbor, "Curly" Richardson has started a fund to aid the family. Any donations may be left at the Joffre general store.

Mrs. Crooker, Pioneer, 92, Passes Away

Mrs. Mary Isabel Crooker, pioneer resident of Lacombe, died at the age of 92 on Thursday, December 31, 1964, at the Rimbey Three-Way Hospital.

She was born in Ontario in 1873, and married the late John B. Crooker in 1895. She came west to Lacombe in 1901 and homesteaded two miles north of Spruceville hall, farming there until the death of Mr. Crooker in 1938.

She moved to Lacombe proper in 1941. In the early days, the late Mrs. Crooker was active in Sunday school and church work in the Spruceville district.

She is survived by one son, Ormand of Redcliff; two daughters, Mrs. Ray Whitecotton of Lacombe, and Mrs. Irene Miller of Calgary; 18 grandchildren, and 44 great grandchildren. She was predeceased by her husband in 1938, and two sons, Boyd in 1958, and Ernest in 1960.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. B. H. Thackeray last Saturday afternoon from Fenton and Kirkham funeral chapel.

Pallbearers were Frank Rice, Robert McNaughton, James Chalmers, John Batchilan, Fred Rigby, and Roy Burton.

Town Snow Removal Costs Run High

Snow removal from streets and sidewalks is going to cost the town of Lacombe a pretty penny this winter, judging by the heavy snowfall to date.

Councillor Don Dew told council at the meeting on Monday night of last week that the services of W. H. Rear have been extended to help clear sidewalks and with 18 hours' work "he has done a good job to date".

Councillor Dew added that manpower and/or heavy machinery would be needed to cope with some drifts. He hoped that town crews can handle this "until we have another big blow."

Councillor Lew Hittle reported that there was "quite a pile of snow" at the back of the senior citizens' lodge, and he asked for town assistance in getting rid of it.

The small tractor operated by Martin Kribke which doubles as a snow removal machine in winter and mower in summer is still causing trouble. After some gears were replaced, ignition problems were encountered.

Councillor Dew advocated that any maintenance problems arising on the grader town foreman Orville Saunders.

Press Lauds Team

Clippings from Swedish newspapers were received early this week by Mrs. Art Park and they clearly demonstrate the fine press which the Lacombe Rockets received in Sweden.

The papers deal only with the first two games played by Canada . . . and both were victories for Lacombe.

Here, courtesy of Sven Hedman of Lacombe, who translated the sports pages for The Globe, are some of the remarks printed by Stockholm sports columnists:

One sports editor writes: "This is Canadian hockey at its best. It has already been determined that Lacombe Rockets are much better than expected; in my case, I believe that the Rockets are simply the best representatives of Maple Leaf country has sent to Sweden. They represent Canadian hockey at its best, and in my opinion, I can't remember a better Canadian team since the Whitby Dunlops were here in 1958."

Another writer notes that "all Canadian teams seem to have top goal tenders. Where do they get these guys? Russ Gillow took everything (in an early game) that anyone could take, and stopped them cold."

Headlines in some of the papers read in this fashion: "Lacombe Can Play Hockey"; "Lacombe Impressive"; "Sodertalje didn't have a chance against the fair-playing Canadians"; "Now everybody is pulling for Canada."

Another sports writer had this to say: "It's very nice to see a Canadian team here that fully deserves the support of the Swedish press."

Apparently, before the tournament started, the Lacombe Rockets were reported to be poor representatives of Canada, and one early headline read: "Shame that the Lacombe Rockets should represent the motherland of hockey."

It is a credit to the Lacombe players that they won respect for themselves (and the town) the hard way.

New Year's Baby Born January 4 to Mr. and Mrs. S. Bergen

• A new son born to Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bergen of Lacombe is the local New Year's baby of 1965.

The baby arrived at 7:50 a.m. on Monday, January 4, and will be eligible for a number of special gifts from Lacombe merchants through arrangements made by the Lacombe ladies' hospital auxiliary.

Attending physician was Dr. W. C. Tetz.

When interviewed, the baby had no comment to make to the press. But he gurgled and was obviously happy with his achievement.

Workshop By-Law Has First Reading

By-law to build a new town workshop was given first reading by town council, at the regular meeting in the council chambers Monday night of last week. It will now be sent to the local authorities board at Edmonton for approval.

Debenture borrowing of $23,000, to be repaid over 10 years, would allow construction of a public works building for the maintenance and storage of town equipment.

The question of location was left to the committee to study, and will be referred in the planning commission for recommendation.

Councillor Don Dew originally suggested a site on town-owned property near the Red Head Service on No. 2A highway, but councillors Hittle and Saunders thought locations should be considered near the Bell shop area, across the tracks, or on Popow's subdivision in northeast Lacombe.

Miscellaneous Business

Business was kept to a minimum at the "holiday season" meeting. Some of the items:

• Council recognized with regret the death during the past week of two former councillors, C. T. Jackson and E. W. Burrows.

• Town census last April showed the population of 3,140 will be used as the figure in applying for grant under the provincial municipal assistance grant for 1965.

• CBC cheque for $305.35 was received as grant in lieu of 1964 taxes on property owned in Lacombe by the CBC.

• Red Deer health unit assessment against Lacombe for the year 1965 is $2.34, or a per capita charge of $1.67.

• Councillor Paul Alberg was appointed dogcatcher for Jan.-Feb.-March, 1965.

• Secretary Frank Lacey received approval to set up a welfare account to handle the payments made by taxpayers on local saving investments. It is planned to use 1/15 of the total sum for each of the next 15 years (original debenture money) and current revenue to complete the annual payment.

In a humorous mood, mayor Wes Jackson passed out Jap oranges to those around the council table and extended best wishes for the new year. One of his best presents was capably contributing the meeting-making an early adjournment possible at 9:35 p.m.

SPIEL THIS WEEK

A total of 64 rinks are competing in the annual Lacombe farmers' bonspiel, with a split draw in progress this week. Finals will be played Friday afternoon at 4:00. (see page 5).

Traffic Toll Continues Here

The year 1965 is starting in where 1964 left off, with more traffic accidents early in the new year following on the heels of the worst accident toll in town history.

The old year went out on December 30 as far as accidents were concerned, when No. 84 was chalked up — more than double the previous year's total — an average of one accident every three days.

A car being backed out of a stall in front of the Treasury branch on 49 street by James E. Stapleton of Lacombe was in collision with the town truck driven by Charlie Orwold. Damage was minor, about $25 to the car.

Lacombe police reported the first accident of the new year on Saturday, Jan. 2, at 10:00 p.m. at the intersection of 53 avenue and 35 street.

A 1956 Dodge operated by Henry Polay of Red Deer collided with Norm's Taxi, driven by Norm Polay of Lacombe. Damage to the Dodge amounted to $150, and to the 1963 Ford Fairlane taxi $300.

On Sunday, Jan. 3, a collision occurred on 57 street and 50 avenue between a 1955 Chev driven by Henry M. Spaut of Rimbey and a 1962 Chevrolet owned by William L. Rankin of Lacombe.

Damage to the Rimbey vehicle is estimated at $150, to the late model Chev about $100. Mr. Spaut has been charged by Lacombe police with proceeding through a stop sign when unsafe to do so.

Four-Month Overseas Tour Was a "Wonderful Experience"

Coming home to 20 below winter temperatures from a visit to Nigeria in Africa where day-time temperatures often hit the 100°c combe.

is quite a change for Miss Ruth Salomons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Salomons of La-

Ruth was on a four-month tour from August 18 to December 22, visiting 10 countries in Europe as well.

She was very impressed with Africa, where she stayed at a Nigerian mission compound with a teacher - missionary from the Brackfields district, Norman Brouwer.

Ruth said there is jungle on the coastland, but farther inland there are fewer trees and more arable land. The Tiv tribe of Nigeria is agriculture - minded, growing such produce as yams, sweet potato, ground nuts, cassava, etc.

She ate some native food like pounded yams, and goat meat and chicken, which she found "spicy and full of flavor, usually." At least she encountered no stomach trouble! There is lots of fresh fruit like pineapple, oranges, grapefruit, bananas, and coconuts.

People must sleep under nets to avoid bugs and insects, which include guinea worm larvae and the deadly scorpion. Visitors take paludrine pills every day for malaria.

The first two weeks of November marks the end of the rainy season. The arrival of the white cow-bird signals the start of the dry season, with the dry and hot Harmattan winds from November to April.

The average temperature is 90. March is the hottest month of the year. The temperature never goes below 70, even at night.

The ten countries Ruth visited in Europe were England, Holland, Belgium, Austria, Germany, Switzerland, France, Italy, Yugoslavia and Spain. She saw many friends and relatives in Holland.

She noticed quite a difference in Yugoslavia which is "behind the "iron curtain". People seemed to be more sullen, there was more poverty, and little mechanization on the farm where the sight of ox-drawn carts is still common.

It was quite a trip for a young 23-year-old girl. Ruth has many interesting stories to tell of her travels, and 400 colored slides for illustration.

Silver Wisher

By this time auto-save tongue-starers, snow, being clean as driftless etc., have ceased to be conversation topics and are accepted factors of the 1964-65 winter which will long be remembered with accounts of the storm, the prolonged intensely cold spell and the depth of the snow.

As the two beautifully done nativity scenes were not eligible for an award since both displayers, R. E. Warren and Mrs. Joyce Bell had received awards within the last three years, the senior citizens who had difficulty in selecting a winner asked that the one allotted to the nativity scene be placed in the Christmas theme and that the J. Hansen and Allyn Mason be each given an award in that class.

Alix has reason to be proud of the successes of what were her young hockey players. Both Ken and Larry Wilton are playing for Bentley. Community Worker Dies

Christmas was saddened for the Wolliaston family and their friends by the unexpected passing of a loved father, grandfather and friend, Cuthbert Wolliaston, who in the early hours of afternoon Dec. 24 was stricken with sudden heart trouble which proved fatal about 3:00 a.m. Christmas morning.

A well know community builder, Mr. Wolliaston's keen interest in civic affairs persisted to his final hours. To hardy, industrious, progressive pioneers such as he, this community in common with many others is indebted for the powerful factors now taken for granted.

These far sighted persons are responsible for our well developed farms, business enterprises, churches, roads, recreation centres, schools, in fact everything that makes for a progressive community. They were the planners, the builders, the standard bearers and we hope that we, their successors are worthy of such leaders.

To Mr. Wolliaston's family we offer sincere sympathy. To the memory of him and all such community leaders: truly loving and treasured tribute.

Congratulations to Hon. Dr. Irene Parlby, who will celebrate her 97th birthday on January 9 at the home which she shares with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey Parby and Steven.

Mrs. M. Newton was a Christmas guest at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Art Wass and family in Strathcona. Shortly after arriving there she received the sad news that her brother-in-law had passed on in Prince Albert, Sask., and accompanied her nephew to that point on Wednesday in order to aid her bereaved sister.

we will meet again."

Clearing The Snows

IT must be a little heart-breaking for the town work force to remove tons of snow from local thoroughfares only to see fresh snowfalls that make the tough job necessary all over again.

The workmen use some mechanized equipment like a scraper, sweep, and trucks, but they still have to battle the cold weather and clear cache mixed with snow.

Through most of last month, the men did a good job in keeping the downtown area relatively free of mounting banks of snow. These piles build up quickly as merchants heap their store fronts clean and move snow to the curb. Wind and some drifting adds to these snowbanks, which restrict parking spaces and increase traffic hazards.

It's been hard to keep up to the heavy snowfalls. Town employees are to be commended on the fine work they've done to date under trying conditions.

Outlook For 1965 Favorable

A REVIEW of Canada's economy in 1964 by Hon. Mitchell Sharp, minister of trade and commerce, reveals a promising outlook for 1965.

He notes that the Canadian economy has "moved forward with new vigour in 1964," quoting such statistics as an above average grain crop, strong activity in service and construction trades, and advances in manufacturing and industry. This growth in "all the principal regions of Canada" has contributed to an eight percent increase in the gross national product in 67 billions.

This marks the fourth consecutive years of continued growth and prosperity, which is unusual. While the country has moved steadily ahead in the post-war era, the advances have been checked with reverses at regular and predictable intervals. The latest string is unbroken by a recession since 1959, and this fact in itself is enough to make observers pause before making rash and optimistic predictions for 1965.

Hon. Mr. Sharp says, "as Canada enters 1965 the external economic environment is generally favorable." He adds one cautious not, however, "disturbing elements are also present." Then he goes on to refer to the severe strain in the balance of payments that faced Britain in 1964, similar to Canada's monetary crisis about the time of the 1962 election.

Because of its small population, Canada is dependent on world trade to sell the commodities it produces. Thus our prosperity is based to a greater extent on the healthy economic climate of other nations with which we do business.

A recession elsewhere, particularly in the United States, would have immediate and severe repercussions in Canada.

Always A "Miss"

GLAMOROUS and irresistible Elizabeth Taylor has given newspaper reporters the earth-shaking news that she is Mrs. Richard Burton. She has gone to the altar on several previous occasions so maybe she is just discovering the fact herself.

The difference between this and past marriages is that she wants to change her name for real. It has never made any difference before. As Miss Taylor, Mrs. Conrad Hilton, Mrs. Mike Todd, or take your pick, she was still the not-so-plain Elizabeth Taylor. But in future, she wishes to use the name of Elizabeth Burton on and off the screen.

This is a real switch, not generally accepted in the movie colony. Hollywood moguls, it is safe to say, will frown on Elizabeth's suggestion. After all, how else can female stars be properly identified? Marriages and divorces are a dime-a-dozen, and an actress finds it essential to maintain her original screen name just for continuity's sake. They are always referred to as "Miss" as in "Miss Taylor" instead of "Mrs. Burton" to give the proper image of a sweet and maidenly girl full of innocence.

Elizabeth Fisher, or Taylor, or Burton, or whatever her name is, wants to kick these well-established rules out the window. It is doubtful if fans will stand for a movie marquee that displays in lights a cast featuring "Mrs. Burton." They may know the truth, but they like to be fooled.

The UN Flounders

IT is too bad that the members of the United Nations don't face up to realities. They have failed to be objective in settling two vital questions, the admittance of Red China to the organization and the default of peace-keeping payments by countries like the USSR and France.

To defer these problems or to shunt them aside as if they don't exist has the effect of weakening the structure of the UN, which is already tottering through lack of support from the membership. Our hopes for peace through the UN grow dim.

We tend to look down our white noses at the group of African states which have been granted membership in recent years. In most instances, they are prepared to face up to their present problems and to seek a satisfactory solution, rather than adopt the supercilious attitude of many western nations that "nothing is wrong." In private officials admit there is plenty wrong, but not on the assembly floor.

Canada shoulders a lot of the blame by following on the heels of strict U.S. policy like an obedient dog, denying Red China a seat in the United Nations. From present indications, Canada won't state department in Washington change its position unless the state department in Washington does the same thing — and this is a sorry example of leadership which Canada is supposed to be giving to other middle powers.

The situation is equally degrading on the peace-keeping assessment problem. Russia is more than two years in arrears, and should be deprived of voting powers according to the UN charter. Members are afraid to force the issue in case Russia withdraws from the United Nations. Any votes taken are done so in confidence instead of in open assembly, while the big powers meet privately to try to reach a compromise.

We are trying to keep one communist country out, and another communist country in.

Is this the best we can expect?

Reflections of the Times . .

Voting on Plebiscites

It is time that the antiquated section of the Town and Village Act, which requires a two-third majority before a money by-law is passed, was revised. Surely there are certain capital expenditures which could be left to the good judgment of the mayor and council without going to the ratepayer, who are usually badly informed, for a decision, and in all cases a simple majority should be all that is necessary to pass a money by-law.

It should be possible to categorize debenture borrowings under two headings: Those for essentials, over which the council would have full authority and those which would require a vote of the ratepayers.

By way of illustration, council of town of Stettler is acutely aware of the need of a new town office, necessity judgment in such an essential is all that is required, just as it should be good enough if it wanted to buy a new water main, buy a new truck, build a new garage or construct a sewer lagoon. Instead, council is faced with the embarrassment of having its considered judgment rejected in a plebiscite requiring a two-thirds majority.

On the other hand, there are amenities, such as swimming pools, artificial ice plants, libraries and auditoriums which should require the assent of a simple majority of the ratepayers.

NEW PLANT!

The Imperial Oil Company has shown interest in the possibilities of locating a heavy water plant in the East Coulee area of the Drumheller Valley, should the company be successful in its bid to the atomic power commission of Canada.

Canada's first heavy water plant is being erected in New Brunswick. The federal government has decided another plant would be desirable, possibly in western Canada.

Farmstead Planning

A series of four weekly meetings on farmstead planning are to be held in the Lacombe commercial centre.

The first meeting will be held on Wednesday, January 13 at 1:30 p.m. and will feature Mr. P. D. McCalla, supervisor of horticulture for the Alberta department of agriculture. Mr. McCalla will give a discussion on location of buildings, drainage and correlation of one building to another. He will also give out some very worthwhile information on shelterbelts, landscaping, lawns, etc. in relationship to the overall farmstead plan.

Farm Business Analysis

Again this year in co-operation with the central Alberta farm business association the farm economics branch of the Alberta department of agriculture are prepared to analyze the 1964 farm business of farmers in this county. The purpose of this analysis is to show the individual farmers the strong and weak parts in their farm business.

Upon completion of the analysis each farmer participating is given a report which shows such things as capital investment and efficiency, size of business, use of labour, equipment investment per cultivated acre, crop production and costs per cultivated acre.

In 1963 the average variable costs per crop acre came to $9.86 and the average overhead costs per crop acre came to $11.33), an analysis of the livestock enterprise such as feed costs and returns per $100 worth of feed investment. These are a few of the things which are found out by a farm analysis.

In order to get a farm analysis each farm must have the following information: a listing of all livestock, feed, supplies, machinery and buildings at the first and last of the year; a record of all income and expenses and a record of crop and livestock production. A form is provided on which to list the foregoing information.

The cost of the analysis is $10 per farmer, payable upon completion of the record form. All forms can be obtained at our office and must be returned to our office by January 22. We can help with the completion of the form and an adding machine may be used in our office the week of January 18.

Rockets Lose 3

Lacombe Rockets got a rude come-uppance last Wednesday when they lost their first game in Alsarme cup play in Stockholm, Sweden . . . then went on to drop their next two games to fall out of contention for the elusive international trophy.

Stockholm Djurgaarden shut out the Rockets last Wednesday by a 3-0 score before 13,000 wildly cheering Swedes. On Friday, the locals dropped a tough 3-2 decision to the Russian national junior squad in spite of the fact that they outshot the Russians by a 31-17 count.

Sunday, the Rockets were knocked completely out of contention when they were dumped 7-4 by Brynaes, the Swedish champions, before a crowd of 19,000.

Rockets left Stockholm Monday afternoon for Prague, Czechoslovakia, where they play their first of six games today. They are also scheduled to play in Czechoslovakia on Thursday, Saturday, Sunday, and Tuesday and Thursday of next week.

They play in East Germany on Friday, the 15th, and return to Edmonton airport at midnight on Saturday, January 16.

The Rockets now sport a won four-lost three record since leaving Lacombe. Game-by-game reports of their three losses:

Djurgaarden 3, Lacombe 0

The Swedish team scored an upset victory over the Rockets by getting a goal a period while checking the Canadians into the ice. It was a fast clean game which saw the Rockets with numerous good scoring opportunities, but they were unable to reach the hemp.

Big gun for the Swedes was Kurt Thurkin, a former member of the Swedish national team who scored one goal and assisted in two others.

The Djurgaarden goaltender, Hans Karlsson, played an outstanding game between the pipes and foiled Lacombe shorpshooters on what looked like sure scoring chances.

Austin Smith in particular was robbed when he hit the goalpost in the second period with Karlsson sprawled on the ice on the opposite side of the crease.

A veteran Swedish hockey reporter had this to say about the Rockets following the game:

"The Rockets have made a very good impression on the Swedish people and were a bit unfortunate to meet the Djurgaard on equal when it played its best game of the season.

"To my mind, the Rockets will have to be more accurate with their shooting if they hope to win" (the Alsarme trophy).

Following this game, the trophy leaders were Brynaes, Djurgaarden and Lacombe . . . all with four points for three games played.

The Rockets were tagged with all three losses — penalties incurred — Bolinger, Tony Kohlman and Ed Zemrau each spending two minutes in the penalty box.

Russia 3, Rockets 2

The game which Lacombe wanted more than any other was a nightmare for the Rockets as they edged 3-2 by a fast-skating, furious checking Russian squad.

The Rockets, on edge in this territorial play, outshot the Russians 31-17 and still came out on the short end of the score. The loss all but eliminated the Canadians from the Alsarme cup championship race.

The Russians led 2-1 at the end of the first, 2-2 at the finish of the middle canto.

Al LaPlante was again the leading player for the Rockets and potted both goals for Lacombe.

The Russian team checked tooactously, and picked up three of the four penalties handed out. At one time, the Rockets held a two-man advantage in manpower, but still couldn't poke the rubber into the Russian net.

Coach Art Pyra pulled Russ Gillow in the last minute of play, and although Lacombe forwards swarmed all over and around the Russian net, they couldn't find the equalizer.

Brynaes 7, Lacombe 4

Sweden's national championship Brynaes took the measure of the Lacombe Rockets by a 7-4 count Sunday, and thus won the 13th annual Alsarme cup tournament in Sweden.

The Rockets scored ahead 2-1 late in the first period, but a last-second goal tied the score 2-2 at the end of the first canto. The Swedish squad moved ahead 5-3 in the second stanza, but the Rockets stayed in contention on Al LaPlante's counter early in the third, before two quick Swedish goals shot down Rocket hopes.

Brynaes scored its fourth goal on a penalty shot in the second stanza, and countered another with the Rockets a man short.

Canadian Press dispatches picked Russ Gillow as the outstanding Canadian player, and reported Tony Kohlman and Al LaPlante were the two best Rocket forwards.

Scoring for Lacombe were Remi Brisson, Bill McCulley, Ron Tookey and Al LaPlante.

The Rockets took all four minor penalties handed out.

The loss dropped the Rockets to a tie for third place in the tournament, one point behind the Russians who finished second on the strength of a power play goal in the last period, and a better average than the Brynaes squad.

Lacombe Wins Friends in Sweden

TOUR NOTES: In a series to for the Rockets (in a losing cause) his family, Art Park notes that . . . and mentioned the news that initial reception by Swedish play- his wife had given birth to twiners and Swedish fans was poor. Canadian tennis in the last two or three years have treated Sweden's hospitality poorly. And it seems they just hate Canadians here," coach Park writes.

● However, he also noted that the Rockets gained the respect of the Swedish fans . . . and the press . . . and that by the time the team left Stockholm, they received nothing but praise and a tour of his father's large daily newspaper plant on Monday.

● Rumors around town that Russ Gillow had been asked to go to Sweden to play hockey have been unconfirmed . . . but Russ has been reported by all papers as a standout in goal for the Rockets.

● Friday, Rockets were guests of the Canadian embassy at a turkey dinner in the Christiansberg Hotel and on Saturday, they were guests of Group Captain Bill Chapman, Canada's air and military attache in Sweden.

● Pvt. Ekstin who was a Stockholm exchange student in Lacombe last year (guest of Lacombe Rotarians) arranged a tour of the Swedish parliament.

● Ron Tookey celebrated a big day Sunday. He scored one goal

La Plante a Standout

AL LaPLANTE

Al LaPlante has long been a "money-player" for the Rockets . . . and he is keeping up this role in Lacombe's tour of Europe.

He scored both Lacombe goals in the Rockets' heart-breaking 2-1 loss to the Russian national junior squad on Friday and tallied one of four goals for the locals in their game on Saturday.

Jim Brown, past president of the AAHA and Canadian Press dispatches of the Swedish games consistently refer to his fine play, and he has been picked one of the Rockets' standouts in all games played to date.

January Sales

THE Homemaker

Miss Marilyn Hobson,
Home Economist

Lloyd Stephenson of Lacombe, and Bill Allen of Bentley will be two of the fifteen Alberta farmers taking part in "The Business of Farming", a television short course in farm and home management being presented Januaary 6 by the Alberta department of agriculture, the C.B.C. and other interested groups.

The program is being seen on all C.B.C. and affiliated TV stations from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. Mr. Stephenson appeared on Tuesday, January 5, to comment on the reasons he likes silage as a feed in his feedlot.

On Wednesday's program, Mr. Allan will outline various types of farrowing pens used in his hog enterprise.

Other Alberta farmers who will discuss their experiences in various fields are Bill Laing of Claresholm, ideas on the use of tillage equipment; John Beseck of Vulcan, direct-seeding silage; Peter Wyllie of Leduc, swine production; and Vince Erickson of Penhold, discussing family goals.

Friday's program will feature farm management, with comments from Ken Williams, Jed Varga, R. O'Donnell, Rudy Cropp, Mrs. Dana Anderson and Jim Graham, all of Taber; Michael Calverley of Penhold; Rex Arrestage of Red Deer; and Mrs. Norma Bveinson of Innisfail.

Many models of 1964 appliances are on sale now and some of you may be pondering over the purchase of a dryer.

One of the first questions asked is: "which would you purchase — a gas or electric dryer."

Initially, gas dryers are somewhat more expensive to purchase, but there is the added installation cost for 220 wiring required for an electric dryer.

Operating costs for a dryer vary depending on rates in a particular area. However, results of many tests have shown that a gas dryer is cheaper to operate than an electric one in many parts of the country. By checking with the local utility company home service department, statistics can be obtained on operating costs for both gas and electric dryers.

Another point to consider when comparing both types is the cost which would be involved if it was necessary to replace an element in the electric dryers.

Whichever type you decide on the reputation of the dealer and guarantee are extremely important. The availability of service and repairs in some rural areas is sacrificed but convenient. Often appliances require few repairs the first few years but as they become older more money seems to have to be spent on servicing them.

To keep repairs to a minimum and to get the most complicated an appliance . . . the more "gadgets" it has, the more likely something can go wrong. Also, the more people operating it, the more likely something may go wrong. Money can be saved on repairs by simply taking a few minutes to sit down and read the instruction book and learn as much as you can from your dealer on how to care for and use it.

You often hear women comment that dryers cause clothes to yellow. In many cases this can be avoided by: first, following the laundering instructions given with garments; second, by making sure the thermostat on the dryer is set set too high and the clothes dried to excess; and third, by making sure that no detergent is left in the clothes after rinsing.

The experience of others using these appliances can often aid you in your decision, so check with friends and neighbors.

Not only on dryers but when purchasing any appliance all these points are well worth considering.

1. The price
2. The operating costs
3. The repair costs
4. The guarantee or warranty
5. The reputation of the dealer
6. How quickly it can be serviced

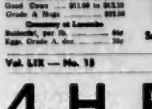
4-H Banquet Friday Night

GUEST S. EAKER



HON. H. E. STROM
Minister of Agriculture

A crowd that is expected to equal or surpass last year's attendance of 825 will be on hand for the giant 4-H banquet being tendered by sponsors of the Lacombe and district board of trade on Friday night at 7:15 in the L.M.C. (original time of 6:30 has been changed).

There are 53 businessmen in town sponsoring groups of two or three 4-H club members. Depending on the number of parents wishing to attend, a turnout of at least 800 is anticipated.

They will be treated to a banquet and an entertaining program, highlighted by a talk by provincial agriculture minister Hon. H. E. Strom.

So that 4-H members may be seated with their sponsors, a prompt attendance will be appreciated.

The town sponsors will proceed to their places marked by name cards. The youngsters will then be escorted to their sponsors by ushers, according to present plans outlined by board of trade secretary Roy Sturgeon.

Two-Car Collision Causes $500 Damage Saturday Afternoon

An estimated $500 damage was done to a 1963 Mercury belonging to Elliot Riley of Red Deer, when it was in collision with a 1957 Meteor owned by Mrs. Rose Lamb of Lacombe at the corner of 50th Street and 50th Avenue at 2:45 p.m. Saturday afternoon, January 2.

The accident occurred in front of the Lacombe Lakeview motel, Mrs. DeVries was pulling away from the motel parking area when the two cars collided. There was no damage to the Meteor.

Lacombe police investigated, and laid no charges.

Foundation Board Annual Meeting on Tuesday, January 19

Annual meeting of the directors of the Lacombe foundation will be held at the Lacombe Lodge next Tuesday, Jan. 19, at 8:00 p.m.

Public reports will be given by John Riley, chairman of the management board; by Mrs. Florence Henderson, matron; and by G. M. Ramsay, secretary-treasurer.

WARMING UP!

For the first time in over a month, the minimum temperature in Lacombe registered above zero. Last night's low was 7. The long succession of minus temperatures dates back to Dec. 18, when it was 4 overnight. Some snow has fallen every day during the last week.

Town Council Vetoes Participation In Ardley Power Development

Town of Lacombe is not interested in participating in the Ardley power development scheme at this time, should the opportunity arise, it was decided at the regular meeting of council on Monday night.

The question was raised in a letter from mayor W. J. Vance of the town of St. Albert, asking if Lacombe would be interested in participating in the scheme which would supply power to the town of Calgary, Red Deer and Lacombe.

Mayor Vance said he is polling other similar towns about the idea. Wetaskiwin, Camrose, Ponoka, Innisfail and Olds to obtain their views.

It was noted that Lacombe is in the early stages of a 10-year power franchise agreement with Calgary Power Ltd., and the return is not in a position to consider the Ardley project at this time.

New School Report

It was a busy night for council which dealt with a large number of business items. Eli Scraba, the town's school committee representative, attended the meeting by invitation to report on vocational school developments.

He told councillors that obtaining a suitable site for the school was the first vital step. The school committee has had by-same agricultural land owned by the experimental farm across the road from the golf course, but the application was refused at Ottawa.

The committee is now negotiating for some 40 acres of property west of the county office, owned by Mr. Macdonell Sr. of Vancouver.

Town council offered its assistance to school officials in any way possible.

Snow Removal Headache

Councillor Ivan Stonehocker asked the public works department for information on snow removal from streets and sidewalks. There didn't seem to be much done last week.

Councillor Don Dew replied that the crew has had trouble starting machinery in this cold weather, "let alone running it." Town workmen were also extra busy at the cemetery last week, he said.

Councillor Dew promised that "if the weather warms up, a good part of the snow will be removed or blacked."

A thank-you was expressed by St. Cyprian's church for the removal of snow prior to last Sunday's services.

Miscellaneous

•Councillor Gordon Smith received authority to place the town garbage truck inside a heated garage for $35 per month. It has been breaking down in the cold weather, "and we lose about an hour every morning."

•Authorization was given to [illegible] of street and avenue signs, and for the purchase and construction for the proposed town workshop.

•Application from Barbara Johnson to act as canteen at the Lacombe pool next summer was turned over to committee.

•Letter from McClellan Associates of Chicago offering to bring a "death dodgers auto thrill show" to Lacombe was referred to committee.

•Faith Friendly will be contacted regarding the application from Frizzell Building Movers Ltd. to purchase property now occupied by the old CNR tracks, on which he wishes to erect a building.

•Two requests for highway signs were deferred: one from E. W. Moore, secretary of the ladies' court, COF; and one from Clayton Brown of the Glendale Trailer Court.

•Nick Hannas has expressed interest in purchasing a town-owned vacant lot on 47 (Bailey) street formerly occupied by the Cow Cafe. Hannas Holdings wish to erect a 32x50 modern block with extension provided to the back lane. Mr. Hannas said in his letter the town will receive $1,600 for the lot 50 feet wide, and "the price is negotiable."

•Town will invest a further $18,000 in its building reserve fund, bringing the total to $40,000. There are interest earnings of $1,500, reported secretary F. W. Lacey.

•First building permit of the new year for a dwelling will be issued to Pekan Construction for approved plans which were submitted. The project valued at about $11,000 is in the Pupper subdivision.

•Council will sit as a court of revision on Monday, March 8, to hear appeals against property assessment. There have been two appeals received to date.

Kinsmen Express Interest In Centennial Park

Kinsmen club of Lacombe is ready to undertake the development of a Lacombe centennial park in the west end of town, reported Mayor Jackson at the meeting of the centennial committee held Monday night's meeting at the town office.

The centennial committee headed by chairman Alex Ellis met Sunday for a preliminary discussion, mayor Jackson said.

It would be necessary for the town to acquire the property, and the town would also have to give assurance that it would apply for the centennial grant for this project ($3.00 per capita or about $8,000 based on the town's population of 2,100.)

The mayor and the Kinsmen were also hopeful of obtaining some grant from the county, which the mayor reported is considering allocating in each community in proportion to the number of rural children bussed to school.

School Meet Held in City

School committee chairman Art Wigmore of Blackfalds and superintendent Ted Giles journeyed to Edmonton on Monday to discuss the proposed vocational school at Lacombe with provincial government officials.

They told members of the education committee at the monthly meeting in the county office yesterday that a friendly 15-minute session was held with Hon. Randolph McKinnon, minister of education, Hon. A. R. Patrick, deputy M.L.A., and Dr. Worbets, director of school administration.

The government won't approve a vocational school until a site is chosen and building plans are submitted, Mr. Wigmore told committee members.

He said that Mr. McKinnon thought some provision should be made for better high school facilities to serve the east country.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, George Reid, who passed away on January 14, 1960.
We little knew when we woke that morn,
The sorrow that would bring;
For the call was sudden, the shock severe,
To part with one we loved so dear.
— Sadly missed by his wife, children Vernon, Barbara, Verna and Ronald.

TAYLER — In loving memory of our dear Pete who left us on mid-night on Jan. 6, 1959:
Sweet are the memories silently kept,
Of one we loved and will not forget.
— Dad, Mom and Family. 18-1-p

In memory of Fred Fisher who passed away Jan. 14, 1964.
"The face we loved is now laid low,
His loving voice is still,
The hand so often clasped in ours
Lies low in death's cold chill.
We often sit and think of him
When no one all alone;
For memory is the only thing
That God can call its own."
— Ever remembered by his loving wife, Margaret and children. 18-1-p

L.H.S. Hoopsters Split Games

Lacombe high school basketball squads split their games as the school gym here Friday night as the Eagles (boys) team dropped a 36-34 decision to Red Deer while the local girls whomped their Red Deer counterparts 46-37.

The girls overcame a 7-6 deficit early in the game to put 16 points in the second quarter and coast home to victory in the CAUSHL sponsor.

Barb Johnson led the Lacombe girls with 16 points. Maureen Thompson was good for 11 points for her team and Myrna Olafson scored eight.

A Repeater

The boys' game was a squeaker all the way. Both teams threw out the need of shooting practice as forwards repeatedly mulled buckets from close-in.

Red Deer led 21-20 at the halfway mark in the game, and with three minutes left in the game, the score was knotted at 27-27. With a minute to go, and Lacombe clinging to a slim 32-31 lead, Red Deer scored a two-pointer, then potted three of four foul shots to move ahead 36-32.

The Eagles got a two-pointer back, but didn't have enough time in the game for the equalizer.

Ray Marcieu was top scorer for the Lacombe boys with 13 points.

"C" Squads Split

Lacombe and Red Deer "C" teams played in the high school gym the same night, with Lacombe boys winning 43-39 and the local lassies trailing 39-11 at full time.

Ollie Unrah and Lyle Brown with 16-point performances, and Wayne Hopp and Arvid Hopp with nine points each, led the Lacombe squad to its convincing 43-39 win.

In the girls' game, Win Fordham managed four points for Lacombe to lead the locals' scoring parade.

Burn Trees Prior To LOFT Social

The last remnants of Christmas decoration were up in Blackfalds on Saturday, January 9, as Lacombe 'teens began what is hoped will become an annual event: a Christmas tree burning.

Although there was difficulty in starting the fire, with great vigor and four gallons of kerosene, the burning finally got underway.

After the burning, many teens gathered in the Legion hall which the Legion was so generous to provide free of charge.

The evening was spent with such activities as darts, ping pong, cards and dancing. The teen town has been hoping to do this for quite some time and has found it to be very successful.

In the near future, L.O.F.T. has plans for our annual Beatnik dance. We hope it to be as popular as it has been in the past.

Hard Winter For Cattle

UNUSUAL cold weather has been hard on livestock in the district, but the effects are not as serious as in southern Alberta. Ranchers there report many cases of frost-bite in cattle herds. Winter grazing which has been excellent in the past few years has been impossible with heavy storms, and a shortage of feed is developing. Feed costs are rising. Hay recently worth $20 a ton is selling for $50.00, according to reports.

The situation isn't as bad in this area. Local stockmen normally expect colder weather in December and snow on the ground, and so they lay more feed. The Jubilee range cattle arrangements are made for some kind of shelter on the Farm Even so, the strong wind that accompanied frigid temperatures in mid-December created real hardship for cattle and hogs, and despite some cover oats and feed and other supplies were subject to freezing. Just how bad these cases of cattle may be will have to await the arrival of mild weather next spring when they show quickly.

In the meantime, cattlemen are busier than ever getting feed to herds, keeping water thawed out, and so forth. Cattle are like humans in the cold. They burn hay like a stove burns coal. Feed is their warm. They chew very little gain with extra feed.

The farmer must therefore decide whether to market his stock early in unfinished condition and risk a price depression if dumping becomes widespread, or to hold out until better feed costs set up the profit. Such factors as feed supplies and the weather during the next couple of months will influence his decision.

Cold, snow, wind, hail, rain, drought, weather is the greatest hazard faced in the farming industry.

The Past Is Slipping Away

IT is a curious fact that Canadians seem to be peculiarly reticent in acknowledging contributions among their own people. We are quick to recognize outstanding abilities in statesmen like Winston Churchill and the late president Kennedy. Perhaps we think a country as small as Canada can't produce a native son of the calibre of the leaders of other great nations, but we haven't exactly stood still with a long succession of mediocre men, either. Our history and our heritage is based in part on many significant achievements and on the far-sighted vision of great Canadians.

One of the foremost is Sir John A. Macdonald, one of the architects of confederation in 1867. The 150th anniversary of his birth was commemorated on January 11, 1985. How many Canadians know it? How many Canadians care?

Sir John A. Macdonald was the driving force that made the union of our country possible. After that, he was the prime minister who held it together and extended the boundaries from coast to coast. He had unbounded enthusiasm and unbounded patriotism. He showed a firm understanding and liking for French Quebec which would be an asset in answering the problems of today's separatist movement.

Sir John A. Macdonald was truly a great Canadian. It is a pity that the government and the people are letting his name slip into obscurity.

East-West Relations Improve

A PUBLIC invitation by president Johnson to the new Soviet leaders to visit the United States reflects a period of relative quiet in east-west relations. While Hanoi and Washington have varied trouble-spots in the world, the two powers are learning to live under the principles of peaceful co-existence.

Relations between the two are more cordial than they have been since 1959, when Khrushchev made a visit to the U.S. Eisenhower planned a reciprocal visit to the U.S.S.R. the following year, but that was wiped out with the unpleasant U-2 incident and with it went a feeling of friendship that was developing between the two nations. First signs of thaw appeared during the brief Khrushchev-Kennedy meeting in Europe.

There has been noticeable improvement since, to the point where president Johnson in his state-of-the-union address was able to drop the hint he would be pleased to make a return visit to the U.S.S.R.

It is to be hoped Soviet leaders will accept the invitation. Top-level discussions can do nothing but good. It allows for a free and easy exchange of ideas, and a better understanding of the other's point of view.

Such an appreciation is vital in dealing with pressing problems like nuclear disarmament and the reunification of Germany.

Another General Speaks

GENERAL Omar K Bradley, one of America's most distinguished commanders in world war two has joined a growing list of leaders who have succumbed to the temptation to give their own post-mortems on key battles. He takes a swipe at fiery British General Montgomery for failing to close the Falaise gap on the Germans after "D" day because he was "darned scared", this letting 40,000 enemy troops escape encirclement.

Most generals direct war operations in pipe and slippers far behind the lines. General Montgomery was not one of these. He didn't like conducting wars by remote control. He believed in being close to his men at the front so he could judge the course of events for himself from first-hand knowledge. He would be "scared" in the front lines just like all soldiers and he would fear for the lives of the men under his command. But this wouldn't influence his decisions. To my otherwise is unworthy of a great and respected general like Bradley.

The public is getting a little tired of military leaders giving their interpretations of 20-year-old history. It changes nothing and proves nothing.

Most people would sooner hear about the memoirs of private soldiers. They are more amusing and entertaining and they contain no rancour

Reflections of the Times . . .

Please Turn Up The Volume

According to scientists the sound levels on this continent are increasing an average of one decibel each year. The volume has now reached 85 decibels. This is a quarter of the volume that can cause permanent damage to the ears.

One reason for so much noise is the increased use of machines — autos, power mowers, typewriters, refrigerators, record players.

Scientists can eliminate much of the sound but, strangely enough, we in human beings demand more and more noise.

When a manufacturer of power mowers made his machine less noisy, the sales fell off. Buyers thought the quiet motor couldn't have much power.

Many of us are apparently like the young fellow who tears the muffler off his jalopy to impress bystanders as he roars by.

There is scarcely a quiet haven anywhere in the world. Hike through the woods to the most remote lake and you'll probably find some person is there ahead of you churning up the water with an outboard motor.

Even our busy towns and cities are not noisy enough for some individuals. They carry transistor radios turned up to full volume

Well, it's nice to know most of the noises could be eliminated if enough of us insisted peace and quiet Meantime we all take part in the great contest to prove "my noise is louder than your noise"

(Edith Fretwell, reporter)
Monthly meeting of the rest [illegible] was held January 5 at the Retirement school in spite of freezing temperatures, there was a good attendance.

An instructive demonstration called "variety cuts of meat" was given by Edith Fretwell and enjoyed by all. The club decided to send a team to the demonstration night in March.

Project book questions were prepared by Ray Duffy and Ian Simons. The members to prepare questions for the next meeting are: first year, Bruce Fraser; second year, Linda Fraser and third year, Edith Fretwell

Mr Calvey commended the club for being the first to have their 4-H posters in. All members are urged to attend the 4-H banquet on January 15, at 6:30 p.m

The next meeting of the rest Lacombe beef club will be the club speech contest on February 2. Everyone is welcome

Here are three important reasons why it will pay you to renovate and redecorate your home now!

1 SKILLED HELP ARE AVAILABLE—NOW! Although more and more building is being done each winter, exterior construction does slow down during the cold weather. As a result, home improvement contractors and skilled craftsmen seek out the smaller interior jobs that they are unable to handle during the summer. You benefit—with skilled workmanship by experienced tradesmen when it's most convenient to you!

2 DISCOUNTS AND LOANS ARE AVAILABLE—NOW! To clear the slower than well balance the sales and keep the craftsmen employed throughout the year, building supply dealers run winter sales. These special discounts help you renovate and redecorate at the lowest possible cost. You'll find your bank a good place to visit, too—for low-interest Home Improvement Loans under the National Housing Act up to $4,000.00, with up to ten years to repay!

Lacombe in 1912 Looked to Future

Over 30 years ago, the town of Lacombe was considered to be "the centre of great agricultural activity" and a land of opportunity.

A supplement to the "Western Globe" of Wednesday, June 19, 1912, was prepared by H. F. Kenny & Co. ("Land and Immigration Men") advocating that "now is the time to buy in Lacombe."

The promotion was also rhetorically "Why?" and then gave us reasons:

Ex-Lacombe Family Wins Top Award For Christmas Decoration

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Colclough of Stettler won a cash prize for best outside home decorations over the Christmas season, according to a news report in the Stettler Independent.

They are former Lacombe residents, and they always took pride in looking after an attractive landscape while they lived here.

Apparently they've carried these good habits to other communities. Congratulations

"It's only he goes four days."

"Do It Now"

Civic authorities, business, industrial and commercial organizations, labour organizations . . . all co-operate with the national employment service in promoting the annual mid-winter "do it now" campaign.

One of Canada's employment problems has long been the fact that many jobs close down completely during the winter months because of unfavorable weather conditions. Modern technical advances have now made it possible to continue building throughout the winter months but a general slowdown in business occurs in mid-winter and is reflected in the rise in unemployment.

Do it Now campaigns are intended to remind citizens that employment is available during the winter months when investment capital reaches its peak (and jobs are numerous) including painting, remodelling, decorating, floor coverings, cement work, plumbing, plastering and the like . . . all can be done at this time of the year by skilled workmen who are generally at less busy during the spring and summer to tackle such jobs.

Local residents are urged to take stock of the work that should be done, and do it now to take advantage of the help available and to do their own community a service

YOUR NATIONAL EMPLOYMENT SERVICE
Urges You to Support the Winter Work Program
Your support of the "DO IT NOW" programme will help your friends, your neighbors, your community and yourself. Skilled workers who will be busy on the Spring and Summer are available NOW. You can help by providing work during the winter months.

Road at Blackfalds Cluttered With Cars

BLACKFALDS — Anyone living near No. 2 highway was entertained (?) on Thursday morning when the icy conditions made travelling as hazardous. From my window a drive of approximately ½ mile is very visible and the plight of many motorists was seen.

At one time five trucks ranging from light deliveries to hay-boys were either in the ditches or in the driveway strip and eight passenger cars which were unable to make the south-bound hill were all backed up at the Hanger.

Tow truck drivers were certainly having a hey day as an old wind it is that doesn't blow reasonably well.

While the motorists were gunning, shoveling, praying and cursing, three little sparrows were enjoying their winter's bath in a pool of rain on a "torp" Such is winter life.

Tour Impressions . . .

The Globe interviewed Rocket coach Art Park and Rocket goalie Ron Collver yesterday afternoon upon their return from the European tour

Their first-day-at-home impressions

Hockey The teams we met skate and pass real well. They play straight pattern hockey, and won't go onto the offensive until their patterns are set and everybody is in position.

We can skate with them, but they take games well in their stride and use their stalls to pick up the puck

On Shooting These forwards take a lot more shots than we do here. But they don't shoot any harder than we do here.

On Weather: Our first game in Sweden was played in an outdoor rink, and the temperature was 30 below Park "I from both my feet in the players' box." Gilliver "I was a job just trying to keep from freezing."

On Wins - Losses We should have not only one game with the Russians, but a series. We played them (3-2 in Sweden) by our fans to come to Scandinavian countries.

On Food The soups in Sweden were delicious, but we couldn't stomach their diet. In Czechoslovakia, there was a lots of food, but it wasn't to our taste

On Weight All the boys lost a couple of pounds to 196, and all of us lost from five to 10 pounds

On Booze: The Czech beer tasted a abominable. There are few cars, almost no traffic but it took us some hours to get out of town. All the buses travelled around 30 miles an hour.

On Scenery Czechoslovakia is a beautiful country "like B.C." Gilliver stated) but their cities are dirty and dismal. Their standard of living as a way way down from ours, and the people are dirty.

On Hospitality: It wasn't too good in Sweden The Czechs individually, were very friendly, but the language barrier was an obstacle.

On Accommodation: Hotels where the teams stayed were approximately the equivalent of hotel - or fourth - class Canadian hotels. Bathroom and toilet facilities were generally poor.

On Injuries: We suffered numerous minor injuries. Bil Rosseau was out for about five games with a bleed clot in his ankle. (He won't be playing for at least 10 days). Bill McCulley played with a painful elbow injury when he should have been resting. Finally and most of the other boys suffered minor injuries.

In Conclusion:We had an interpreter with us all the time. He was a fine chap, and was employed his company.

Clive Roads Turn to Ice

CLIVE — The deep freeze moved out and the long overdue January thaw moved in. It created conditions more hazardous than the deep freeze where rain began to fall and turned roads and highways into skating rinks

School buses in the Lacombe county did not start out Thursday morning but the Clive school children went to school as usual until noon.

The upper crust which had been non-existent during the cold weather put in an appearance Thursday morning. One wonders where they have been hiding. Local cars were able to get around town, as the rain converted snow to wet slush, but commercial trucks and road trucks did not get through at all that day

Root tops which have been snow covered for five weeks have emerge, and the snow melted down several inches on the ground.

Clive Hudkins, who is with the Navy and who has been on leave left last Thursday morning for his navel station. He had to catch the 10:00 a.m. train from Lacombe, and with roads as icy as they were this was a problem. Ria Bisbee whose home in Lacombe via Chigwell, as that road was shunky but passable.

Mr and Mrs. R. L. Reynolds returned to Clive from Edmonton where Mr Reynold's had undergone surgery.

K. L. Reynolds is a patient in Lacombe hospital

A truck driver will have arrested at his destination minus quite a few good links as its last Tuesday From Clive to Lacombe a load of lumber went to pieces strewn along the highway

B. Tymstra is away a patient in Lacombe hospital

Mr and Mrs. J. H. Hatton were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Warren in Red Deer on Saturday, and were visitors to Bug Valley on Sunday guests of Mr and Mrs. F. Crook.

While on the way to Bug Valley on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Hatton are quite a load of pavement on the shoulder of the road almost three miles out of Bentley. They seemed to be getting feed and also they appeared in good shape

While at a lovely cross road underfoot it is decidedly unpleasant due to icy conditions. Thets have been several falls, due to icy roads and sidewalks and Jane Hudkins is walking around on crutches.

Miss Going, Rochets

Congratulations to the Lacombe Rockets on their excellent performance both in sport and personal appearance. They have won a name for themselves which will not soon be forgotten. Everyone should be proud of them and their coach and manager, too

Jessie Senecal, currently attending the university of Alberta Edmonton is home for the week end with his parents, Mr and Mrs. Senecal

Mr and Mrs. P Robertson Sr were pleasantly surprised when their daughter and her son Mr P. Robertson (nee Mary Lou) and her baby daughter of Chetwynd, B.C. called on them.

Miss Jessie Elliott is a patient in Red Deer hospital undergoing surgery

Visitors to the home of Mrs. Emma Gschwendtner, had a very pleasant surprise when her son Jim Jones and family, and a neighbor, Miss Gschwendt, Bev Toller, Mrs. Herman. Mr and Mrs. Jim Jones, daughter and daughter Christine of Red Deer, Linda Bowyer, and Mrs B McCormack.

January meeting of the Clive Baptist mission circle was held at the home of Mrs. H. Pohl with 17 ladies present. Mrs. Cole, president, chaired the meeting. The devotional was given by Mrs. G Grose Mrs E. Grose presented the program. A lovely lunch was served by Mrs. Toller and Mrs. Zelinsik. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J day From Clive to Lacombe Forbes on February 5 at 2:30 p.m.

Seeks Support For Minor Hockey Week

A Letter to the Editor

Mirror, Lacombe Globe

Sir:

On behalf of the minor hockey association of Lacombe, may I urge the citizens of Lacombe and district to support the proposed activities by the association in minor hockey week. Activities begin in Lacombe on Monday, January 27, and continue through to Sunday, January 26. The complete program appears elsewhere on this page.

I also take this opportunity to express our appreciation, gratitude and the appreciation of the minors and fathers of all minor hockey players, for the job being done by the members of our minor hockey teams.

Some of the coaches will tell you that they have nothing about hockey but they are willing to learn. So supervise or, in some cases, to just tie skates, rub toes, and smooth ruffled feathers.

As the ages and capabilities of the players increase, so does the complexity of the job the coach is called upon to perform. Proper and instructive. They need drill. They need to be shown that the individual must give way to the team, for it is team effort that counts in winning clubs.

Regardless of the capabilities of the individual coaches, they all have one thing in common — the willingness to give of their time and talents. Many interested co-operation makes minor hockey possible in Lacombe.

We extend the appreciation of the community at large, and the parents and hockey players in particular, for the service they so willingly render.

Support hockey in Lacombe by purchasing a minor hockey program and by attending as many of the games as possible.

— S. Church,
Pres., Minor Hockey Assn.

The Lacombe Fire Department

THIS is an opportune time to extend a vote of thanks to the Lacombe volunteer fire department for the splendid job it does year in and year out.

At the annual meeting last week, it was noted that 20 fire calls were answered during 1964. Total fire damage was restricted to $7,540.

The estimated damage in any given year is no yardstick of the excellent services rendered.

What is more important is that the local brigade is made up of a group of men who are interested enough in the welfare of the town to sacrifice a good deal of time and effort to provide proper fire protection. They are eager volunteers, ready to give their best. They hold practices regularly, and have become experienced fire-fighters. They have been provided with adequate fire equipment by the town.

It is comforting to know a qualified fire brigade is always on the alert in case of emergency. We thank the volunteers who make up the able force.

The Red Triangle

A NEW type of highway safety warning device is beginning to appear on Canadian highways. It is a new safety red triangle clearly visible day and night at a distance of 1,500 feet.

When a vehicle, for any reason, is stalled on the side of a highway it is recommended that the safety device be placed a distance of 100 feet from it. Constructed of aluminum with red reflective material, it is always visible in any weather and there is no danger of failure from a power source

One of the hazards of highway travel is the parked car. There is often very little warning of its presence when the vision of an oncoming driver is obscured by the setting sun, or flying snow, or the blackness of night. At present, travelling speeds, an approaching car can soon be "on top" of a stationery vehicle making evasive action difficult or impossible.

The existence of a warning symbol makes sense, and the red triangle is said to be a standard highway warning emblem in several countries around the world.

The Canadian highway safety council recommends that every vehicle should be equipped with the red triangle in case of emergency. The wise motorist would do well to heed this advice.

Pre-Payment Deadline Advanced

TOWN council rendered a real service to local taxpayers when it set a deadline date of May 31 for pre-payment of assessments on paving improvements.

According to secretary F. W. Lacey, many calls have been received at the town office regarding the time when payments are due, and the section in the town and village act is ambiguous. The policy adopted originally was that "immediate payment" meant payment within one month of the receipt of notice.

Council felt this definition was a little severe, particularly when only about half the road paving was completed last fall. The balance will be finished up early in the spring, so the advanced deadline sounds fair.

It could be most ratepayers would prefer to pay on a yearly basis over a 15-year period. Those wishing to save interest with pre-payment however, are now given a reasonable time in which to do so.

The Unarmed Bobby

GREAT Britain has banned the death penalty as capital punishment, a move which has put the police force on the defensive in the opinion of some.

This is a mild disadvantage compared to the custom of Bobbies wandering around unarmed and seeking to maintain order among law-breakers, many of whom carry pistols.

If the authorities want to give their police force an even break, they can supply them with guns.

But this isn't the way the British system of justice works. Let the criminals make the mistakes with gun toting and shooting. It will go harder for them in court.

Those responsible for British law enforcement go with the view that there is less bloodshed when it is known and accepted that police officers are unarmed.

They are equipped with experience, with truncheons, and with the most important weapon of all — public support. Citizens are more prone to join the side of the law than they are in North America.

To disprove the false beliefs that violence never occurs, two Bobbies fell injured during a recent running battle in London with an armed bandit. Some nearby onlookers joined the chase and helped the police force. Finally, the man was captured and the pistol taken from his grasp. As he was led away, the assembled crowd shouted, "Hang him! Lynch him! They can't hang him so let us do it."

The public attitude is quite different on this side of the Atlantic.

Reflections of the Times . .

How To Retire Successfully

One feature of our modern way of life — retiring at a comparatively early age. No doubt the original idea was that retirement (with a pension) was a reward for long and faithful service when man's working years were done.

Farming is the only occupation where a man can retire with little and still live reasonably well. This is because a farmer knows how to do many things and can fill in holes in the family budget by growing garden stuff, building garages and being a general handy man.

Even the distaff side of the house does not give unqualified approval to the retirement plan . . . "I married him for better or worse — but not for lunch," one wife explained.

The necessity for a second job after retirement from his first one can be physical as well as economic. Make a hard-working man sit around in spineless ease after he turns sixty-five and he will be dead in a year or two.

It is a curious fact, but it is conceded that big executive statesmen and other men high up on the ladder of success often have their fadeaway days after they are sixty-five. Winston Churchill was sixty-five before he saved the world.

It is difficult to set an arbitrary age that would deal fairly with everybody. There was a farmer up country who got a little dizzy pitching hay on a blistering hot July day

"How old are you?" the doctor asked the farmer

"Seventy-five," he replied.

"When it is this hot," the doctor said, "you should let the old men pitch the hay."

IMPROVE SYLVAN LAKE

A letter from E. S. Hoenin, deputy minister of lands and forests, was read at Monday's town council meeting.

Mr Huestis asked for the estimated cost of two more public rest rooms to be built on the beach, similar to the last two which were paid for by this department. It was felt that in response to numerous requests for draining room facilities for bathers, provision should be made in the new structures for changing booths.

Suggested plan and estimates will be forwarded to Mr. Huestis, who has discussed the matter with the minister, Hon. Norman Willmore.

Farmstead Planning

The third meeting on a series on farmstead planning will be held on Wednesday, Jan. 27, at 1:30 p.m. at the Lacombe memorial centre.

The first meeting proved to be interesting as that aisles were shown of various types of buildings. The cost of swine buildings can vary from a low of $2,300 for the open front barns to $4,000 for the semi-open barns, to $13,000 for the controlled - environment barns. These barns are all based on a 600-800 head capacity per year.

Anywhere north of Red Deer the open-front barns are rather questionable in terms of the cost of them. The semi-open barns are relatively inexpensive and yet are quite comfortable in the winter. Plans are available at our office

For the beef herd nothing better than an open shed is recommended. The cost of materials for a pole-frame shed will range from 23 to 30¢ per sq. ft

The new dome-type building was discussed. The only size now available is a 50 ft. diameter and a 30-ft. height The cost for the one erected at Pinaska was $1.35 sq. ft. without a floor Special equipment is necessary to erect them

The most inexpensive granary to build is the round plywood for 10¢ per bushel

The meeting on January 27 will be on landscaping and shelterbelts by P. D. McCalla, supervisor of horticulture, Alberta department of agriculture

Farm Business Analysis

A reminder to all those who wish to have their 1964 farm operations analyzed. This must be completed by January 22.

All-Risk Crop Insurance

The portion of the Lacombe county which lies between the 5th meridian line and the east boundary of range 24 (Tees) has been selected as part of the central Alberta area in test run the all-risk crop insurance program this year It is expected crop insurance will be extended into other areas in the years ahead with the ultimate objective of making it available over most of the province

Crop insurance is provided by the Alberta crop insurance corporation and is made possible through the co-operation of the federal and provincial governments Because of the high risk involved comprehensive crop insurance is not available in Alberta from any other source

Object of Crop Insurance

The major objective of government - sponsored crop insurance is to make available to farmers a plan whereby a large portion of the cash investment in a crop is a protection against major crop losses, not against the minor variations in yield that frequently occur It is not a relief or welfare program.

Instead it offers a means whereby farmers, with some assistance from governments, can provide their own protection from disaster. Crop insurance is a voluntary self-help program.

Anyone wishing further information can pick up a brochure from our office.

Quick Canadian Quiz . . . .

1. Do Canadians pay any taxes to England?
2. The estate tax provides what proportion of federal government revenues?
3. The domestic market consumes what proportion of Canada's farm production?
4. What proportion of Canada's electric energy is produced by water power?
5. In volume what are the five largest railway freight cargoes in Canada?

ANSWERS 5 Wheat is the largest, then iron ore, lumber, coal and pulpy-back shipping. 3 More than two-thirds; when wheat is excluded, about 83 per cent of Canada's agricultural production is consumed within the country. 1. No, we have not done so since the 1770's when British law left with the colonies here all money collected through customs duties on imported goods. 4. About 80 per cent; remainder is produced by thermal plants using steam and diesel generation, fueled by natural gas, petroleum or coal. 2. Last year Ottawa's revenue from the estate tax was $90 million, only one and one-half per cent of total government revenue.

Dear Sir:

We've got one ardent Red Ensign supporter in Lacombe. He or she wanted one so much that they stole the $45.00 one from the Legion flag pole.

Just a few lines to let you know I received last week's Globe O.K.

The poor, penniless soul didn't have to stoop to stealing just because they couldn't afford to buy one. I'm quite sure the Legion would have appreciated such an admirer of the Red Ensign with a new one if their wish had been known.

Yours truly,
Donald F. Belknap

I had a hard doze of the grip last month but I am coming out of it O.K. Getting better every day.

Income Tax Forms Mailed This Week

Two hundred and sixty thousand personalized income tax forms with the taxpayer's own name, address, and identification number have been mailed to individuals resident in the area of the Edmonton taxation district.

If you have not received yours yet, you probably will within the next few days.

In the past employee taxpayers obtained their forms from their employers, but self-employed persons, including farmers and fishermen, picked up their forms at the post office.

This year all an employee has to do is bring his envelope safely until he receives his T4 slip showing his deductions and earnings from his employer.

Now taxpayers or persons who spoil their personalized returns or who do not receive them because they have moved during the year, may obtain an unaddressed form at the income tax office or the district taxation office.

Early Mirror Full of Hope

VILLAGE SECRETARY

C. E. McDONALD

The following article on the village of Mirror appeared in The Calgary Herald last week, and is reprinted for the interest of our readers:

MIRROR.—More than 50 years ago, a British newspaper, The Daily Mirror, had a small community in Alberta named after it.

Mirror — The City beautiful, they called it.

The village, 24 miles east of Lacombe, is on what was the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

The company was so optimistic about the future of the Mirror district it urged prospective business men from Eastern Canada, the U.S., England and Europe to settle there.

Advertisements referred to Mirror as "the heart of the world-famous country that will some day be the home of 50,000,000 people."

Interest was aroused and a special train carried prospective land buyers from Winnipeg. Within two days almost $300,000 worth of property was auctioned, representing the most money invested in the same space of time in any new town in Western Canada.

The railway constructed a roundhouse, living quarters for crews and an 8-billion gallon water reservoir.

In 1912, Mirror was incorporated as a village.

Ten years later, the Grand Trunk and Canadian Northern railways amalgamated and became the Canadian National. Now the railway converted to diesel units, the roundhouse and terminal were removed.

Today Mirror has a population of about 600.

The country of a mixed farming district, Mirror is a sportsman's paradise. There is good fishing and hunting for ducks, geese, prairie chicken and partridge in the area.

The village is governed by a three-member council, one elected each year for a three-year term. Each year, one member is appointed mayor.

E. Raymer was Mirror's first mayor.

One police constable, five brigade, fire chief and 10 volunteer firemen serve the community.

Cultural and sports facilities include a library, located at the school, covered curling rink, open-air hockey and skating rink and baseball diamond.

Mirror recently built a community hall which has provided a meeting place for the village's many organizations.

The community has branches of Masons, Eastern Star, Rebekahs, Board of Trade, Canadian Legion and Women's Institute.

And a fella who keeps his ears to those doesn't have trouble, either. That's what we're here for to give your motor and car top attention! . . . we have improved equipment, know how! Come in and see us for your service work.

Lacombe Chosen as Crop Insurance Area

The locations of three test areas in which all-risk crop insurance is to be offered in Alberta this year have been announced by the Alberta crop insurance corporation.

Those are the Vulcan area in southern Alberta, taking in the region from Mossleford to north of Vulcan, the Lacombe area in central Alberta, running from Blackfalds to north of Ponoka, and the Minburn area in northeastern Alberta, extending from Rasharky to Vermilion. Each test area has about 25 townships and from 900 to 1000 farmers.

The announcement was made by J. M. McKay of Brant, chairman of the Alberta crop insurance corporation, at a meeting of the annual meeting of the Alberta federation of agriculture in Red Deer last week.

Mr. McKay said that these areas had been selected to provide a wide diversity of farming and weather conditions and because of general interest in crop insurance shown by farmers.

Rates, which are now being finalized, will vary not only between districts but from one farm to another, depending on soil type, long-time average yields, crop losses and hail risk.

One-quarter of the farmers, or farm land, in each area are needed for the program to become operative in the area.

Mr. McKay told delegates that this year only wheat, oats and barley would be insurable but it is expected that other crops will be added in the future

This is the first year that crop insurance has been available in Alberta under a joint federal-provincial program. The two governments will share equally all the administration, operating and selling expenses. In addition, the federal government will pay one-fifth of the total premiums.

Coverage for wheat will range to a high of $20.00 per acre for a crop grown on summerfallow on the best soil in the Lacombe area. Though not yet finalized, the premium will likely range down from about a dollar an acre. Farmers will be guaranteed this amount of production.

Mr. McKay said he hoped that at least 1,000 farmers would sign up for crop insurance this year. If the program gains wide acceptance it will be extended into other districts next year.

Agents will soon be appointed in the three areas and selling of insurance will commence early in February.

Good Enough To Eat

When we think of accessories in the food we eat, we immediately think of garnishes. However, if we consider accessories as those add-ons which add a spark of spice—then we must also consider seasonings and condiments.

Which is the best cook you know? Why do you say her food so much? Chances are it's because she seasons food carefully and uses spices and herbs for added appeal. Using herbs in cooking can be quite a challenge but it's a wonderful chance to experiment.

Start with small amounts — too much can be more disastrous than none at all. Try different herbs and spices until you find herbs as something for gourmet cooking or special occasions. Vegetables and meats that are "ordinary" will have new appeal.

Condiments, too, add sparkle to a meal. Some of the common ones are apple sauce with roast pork, horseradish with roast beef, cranberries with turkey. For variety try spiced fruits — peaches or pears — with meatloaf. Tartar sauce with fish is a standby and quick to make. Be on the lookout in magazines for new ideas in go-togethers. Your outing as chief cook will go up.

Garnishes are all the colorful accessories that whet the appetite. They needn't be fancy or time consuming to prepare but they should be colorful and they should be edible. A little lettuce and slices of wedges of tomatoes, cucumber slices, stuffed celery, carrot sticks — take only a moment to prepare, but they look colorful and taste fresh.

One further trick to make your meals look good enough to eat, is careful serving. If you pass or serve food at the table be sure meat is arranged attractively on the platter. Brighten it with a garnish of pineapple or apple rings with ham or pork, lemon wedges with fish or a few sprigs of parsley. Pile potatoes lightly on the serving dish and top with butter or chopped parsley.

If you serve plates at the stove be careful when you place food on the plates. Keep foods separated a little and don't drip the sauce.

Accessories in food, clothing and home decorating are wonderful additions. Experiment with them. They can add a lot of fun to your role as a homemaker.

Big School Building Program Proposed

Education committee didn't get beyond number one in a seven item agenda at a five hour and 40 minute meeting last Wednesday afternoon, but at the end of that time they had made some rough pencil proposals to satisfy school building requirements at several county points.

Subject to the approval of the department of education, the school building board at ... agreed to build:

- At Alix: A ... -storey high school, comprising six ... dence classrooms, a science lab, an auditorium and a library. No cost estimate was given but the former eight-room school plan used was in the neighborhood of a quarter million dollars.
- At Mirror: An eight room ... -storey high school as previously announced at an estimated cost of $245,000.
- At Clive: A gymnasium-stage, shower rooms, and girls' ... to be built on to the Lacombe ... at $85,000.
- At Blackfalds: A gymnasium stage, shower rooms, and two classrooms. The original estimate, exclusive of architect's fees, was $65,000 but this did not include the two schoolrooms. These were estimated at $20,000 each by Kerry Boswell architect from Red Deer who was present at the meeting.

Conferences of architects for this work will be held in Red Deer and Edmonton to seek approval for the construction program.

Vocational School Plans

At the same time superintendent Ted Giles could be heard that plans ... completed for building ... at Red Deer will start Edmonton to seek approval for the construction program.

Important Farm Meeting Monday

Farmers of the Lacombe district ... are invited to attend a meeting ... at 8 p.m. Monday, ... in the Lacombe Legion hall at 8:00 p.m. ... program is to ... to discuss the year ... An important meeting to ... plans, the advantages of the area ... and other matters ... will be held ... at the Lacombe ... An afternoon meeting is being held for ... at the Ponoka recreation centre.

VILLAGE REPRESENTATIVES ON FOUNDATION BOARD

Board Discusses Senior Citizens' Lodge Reports

A possible rate increase in rates by $5.00 a month for occupants at the local senior citizens' lodge was discussed by the board of directors of the Lacombe foundation at the annual meeting on Tuesday night of last week.

It was noted that the lodge operated at a profit of just under $4,000 last year, but this figure is misleading as it does not allow for any depreciation.

Ben Gunn of Blackfalds, the retiring chairman of the foundation, stated that heat, ... maintenance and repairs are increasing each year as the building gets older.

John Ellen of Lacombe, chairman of the management board, informed members that most senior lodges in the province many are operating at a loss] are advocating a raise in rates to help offset higher expenditures.

There has been no increase in the basic fee of $80 per month for a double room and $65 for a single room since the lodge was ... ened in August 1960.

Lacombe will fall in line with other lodges if a general increase is imposed across the province and the management board was given authority to act as it considers necessary during the next year.

Officers Elected

The management board consisting of seven members was elected. Creighton Smith of Alix, Elmer Calkins of Bentley and Lew Hittle of Lacombe, with three members-at-large from Lacombe John Ellen, John Rathje and George Ramsay.

The Lacombe and district ministerial association appoints the seventh member. Last year, Rev. K. M. Calkins acted, but he is leaving Lacombe in February to take up residence at Dawson Creek.

Foundation directors are chosen from Ben Gunn of Blackfalds, vice-chairman Elmer Calkins of Bentley, secretary-treasurer George Ramsay and other members appointed by responsible councils.

Lodge Full

Mr. Ellen in the annual chairman's report commented on the ... popularity of the lodge. W... commissioned a full house practically all year. He said in addition there is a bonafide waiting list of seven.

He asked for the direction of the foundation board on such matters as rates, and paving the parking area.

(Report of the matron, Mrs. Florence Henderson, appears in full on page 15).

Minor Hurting

The ... of the lodge was removed to add parking stalls, and it is hoped to pave the entire area this year.

Mr. Hittle said the Lacombe town council wants to widen the entrance-way before giving any thought to extending the pavement there, and this would necessitate moving the sidewalk back and moving "one or two" power poles.

The management board was given authority to spend the necessary funds for paving and widening.

Councillor L. Hittle reported to town council Monday evening that an architect has been engaged to bring in plans and suggestions for renovation of the present Lacombe General Hospital to meet nursing home requirements.

All members of council were present to hear Councillor Hittle report on a committee meeting held last week to discuss the possible conversion of the present active hospital into a nursing home.

It is suggested that plans will be available in two to three weeks at which time estimated costs of the conversion scheme will be available.

Council held one of its shorter meetings in recent months on Monday. Among the matters dealt with:

- Heard a report from police committee chairman Paul Alberg regarding obstruction of traffic view at various intersections. ... Bissonnet ... a town police committee meeting. Councillor Alberg wanted approval of council to make certain changes in the by-law regarding parking and yield signs.

He also reported that the present two-way radio system is giving trouble and that electric ... timer is out-dated and possibly should be changed to a radar-type (speed) timer.

Mayor Wes Jackson asked the councillor to meet again with his committee and bring back definite recommendations to council. Matters of new equipment, he suggested, could be discussed at budget time.

- Council sat as a court of revision to hear appeals against the local improvement assessments recently sent out on the ... .

An appeal from O. E. Young was upheld, as error had been made in measuring the size of his lot. As the tax is levied on a "frontage" basis, the taxation result was incorrect.

Tom Lett appeared personally before council to ask certain questions regarding his assessment. Letters (not complaints) asking for information on the local assessment formula were received from Wilmer Weiden and Mrs. Wilda Andrews. The secretary-treasurer was asked to provide necessary answers to those queries.

- Councillor M. Kisiluk stated his committee expected the request for the "Death Dodgers" to be temporarily located on the former CPA office east of the railway on 50 street was appropriate.

- Councillor D. Dew reported that preliminary sketch plans for the new town workshop should be available for the next meeting. A letter from the Red Deer district planning commission commented on various locations suggested by council as sites for this new shop.

- Parkview cemetery have now been ... by incorporated cemeteries act. Secretary was authorized to fill out the application forms form land pay the $5.00 license fee) for the license for 1965.

- Council approved construction of a new home by Fehrle Homes Ltd. on the south side of the Bruns' sub-division (on the corner of 49 street and 54 avenue).

- Outstanding business taxes were reported by secretary-treasurer Frank Lacey who was instructed to write all delinquents and give them 15 days in which to pay up these taxes.

- Councillor Hittle commended ... briefly on the Knutsen proposal for a centennial park on Lacombe. It is suggested that if this proposal is adopted land already set aside as "park reserve" in town could be used rather than to purchase new land for park construction.

Rockets to Be Honored At Dinner on Sunday

Lacombe and district board of trade will sponsor a "testimonial dinner" to honor the Lacombe Rockets at the Lacombe memorial centre on Sunday evening, January 31.

The Rockets play Red Deer Sunday afternoon, and will appear at the L.M.C. at 6:00 p.m. A half hour social period is planned before dinner is served at 7:00 p.m. sharp.

The social will give fans and interested district residents an opportunity to visit with the players and coach in person at their recent trip to Bassano.

Chairman for the event is Ron J. Moore who reports that tickets for the dinner are available at numerous business places in Lacombe.

"Reason for having this dinner on Sunday," Mr. Moore explained, "is that it is the only free evening the players have within the next few weeks."

Players' wives are also expected to attend the dinner.

Artificial Ice Plant Fingered on T-V Interference Culprit

Natural gas-fired motors and compressors for the artificial ice plant at the jubilee arena have apparently been interfering with television reception in homes close to the rink.

This matter was discussed briefly at the town council meeting Monday evening and secretary-treasurer Frank Lacey reported that he had written department of transport officials in Edmonton for advice on steps that can be taken to minimize the interference

Sketch plans for the proposed new vocational school at Lacombe will be ready early in February.

These would require the approval of the education committee and the senior governments.

A statement of need for each of the proposals will have to be made up for presentation to the department in Edmonton.

The discussion marked followed exploratory and sometimes heated debate. For example

Unanimous decision to build this school at Alix was reached in the face of small high school enrolment figures.

Addition at Blackfalds

Addition of two classrooms on the south side of the west wing at Blackfalds is proposed by an enrolment jump of forty students at Blackfalds this term. There are 284 students using 10 rooms in grades one to nine there.

The representative for Blackfalds, Ben Gunn said "there are new buildings going up all the time". The village is on the pressure of taking a census, which will indicate the growth of the population.

Bus School at Mirror

The representative for Mirror Steve Bachor requested a discussion on the location of the proposed new school for grades one to nine.

He said the Mirror school principal, C. Boby thought there would be advantages in moving the site closer to the four-room elementary school (for grades one to four) and have a classroom transfer from one school to another "like Bashaw".

This would allow these small children to go to the gymnasium without having to get dressed up to go outside.

The suggestion was discarded because the architect has "completed 75% of the plans" and it would mean re-designing the school.

Also the present location plays well on higher ground, and the water table might cause trouble at a lower level. "It would cost up the playground, too" commented Bill Lee

At Drumheller it was the Miners turn, and they succumbed 3-1. At Edmonton on Sunday, the Oil Kings put up a spirited battle period rally, but still went under, 5-4. And at Lacombe last night those same Oil Kings were out-

Midgets Still Alive

(By Terry Jones)

Playoff hopes are still alive as the Lacombe midgets won two more games during the past week, one over Alix in a league game, and the other over North Red Deer to capture the zone hockey activities in Lacombe.

It was Jim Chalmers who paced the locals to a convincing 7-4 victory over Alix with three goals and one assist Sunday in Alix.

Chalmers potted a goal - a pair - and to gain his hat-trick, but received help from Art Randall Ron Smith, Randy Wyrouba and Larry Harriman, who notched singletons.

The Midgets continued their winning ways when they clobbered a short-handed Red Deer squad 11-3 Corey Martin, Art Randall and Ron Smith led Lacombe with two goals each with almost every other member of the club getting in on the scoring Bobbie Saunders, Bill Lee, Ron Healing Randy Wyrunub and Gordon Brown potted one goal apiece Coach Cec's Calkins dressed all his players for the game and used both goaltenders

Friday evening is Minor Hockey Night in Lacombe Support the youthful players in the best way possible — be there to watch them play.

Tickets are one dollar each and are in the form of a program and can either be purchased at the gate or from any member of the Midget hockey club.

Two years has passed and gone, dears Dad and January day,
When parting comes and hours are broken,

Honor Old Timers on Wedding Anniversary

Congratulations were extended earlier this month to Mr and Mrs Dougall Joffary of Lacombe who observed their golden wedding anniversary at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr and Mrs Raymond of Van ———

Mr and Mrs John A. Joffary of Lacombe, the honored couple's son and daughter-in-law, were also present for the occasion.

Mr and Mrs Joffary, who were married by the groom's father, Rev. J Joffary in Edmonton January 2, 1913, settled on a farm southeast of Lacombe 3½ miles ago. They lived there until the retirement to Lacombe proper 1955

Mr Joffary was a school trustee for many years, and also served as president of the East Avenue Telephone Co

Mrs. Joffary came west in 1892 with her parents, Mr and Mrs. McWilliams, when they took up a homestead in the Lacombe district.

Both of the old timers enjoy good health Mr Joffary has retained his interest in farming, and Mrs Joffary looks after her housekeeping chores and raises a large number of house plants.

The Globe joins in extending best wishes to the highly-respected old timers on the observance of their anniversary.

County Form Of Government

COUNTY of Lacombe No. 14 is giving public notice that a vote of proprietary electors will be held if it is demanded by at least 10 percent, to determine whether they are in favor of the county or whether they desire to revert to the previous form of government (i.e. municipal council and school division board as separate entities)

There is little chance that such a vote will take place because the people in the county are reasonably happy with the present arrangement. The people living in the towns and villages within the county boundaries must not be quite so content, but they have not voting rights to make a change.

The notice is pursuant to provincial government regulations calling for such action after a period of four years. To our knowledge no vote has been requested in any county in Alberta.

If they give the public a chance to sit back and judge the success or failure of the county system which has now operated four years in this area.

Canada First

NEWS analyst Charles Lynch suggests that the trend to a more provincial outlook on government is noticeable in times of war. The trend away from national government toward more provincial autonomy asserts itself in times of peace and prosperity. Certainly, the provinces are flexing their muscles more these days. This isn't always to the good of the country.

It took the longest parliamentary session in history, more debate and more filibuster, and finally the use of closure to force through a new flag for Canada.

Legislatures are having no such trouble, and many are serenely putting through provincial flags of their own without the same emotional ordeal.

Saskatchewan has just adopted a new design for the province's diamond jubilee, for example. Ontario and Nova Scotia are considering new flags, and the provincial flag will be on all Saskatchewan government buildings alongside the new dominion red maple leaf. British Columbia is planning to erect four flag poles at Victoria, one for the provincial flag, one for the Red Ensign, one for the Union Jack, and one for the new flag. Other provinces like Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island also have their own flags.

There is nothing particularly wrong with this, although a cluttered flag on top of government buildings is at least confusing. The one common denominator in all provincial capitals is that the new Canadian red maple leaf will be flown. This is a symbol of unity and national strength in our country. Although we take justifiable pride in being Albertans, this must take second place to our role as Canadians.

Khrushchev? Who's He?

ONE way of threatening the extinction of the human race would be to start a nuclear war, as leaders of all nations well know.

Another way of losing individual sanity is to accept a high office in Communist Russia and then lose the confidence of the party.

Nikita Khrushchev is the latest example of a well-known world figure who has faded into obscurity. Newsmen who haven't heard about him since he was deposed as premier "think" he is being quietly put to death, but the subject just outside. However, All traces of his original presence is being wiped clean by the party — such as removal of his photographs from museums and offices, and the omission of his biography from calendars.

The same fate met Joseph Stalin, Russia's war leader, after his death. It is a though they never existed — final gratitude for men who did so much for their country!

Reflections of the Times . .

We Predict For '65

EVERY correspondent and newspaper writer seems to be engaging himself with making predictions for 1965 and since we are perched in the middle of the last session of Parliament and the new one what better things have we to do? If you like many thousands of Canadians, are of the opinion that things have been bad enough and can do nothing else but better don't find yourself. Then you will say, it will get worse. To which we reply how can it be much worse than 1964, we will go from crime to crime until about the middle of May or the first of June at the latest and then an election will be called.

The Rubber Wing of the Tories will reverse "That the Chief" and join the Liberals. Liberals of the left wing will join the NDP. Thompson will quit the Tories lock-stock and barrel and what about Caouette and his boys? They will stay at their benches and sulk. We forget about the RDP? They will split down the middle to become Socialists and "slightly pink" Socialists. When all this happens we will be back to our predictions dates.

Meanwhile back on the hill, before this happens a fair sized slice of business might be done as there is certainly enough on the Order papers. All of which will be dull stuff until we reach the second part of the flag bill, an official anthem, bonuses, after all we must have a song to sing.

But what about the results after our election? It will be very much the same as today. Why? There are at the Cents for the new flag will vote for Diefenbaker, and those now at Diefenbaker for Lester P. with most overlooking the other parties because there is some old tradition or value which tells them

GREEN ACRES

By Walter McNary District Agriculturist

Farm Mechanization Bugs

Sponsored by the Alberta Department of agriculture, commercial firms and utility companies will be held at the Olds Agricultural and Vocational college from February 3 to 12 inclusive.

Purpose of the program is to familiarize dealings and provide on-the-spot information on the various types of equipment that are available for farm mechanization. Emphasis will be placed on farm automatic equipment which can be used around the farmstead such as mechanical feed and dairy feeding and unloading equipment for handling, farm automatic watering equipment and equipment for handling liquid manure for fertilizer.

There will also be exhibiting and special heating equipment for beef, swine, dairy and poultry housing. Farm implements will not be included in the display.

The entire display will be housed under one roof. Facilities will also be provided for movies, slides and on-the-spot commentaries.

Farm mechanization days are an expansion of last year's program which emphasized hog production facilities. Keen interest among the large group attending last year's display prompted the sponsors to promote a four-day program this year with extensive equipment for all claims of livestock on display. The program will be the same each day. It is hoped that attendance on a repeat basis will avoid overcrowding on any one day but officials stress that farmers may attend any of the four days of operation.

A series of meetings on building, utilities, materials handling equipment and farmstead planning will be held prior to farm mechanization days to provide farmers with a better understanding of the use and economic value of each equipment. These meetings are being held at Lacombe Full details on the meetings can be obtained from any office.

Opportunities in Professional Agriculture

Many high school students are pondering what career they would like to take up. In view of this I would like to quote the following letter which was sent to Dr. C. F. Bentley, dean of the faculty of Agriculture of the University of Alberta.

"Dear Doctor Bentley, Again this year there are a number of employers visiting our campus who wish to interview agriculture students.

I understand very well the importance that students from the faculty of agriculture are in greater demand than are graduates from any other faculty of discipline. This holds true for all employers except those who continue to undergraduates in the same year in other areas from the University. It is very difficult to know the exact number of graduates to some positions can be filled by students from various departments. However it is felt that there are approximately seven or eight vacancies for each graduating student in agriculture. There will be numerous summer openings listed with us after the new year.

In order for us to notify students of vacancies it is necessary that they have current applications in our files. For this reason we would appreciate if the information in this letter could be brought to the attention of students in the Faculty of Agriculture."

Yours very truly,
J. R. Le Blay, M.E.S.,
Student Placement Bur.

Prospective students in the faculty of agriculture may be interested in the summer salaries being offered to graduating students in agriculture They are approximately as follows:

Graduate with a B.Sc., $6,300 and up; graduate with a M.Sc., $6,600 and up; graduate with a Ph.D., $6,900 and up.

Alix Residents Elated Over Central High School Plans

ALIX — The chairmen of the council of the county of Lacombe to construct a high school in Alix is certainly gratifying to we of the county seat of the county. Now we sincerely dare let ourselves hope that the plan to build a high school here will material- ize into reality.

Those in our area who have been insured with Allen's find that they have provided $10,000 protection ever since. Recently he was pleased to learn it had over $1,100 in cash value; that the policy dividend rate was up again.

(The 10th consecutive increase since Allen was born.)

This policy has a constant premium and will provide $10,000 protection for as long as Mike's Dad lives. But it is more than protection. Guaranteed cash values build up year after year. These values are available to meet emergencies or later to supplement retirement income.

In addition it returns dividends each year. The size of current dividend declarations forge part on the success of investment operations by the Manufacturers Life. Dividends on outstanding policies in force [illegible] 1964.

J. D. Skinner, 90 Years Old

J. D. Skinner, founder of the first newspaper at Lacombe, and believed to be the oldest printer still active on his trade, celebrated his 90th birthday last Saturday with an open house at his printing shop in Edmonton.

The J. D. Skinner Printing Parlor at 10074 - 97 St. was visited by many of his friends from 2:00 to 3:00 p.m.

Mr. Skinner was born at Kinburn, near Ottawa, on January 30, in 1875. An older brother and sister were born in Scotland. Five other brothers and one sister rounded out a family of nine, all of whom grew to adulthood.

Of the nine, there are still living: James, in Edmonton; Hector, at Ponoka; Duncan at Bowden.

Mr. Skinner has four children: Mrs. Claude J. Holroyd of Grande Prairie, Mrs. Carlton Baron and Mrs. W. C. Baron of Vancouver, and Miss Jean Doris Skinner of Powell River. There are seven grandchildren and thirteen great grandchildren.

Mr. Skinner established the first newspaper between Edmonton and Calgary in 1900 at Lacombe, where he was the first secretary-treasurer of the town, and also served a year on the town council. He was the first mayor of Gadsby, and the third of Rocky Mountain House and Bowden.

A unique autographed souvenir of the occasion, printed by the recipient, was presented to each caller at the "open house".

Former Alix Residents Assume Operation of Lethbridge Hotel

Three former residents of Alix have taken over active operation of the Lethbridge Hotel in Lethbridge.

New owners of the southern Alberta hostelry are Oscar Bobach, Sam and Richard Schultz. The Bobultz brothers, formerly of Edmonton, operated the Alix Hotel for four years. Mr. Bobach was the former Imperial Oil agent at Alix.

The hotel was purchased from the Calgary Brewing and Malting Company for approximately $300,000.

Reviews 1964 Lodge Activity

Following report on operations at the Lacombe senior citizens' lodge was submitted at the recent meeting held last week by the regular trustees, Mrs. Florence Henderson.

Senior citizens' lodge has again completed a year with practically no vacancies.

The figures change slightly. At present we have four married couples, 16 single men, and 24 single women, leaving room for two ladies. Both should be in by February 1. Twenty-two are between 80 and 84, only two are under 70. During the last year six deaths have occurred, and eight have been taken to nursing homes.

Many improvements have been made again this year: a lot of extra shelf space, bins, and a chute for groceries in the basement have been built and painted.

MAKES REPORT

Mrs. FLORENCE HENDERSON

The power supply to the pump should be separate from the main supply. The main has to provide [illegible] electric [illegible] Christmas treats as well as free [illegible] service. [illegible] Rodger in particular has been very active in taking somebody out for car rides during the fine weather.

Keeping residents busy will be a problem next if not first in order to do anything. About 1,27 dollars makes the quite a bit of money for the IODE whose members furnish the wool it is then sent to Korea.

Several organizations have brought in programs. Things parties, furnished rides and teas in the summer months, and many Christmas programs. On December 20 we had our annual Christmas party, with about 118 here for turkey dinners On December 21 Lakeside Farm Forum brought in a program, followed by Santa Claus, and the distribution of gifts.

On December 25, more than half the residents were away.

Additions or changes to the permanent staff this year has been the hiring of a new assistant cook, Mrs. Helen Power, and a full-time caretaker, Marvin Miller. This would have been an awful winter to have not had a caretaker, as snow has to be moved almost every day.

The heating plant has given some concern, and during the coldest weather the fireplace helped a great deal.

Again I wish to express my gratitude to the board of management, and to all the staff who are all very willing to help in times of trouble, and hope that in time all troubles will be ironed out.

Are You Prepared in Case of Fire?

How well prepared is your farm in case of fire? If it has half a burning would you have sufficient water pressure to reach the highest part of the building? How would your water supply last? A ready supply of fighting water has often meant the difference between a harmless blaze and a destructive fire.

There were miles of fire guns tions discussed at the farmstead planning short course held last Wednesday in Lacombe.

OK Charolais For Import

JUBILANT

RODNEY JAMES

For the first time ever, the federal government is going to allow the importation of French Charolais cattle.

Rod James of Lacombe, who is secretary of the Canadian Charolais association, reported on a meeting he and other members of the executive attended last week in Regina with Hon. H. W. Hays, dominion minister of agriculture.

Hon. Mr Hays described a quarantine station at Grosse Ile, P.Q. which will be ready to handle the first shipment of one hundred cattle from Europe about next October There will be a 10-month quarantine and testing period before they are released for distribution across Canada.

Mr James said that with the government lifting its ban on imported Charolais cattle, it will improve the Charolais breed on this continent "and eventually improve the whole livestock industry — particularly the commercial industry — by cross-breeding.

Crop Risk Insurance Program Explained

. . . Some Farmers Ask Extension Of "Test Area" Boundaries

Keen interest in the proposed all-risk crop insurance available in this area this year was shown as 250 farmers gathered at the Legion hall here Monday evening to hear a comprehensive report of the project given by officials of the crown company.

Main speakers were Mickey McKay, chairman of the board of the Alberta Crop Insurance Corporation, Ed Peterborg, general manager, and Fred Hedges, assistant manager of the Alberta hail [illegible].

Chairman was Bill Lee, reeve of the county of Lacombe.

Mr McKay prefaced his explanation of the scheme by stating that all-crop insurance was a natural outgrowth of consultation with the coverage provided under the PFA program — which was intended as a relief program not an insurance program."

He stated that crop insurance programs have been operating in the USA for many years, and are operating satisfactorily in Manitoba at the present time.

Main points covered in explanations given by the three principal speakers were:

• Federal government will pay [illegible] of the premium in this test area (Lacombe-Ponoka district) sign up for this insurance, the test area will not be accepted by the senior governments insured.

• Provincial government will also provide money to meet 20% of the farmers' premium.

• Coverage may be taken only on wheat, oats and barley crops (forage seed crops, rape, etc. cannot at this time be covered by this program)

• Insurance is meant only to guarantee sufficient income to meet operating costs. It is not intended to permit any farmer to make a profit.

• The insurance is a completely voluntary program. However [illegible] of the farmers in this test area (Lacombe-Ponoka district) sign up for this insurance, the test area will not be accepted by the senior governments insured.

• The insurance will provide coverage against losses to crops from any natural cause, such as hail, frost, excessive moisture, flooding, insect pests, disease and wildlife etc.

• "One hundred per cent coverage under the plan is based on a value of a 60% crop of the 20-year average in each area, and is designed only to cover as closely as possible the individual farmer's operating costs (75% coverage may also be taken, for smaller premiums)

• Contracts for insurable risks must be taken out no later than April 20 for crop insurance to be valid this year.

• Insurance is strictly voluntary. Representatives will call shortly on [illegible] with a view to explaining the program and [illegible]

• Crop insurance contract holders are exempt from the customary PFA levy made at the time of grass sales at elevator points.

• Efforts have been made to calculate risks as carefully as possible, and the board hopes to pay out more than received from farmers in premiums because of the federal government subsidy.

• The entire area has been carefully plotted by sections, and hail risk has been taken into consideration when considering premium rates to be charged.

• The plan guarantees maximum coverages — not in bushels, but in dollars, and costs have been calculated to return a little more than has been paid in in farmers' premiums.

• This is a "disaster-type of insurance coverage" and is designed to return approximately [illegible] of the farmers' operations.

• Haul insurance and crop insurance are compatible and is also recommended that a [illegible] carry hail and crop [illegible] combination.

• Crops of mixed grain cannot be insured at this time but some formula will be sought to apply such coverage in future.

Sample costs of insurance were given by Mr Pitching who explained that premiums were based strictly on studies of each section in the area covered.

"Test Area"

Lacombe-Ponoka area is one of three "test areas" set up by the board where crop insurance will be available this year. This area runs from the southern boundaries of the county of Ponoka 9 [illegible] to the Bashaw, Bentley, and the south by a north-south line through Tees.

A large number of questions were answered — and at the conclusion of the meeting many of those attending stayed around with board representatives to discuss individual problems.

Village Bentley Spends $6,400 on Sewers

Village of Bentley showed a deficit of $2,600 on its year's operation during 1964 — "but this is only a temporary deficit, and we hope to get back to our normal surplus budgetting again next year," village secretary-treasurer Claude Summers told The Globe yesterday.

The village undertook a two-block extension for sewer services during 1964, and this stretched the budget beyond the current income figure. Total expense of the sewer extension was $6,400.

The village had a total revenue during 1964 of $63,601 — of which $9,693 was paid by ratepayers on taxation on land and [illegible] for education, which cost the village $22,804. Fire, police and street lighting costs totalled $10,103 for the second highest department charges during the year.

Synopsis of the village financial statement appears on page [illegible] of this issue.

Mayor Elmer Calkins and his council members — Lee Gray and Ralph Garras — will be on hand for the annual ratepayers' meeting to be held in the Elks-Legion hall on Monday February 22, at 8:00 p.m. The financial statement will be studied and brought up for discussion at this meeting.

NEW FEDERAL FARM CREDIT
Full mechanization at the lowest possible cost is the aim of most Canadian farmers. To help cut machinery overhead and upkeep costs, the Farm Credit Corporation may now lend to syndicates of three or more farmers who wish to purchase equipment co-operatively, and will give assistance in setting up sound machinery sharing agreements, under the provisions of the new Farm Machinery Syndicates Credit Act.
The Corporation also makes long-term mortgage loans to farmers to help establish profitable family farm units. For information on either types of credit, contact your local Credit Advisor, Barry Patrick or George Acheson in their office in the Post Office Building, Lacombe. Office days are Monday and Friday of each month.

Hard Water

Hardness in the most common property in water. It is caused by dissolved magnesium salts, such as lime, gypsum, soda, in solution. Hardness is caused by much of water's ability to dissolve and hold in solution compounds of calcium and magnesium, which have been absorbed from limestone deposits in the earth's crust.

The process of removing hardness from water is called water softening. In a town or city supply the water is often softened at the treatment plant, usually by precipitation of calcium and magnesium as the water. Per individual water supplies this method of softening water is not very suitable, since the amount of careful dosing, testing, and settling is difficult to carry out on a small scale. Softening by means of ion exchange using zeolite is commercially for individual supplies and is recommended for farm homes.

Cation zeolite units are not generally suitable under the following conditions: 1 The water is to be treated is turbid 2. Oil or grease is present in the water 3 The water contains over 1,500 parts per million of hardness 4 The water is already high in sodium salts (about 1,000 parts per million) 5 The water contains over one part per million of iron.

Iron in Water

Iron in water is extremely undesirable as it leads to disorder everything it touches. It is one of the most common elements found in the earth's crust and is generally found in water in one of two oxide and the other is iron bacteria.

Hydrogen sulphide is very objectionable as it leads to disorder as it tends to discolor "rotten egg" odor and taste to the water.

Hydrogen sulphide is very objectionable as it leads to disorder as it tends to discolor "rotten egg" odor and taste to the water.

It is important to remember that at the chlorine that kills the sulphur problem, so that there is no "rotten egg" odor or taste no sulphur corrosion, no black sulphur water in the house. Dechlorinating filters contain carbon which will absorb the excess chlorine and thereby eliminating all odor and taste.

Lacombe Eagles Win YFC Hoop Tourney at Red Deer

By Terry Jones

Beaten Lacombe coach Don Chatalaine seems to have a knack of producing miracle teams.

First it was in football when he brought his Lacombe Rams from fourth place to the finals game on two short weeks — now its basketball.

Saturday, in the Youth for Christ invitational high school basketball tournament, the Gerinfon-crushed high school squad walloped every with first place, trimming four oversight games.

Going into the tourney, the Lacombe Eagles dwelling in the cellar of the eight team Central Alberta High School Basketball League and had lost all four of their scheduled games.

Oddly enough, Rumley, Red Deer and Stettler who had posted victories over Lacombe in regular league action, fell to the Eagles in the preliminary games of the tourney before the Lacombe crew walked over Delburne in the final game.

Lacombe added another feather to their caps when at half time tournament chairman, presented starry Lacombe forward Ray Martens with the trophy for being selected as the top all-around player during the tourney.

The tourney got underway at 9:00 a.m. with Rumley coming out on top of Delburne, followed by a game which saw Panoka upset Innisfail.

Lacombe posted their first victory over Stettler at 11:00 a.m. with Red Deer pulling a semi-

"No Place Like Home," Says Burglar Bill

If you took the advice of Burglar Bill, you'd keep all your valuables at home. Under the mattress, maybe. Or in that old teapot which lost its spout.

But Bill's advice isn't entirely objective. He figures if you leave your valuables at home — even in a "safe" hiding place — he stands a better chance of getting his hands on them.

Much better advice comes from Fred Pamenter, manager of the Lacombe branch of the Bank of Montreal. "Keep your valuables really safe in a B of M safety deposit box," says Mr Pamenter. "Your personal records, irreplaceable papers, costly jewellery and other important family papers — are safe and secure behind the steel doors of the B of M vault.

Forget what Burglar Bill says. Mr Pamenter says, "Clean out those closets, drawers — and teapots, too. Bring your valuables into the bank instead."

Shameful Accident Record

IT is about time that local merchants took a good look at the high incidence of accidents in this town. It is ridiculous that a community of 2,146 people like ours should be charged with 54 traffic mishaps in the year 1964 — an average of almost one every three days.

There is no excuse for this shameful record. A perusal of these accidents reveals that a fairly large proportion were due to neglect on the part of motorists in failing to stop at stop signs, exceeding the speed limit, etc.

A fair number were caused by icy streets, leading to the conclusion that the public works department of the town should take a careful look at a consistent and planned street-sanding program in order those intersections in winter are polished to ice-sheets as vehicles slide to a stop. Drivers have a right to expect better protection than this on town thoroughfares.

Human error is still one of the main factors behind too many accidents in Lacombe, though police should prosecute under their circumstances, but this is not the real answer.

Co-operation from the populace at large is needed. Let's be more careful in future, before some accident involves serious injury and maybe takes a life.

Winston

SIR Winston Churchill, beloved elder statesman and the leading seer of this country, was laid to rest in his beloved England on last Saturday. Millions mourned his death, and viewed the state funeral which appeared on their television screens throughout the world.

Scores of books have been written by lesser men seeking to capture the imagination, verbally, of wit and achievements of this amazing man, but few will equal his personal fortunes rise and fall, and rise and fall again.

Yet, at an age when most men consider retiring, he became the dominant figure in the entire free world. He lived the trials and tribulations of 1940 Britain's "finest hour." He was probably his personal finest hour.

His span of service was incredible. He served under six monarchs. He took part in the last famous cavalry charge of the 19th century, yet was at the peak of his power at the time of the first atomic bomb.

His memorable eloquence and wit will live as long as the English language. Who else could so phrase this barb at an opposition member of the house of commons: "The hon. member is never lucky in the coincidence of his facts with the truth."

History has already found a high niche for Sir Winston Churchill in the world hall of fame. It likely that future generations will consider him the greatest Englishman of them all. As one of his fellow countrymen said: "We shall never look upon his like again."

New Panama Canal

A RICH country like the United States should be happy to spend money-conscious then most. Nevertheless their decision to begin a new canal to supersede the Panama canal comes as a surprise.

It isn't strictly a question of the recent trouble which resulted in public outcries during the demolition of the old tenny of note. In any case, the present canal is inadequate for world shipping needs. It is still pretty good enough to serve for many years to come, but in view of Panamanian discontent and the age of the old canal the U.S. has been prompted to begin work on a new waterway. This is something like the millionaire who decides to buy a new car when he discovers the ash tray is dirty.

No one knows how much the new canal will cost, but it will be plenty. The States is already negotiating for a site and Colombia and Nicaragua have both expressed willingness to have the canal run through their territory. They can see big benefits in their country in the arrival of U.S. survey and construction crews, aside from the later benefits derived in canal dividends.

According to the preliminary schedule, it could be 1980 before the new canal is a going concern. What a big project it will be.

Air Travel Popular

PEOPLE are taking to the air in increasing numbers to travel from one place to another. It is a safe, fast, and comfortable mode of transportation. The bottle-neck that remains is the lack of convenience and time waste going to and from airports.

A few of the figures contained in the year-end report of Air Canada reveals the popularity of air travel. The number of passengers carried on scheduled flights on this one airline exceeded four million in 1964, an increase of five percent over the previous year. Gross revenues topped $331 million dollars. Dramatic advancements were recorded in freight traffic, and overseas passenger runs.

This is quite a change from the old TCA run inaugurated on April 1, 1939 between Vancouver and Montreal, with stops at Lethbridge, Regina, Winnipeg, Kapuskasing, North Bay, Toronto and Ottawa. In those days, there was one single daily flight in each direction.

Reflections of the Times

On Adopting Babies

Reports that the provincial government has asked for submissions from the public concerning Alberta's adoption policies will be welcomed by large numbers of people, some of whom have had personal experience with the adoption program, and many of whom have only second hand knowledge at best.

Even establishing the communism would seem to imply the government feels that all is not well, or at the least that changes might be made to bring practices into line with modern day conditions and requirements.

One place we hope there will be no change is the high standard established by Alberta over many years of assuring the records once adoption has taken place, and releasing the information again only after authority has been granted for good and sufficient reason by a judicial board. This is not as rigorously adhered to in other areas, and the lack of secrecy often causes needless heartbreak later on.

An area we feel requires more concern again above up more often out of Alberta than in it, yet almost no occasion is warranted, is our opinion. This is the removing of children from homes where they have been placed and allowed to remain for any considerable length of time. Children . . . and it is their wellbeing of which we must think, rather than that of their parents, or foster-parents . . . are people, after all, and quickly form deep attachment. The harm which can be done by rudely shattering these attachments has to be seen to be believed.

In all the submissions which will be presented to the commission, probably the greatest argument will centre around the provision requiring that prospective foster parents be of the same faith as the child to be adopted. Here, too, is one of the greatest needs for revision. Not here in this world by his own choice, the baby nonetheless has the God-given right to be reared, to grow up in a normal home, not an institution. Why, even for his own son, God chose a normal home life, complete with brothers and sisters.

Reaching the age of maturity, the potential adoptive child will have freedom of choice to assert his own religion, or the complete lack of one. As a baby he can make no assertions on his own behalf; surely adults have not the right to deny him the home which he can never gain through his own free choice. It passes comprehension that any God of love, of charity, of compassion, could look down on a helpless babe and consign him to grow up in an institution, even the best of them, simply because the would-be adoptive parents worship God the same God, successfully . . . in a manner differing from that of the parents who have so little love as to abandon the babe in the first place. For that matter, if these procreative parents really cared very deeply for the Almighty, there would be far fewer adoptive babies in the first place. — Camrose Canadian

Farm Labour Coming

We have received word that [illegible] farm and household workers will be available to farmers who are willing to employ them. They will be available for the approximate period of May 1 to September 30. These young people are experienced farm workers, with a good agricultural background in the Scandinavian countries, and can be depended on to be experienced in operating farm machinery and look after livestock. They also have a working knowledge of English in the case of the young women they are also experienced in farm work including dairy and any house work.

Our understanding is that the main objective would be to learn about farming in Canada. They would like to get with farmers who would take an interest in them and teach them some thing about our Canadian agriculture. We would hope that these young people might also be [illegible] during the winter months. The young men hope to earn approximately $100 per month, and the girls $120 per month.

We would ask you to contact us soon if you wish to have this type of farm help. Application forms will then be sent out to you.

Liquid Fertilizers

In view of the fact that liquid fertilizers are being promoted in the district, we feel that you should know the facts as related at the Lacombe experimental station.

During the summer of 1964 one experiment was conducted at the Lacombe experimental farm using a liquid fertilizer with analysis 10-20-10. Some typical results are as follows:

	Yield of Barley	Cost
Treatment	BU/Ac
Check	45.4 bu
2 gal. 10-20-10 with seed, 2 gal spray	65.6 bu	$15.00
1 1-46-0 at 50 lbs. per acre	43.4 bu	3.00

Statistical analysis of the data revealed that both of the above treatments produced yields significantly greater than the check. The differences between the above treatments is not significant. Where the liquid fertilizer was used as a spray alone, it resulted in yields not significantly different [illegible] a blend of 5 gallons were applied.

The results from this experiment do not show the use of a good fertilizer to be profitable because of its high cost. Additional experiments at other locations [illegible] on such a source as [illegible] could produce results somewhat different from this above.

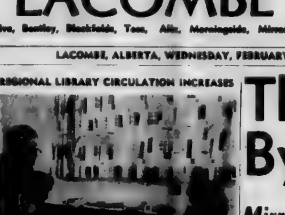
Hosting Pad Proves Cause of T-V Interference

- Reported interference with television reception in homes in the area was not caused by the artificial ice pad at Lacombe arena. It was reported at a meeting of town council Monday night.

Representatives were down from the department of transport radio inspection, and councillor Mike Kierluk reported that they discovered there was no interference from the rink.

Councillor Lee Hittle said he understood a family boathouse and the viewing were the cause of the trouble.

REGIONAL LIBRARY CIRCULATION INCREASES



These are particularly busy days for staff members of the Parkland Regional Library here as book circulation traditionally does during winter months. Shown above is Mrs. Tiura Reed, librarian, as she prepares to select books for a request library bound in the background is Mrs. Carol Saxby, who recently joined the staff. With branches throughout the counties of Lacombe Parish and Red Deer, as well as in the municipal district of Cody Mountain House, book distribution entails many thousands of miles of driving each year. Book circulation during 1964 increased to an all time high of 20,933 as almost 30% from the 1963 circulation of 321,314 volumes. Mirror Wants Change In School Site

Six-man Mirror local school board will be invited to meet with architect Kerry Bissell of Red Deer today to discuss change in location of the proposed new elementary and junior high school at Mirror.

The meeting is being arranged as a result of an interview held yesterday at the county office between the Mirror local and members of the consolidation committee.

Attending this session from Mirror were George Stevenson representing the Lake Bend district, Victor Unions of north Mirror, Bill Nels of Hickling, and Claude Kneibel of Ridley Two. other members not present were Hal Wolfinden of Gadsby Lake and Alf Mawbey of George.

They prepared a brief pertaining to the new school building at Mirror, asking for a move in site from the northwest side of "the green building" to the east side.

This would bring the new school building closer to the present primary school, which the delegation said has no audio-visual room, no library, no health room, no staff room, and no room for operating the duplicating machine.

These facilities would be accessible if both schools were side by side. Also, all grades could use the gymnasium to better advantage, and the janitor's work would be less time-consuming.

Plans Are Advanced

Education committee chairman Art Wigmore of Blackfalds told the Mirror delegates that plans for the school were so far advanced that changes at this time could be costly.

Some $700 has been spent on soil tests on the original location, and $5,500 on working drawings. Altering the site would mean new soil tests and perhaps an extensive overhaul of existing plans, Mr. Wigmore said he did not know what plan changes might be entailed, and that the architect would have to be consulted on that.

"We want to be open-minded about this," he said, "and we're not against the idea. We'll check with the architect and find out how serious a problem it is whether it's practical or impractical."

Mr. Wigmore suggested as an alternative a staff room and sickbay addition to the four-room school (grades one to four).

Setting Problem

The Mirror group also drew the committee's attention to a series of roads which are starting to show in the block foundation of the primary school. Mr. Stevenson said he thought this was a "setting problem". Committee promised to investigate.

Also discussed briefly was the bus route which runs north of Mirror. Committee members traversed on this bus last week and involved minor changes which seem to be working satisfactorily.

Garbage Truck, Transient Car Collide Here

The town garbage truck was involved in an accident with a car passing through Lacombe on No. 2A highway last Monday morning at 9:00. There were no injuries.

The 1963 GMC garbage truck operated by Jack Hosking was stopped on 47 street opposite the Dun-Rite Services waiting to make a left turn off the highway.

Roy A. Wesley of Taber driving a 1957 Meteor in the same direction applied his brakes as he approached the truck, but it was foggy and slippery at this point and police reported that he slid into the back end of the stationary truck.

There was no damage to the truck, but about $300 damage to the car

Tax Pre-Payments Increase in 1965

More town ratepayers took advantage this year of the 5% discount offered on pre-payment of taxes in January.

Secretary Frank Lacey told town councillors at the meeting Monday night that a sum of $54,-500 had been collected at the end of January, an increase of $6,500 over a comparable period last year.

This is only about one-sixth of the total levy, which was around $300,000 in 1964.

It was a busy night for council, with deputy mayor Paul Alberg in the chair in the absence of mayor Wes Jackson who was in Calgary.

Miscellaneous Items

- Figure skating club has been granted a reduction in rental to $10 for the use of Lacombe arena for the annual figure skating carnival on Friday, March 4.

Graduation Ceremony Due For Alteration

Changes in the present Lacombe high school graduation ceremony have been suggested by principal Henri Forgues.

At a meeting with assembled students last week, Mr. Forgues offered three alternatives to the present spring program at which grade 12 students receive caps and flowers

Mr. Forgues said that a change is desirable because more than one-third of grade 12 students at the graduation do not receive their diplomas because of failing departmental examinations which follow in June.

As an alternative, he suggested:

A post-graduation ceremony to be held after exam results are received;

Or a restricted graduation ceremony in the spring based on the standing at Easter. Only those students who could obtain a diploma and who have passing marks would be invited;

Or attendance of all grade 12 students at color night which is now held in the spring There would be no graduation ceremony as such, and no presentation of caps. There would be the usual color night presentation of awards to outstanding students.

Mr. Forgues told The Globe Monday that "we have decided pretty definitely not to follow the present set-up if an alternative is feasible and suitable."

Grade 12 students have been asked to discuss the matter with their parents, and make their wishes known. It is likely that a final decision will be made within the next week.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE
Commencing February 28 at 8:00 p.m. Sunday evening services will be held in the former Methodist Church in Lacombe.
The Church of the Nazarene is of Wesleyan Methodist background and the following is the Nazarene creed in brief
That there is one God — The Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.
That the Old and New Testament Scriptures, given by plenary, inspiration contain all truth necessary to faith and Christian living.
That man is born with a fallen nature and is, therefore in a sinned to evil, and that consciously.
That the finally impenitent are hopelessly and eternally lost.
That the atonement through Jesus Christ is for the whole human race; and that whosoever repents and believes on the Lord Jesus Christ is justified and regenerated and saved from the dominion of sin.
That believers are to be sanctified wholly subsequent to regeneration, through faith in the Lord Jesus Christ
That the Holy Spirit bears witness to the new birth, and also to the entire sanctification of believers.
That our Lord will return, the dead will be raised, and the final judgement will take place
More information next week.

LHS Squads Win Double

(By Terry Jones)

CANMORE, STANDINGS

For the first time in annual Alberta high school tournament competition this season, Lacombe high school teams swept both ends of a series

Both victories came over St. Mary's Academy of Red Deer on Wednesday in Lacombe The Lacombe bowling Lacombe girls recorded their fifth straight victory to sweep an easy 3-0-0 win and the Lacombe Raiders used a hot second and basket by Ray Martens to trip the visiting cagers 43-41.

Martens selected as the out standing player in the recent Youth for Christ invitational tournament, sank 23 points 12 in the final quarter — to pave the Lacombe attack.

Terry Smout scored seven and Ken Harrington six for the Eagles who won their first game in senior league play.

Bi Thomas had a slim 42-41 lead with less than two minutes remaining, but Martens sank two final shots to give the host boys a 43-42 lead

Bi Thomas tied it up 43-43 following Ken Harrington s fifth and game-evening foul

With but 40 seconds remaining Martens scored a single free shot before coming up with the winner with exactly one second remaining.

Boys' Win

Lacombe girls' quintet had little trouble maintaining their undefeated record, taking 20-6, 22-9 and 40-6 quarter-by-quarter decisions over the score to 84-6 after four quarters.

Maureen Thompson continued her high scoring pace with 20 points, half of them in the opening quarter Lorraine Rose and Myrna Olafson 10 each for Lacombe

A. Bruns Guest Speaker At ATA Sub-local Meet

Alta Morris, school teachers topics that could be carried out sub-local held its regular monthly by the sub-local meeting on Tuesday of last week at Alix.

A. Bruns, assistant superintendent for the county of Lacombe suggested that a topic be chosen that would improve instruction and the evaluation of the enterprise.

The next speaker was J. Fairbairn, who commented on the fact that it would be impossible for all teachers to work on one topic. He suggested that two teachers working together would accomplish more by working on smaller projects. A general solution on how to proceed in a research topic was then given.

T. Giles, superintendent for the county of Lacombe, provided further examples of possible research topics. Some of these included tracking down high school graduates to see if the school is accomplishing what it is supposed to do; research on readers in grades four, five, six; the cost of extra curricular activities; the best way for grouping students and research on the new mathematics texts for junior high school

The meeting concluded with a general discussion on the preceding topics

Sees Good Market For Wool in 1965

J. C. Ross, associate manager of the Canadian Co-Op wool growers' association forecast a good demand for wool in 1965 on his annual visit to Lacombe last week.

Meeting with local wool growers' associations — L. O. Perrault of Lacombe and Peter Chubb of Bluffton — Mr Ross stated that warehouses are pretty empty at the east, and there should be a real market for domestic wool this year.

Mr Ross also informed the local officials that he expects a government loan of about 12 cents per pound on top grade wool.

He was accompanied on his trip by R. B. Shopland of Edmonton, western representative for the wool growers' association.

Finds Lacombe Paper Dated Dec. 25, 1899

A "Supplement to the Lacombe Weekly Press" dated Monday, December 25, 1899—was brought into The Globe during the past week by Mrs. P. L. Primell of 5323, Lacombe.

The 40-year-old yellowed and aged paper was sent to Mrs. Primell by her brother, Howard Leslie of Long Beach, Calif., who came across it among old belongings in a home there.

The supplement, printed on one side of a 12- inch by 18-inch sheet carries a report of the murder case, which dealt with the murder of Nelson Hagel six miles north of Lacombe.

A single column deals with local and general news. Some of the excerpts

"A linstip leaves for Ontario next week for a month's holiday. The change will do him good as he has been applying himself assiduously to business.

"P. Talbot is going to teach school commencing at Jamesburg.

Young West Mayfield had a narrow escape from serious injury. He was attending the cut off saw which cut right through both his mitts, but he got off without a scratch. It is better to be born lucky than rich.

"The following farmers have finished threshing: J. Hayden 25 acres. 1460 bushels, J. J. Green, 60 acres. 2300 bushels. R. Tucker 10 acres. 540. Julius Hayden 20 acres, 1000 bushels; P. A. Switzer, 70 acres. 2200 bushels."

These enterprising young Albertans have good reason to be proud of themselves — as have the public-spirited weekly newspaper readers who nominated them. This is why we are proud to award special certificates to the nominators of Alberta's Junior Citizens of the Year. Typical qualifications for Junior Citizen Awards are acts of courage, initiative, work done for community, church and in the home since August 1964. If you know a young person between 6 and 16 years (or a group) deserving of special recognition for any reason whatsoever, please help them to become Junior Citizens of the Year. Simply give the details to the editor of this newspaper.

Winners selected each year by a panel of Alberta's Weekly Newspaper Editors. All young people nominated will receive a special certificate of recognition.

Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year Awards are sponsored by Alberta's investor-owned electric utility company, with the co-operation of Alberta's Weekly Newspapers Editors.

Recital at Clive

CLIVE. — A very enjoyable evening of organ music was held in Clive United church on Saturday, February 13, when W Watson, an accomplished musician gave a recital. Everyone present was deeply moved by his many selections.

Mr. Watson was organist at Jasper United church when he played in Edmonton several years ago. He is assistant organist at Mc-Dougall United church, and is on the staff of Heintzman's in Edmonton.

A special guest at the recital was Rev. Stephen Bodtker, who was active in the church 50 years ago. She taught Sunday school and also took care of the church at that time. Although not active in the church today, she still takes a great interest in any activities. We are proud to have Mrs. Bodtker as a member.

Another highlight of the evening was the interesting fact that Mr. Watson and Mrs. J. Cole of Clive both came from the same street in Cockyke, Scotland. It was discovered that both had many mutual friends, although neither of them had met before.

Organ Dedicated

The United church was filled to capacity on Sunday morning at a special dedication service. After the dedication of the organ, Mr. Watson was guest organist during the remainder of the service. The junior choir sang the anthem "How Great Thou Art".

Rev. Warren then dedicated the new communion table. The table is a gift of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Williams as memory of Mrs. Williams' father, the late James Aitken, who worshipped in the church and who made many friends here during his four months' stay in Clive in 1912. He passed away in Glasgow, Scotland, on February 4, 1965.

Rev. Warren introduced Rev. Bob Read to the congregation. Rev. Read, who recently returned from Northern Rhodesia where he was a missionary for nine years, gave an address to the children on an African theme and later gave a very inspiring and informative sermon to the entire congregation.

The congregation were all very pleased to see that E. L. Reynolds was able to be present for this special service.

UCW Meets

UCW held their meeting at the home of Mrs. R. Nelson. Mrs. E. Somerville read the devotional and Mrs. Lawrence Wagner had the Bible study period. The president, Mrs. M. Sheddeen arranged for a sewing bee to be held at her home on Thursday afternoon.

March meeting will be held in the church when the "Mixed Bag" club will be guests. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

Mrs. M. Sheddeen and Mrs. L. O. Williams attended the UCW presbyterial meeting at Lacombe United church at Red Deer last Thursday.

Mrs. Margaret Low visited her home here during the week end. Guest of Mrs. Low for the week end was Mrs. W Watson of Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Williams entertained Mr. and Mrs. J. Cole. Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Low and daughter Margaret, and Mr. and Mrs. William Watson on Saturday evening after the organ recital at the United church.

Farewell For Minister

A farewell party was held in the basement of Clive Anglican church on Friday for Rev and Mrs. Collinson and family. The Anglican church ladies served lunch and the men poured coffee and tea. The evening was a social one with the playing of cards and visiting.

A. Elliott then presented Mr and Mrs. Collison with a lovely pole lamp and the two daughters with small cedar chests, filled with stationery On behalf of himself, his wife, and daughters, Mr Collison thanked everyone for the lovely gifts.

He has been the Anglican minister here for six years and expressed thanks to all the people who had made this charge a happy one for him

All present wished Mr and Mrs Collison the best of everything in their new charge at Dawson Creek

Mr and Mrs. P. G Harrow and family of Red Deer and Mr and Mrs. R. H. Crooks and family of Big Valley were dinner guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs J. H Harrow. The occasion was to celebrate three birthdays in the family. Marjorie Harrow on February 14, P G Harrow on Feb 17, and Mrs. J H Harrow, Feb 19

Mrs. Emma Cachewsther has had as visitors her son Lewis of Mirror, son Henry of Chase, B.C. her daughter, Mrs. Gladys Benson of Mirror, Mrs. Helmer and daughter of Erbville and Mrs O Anderson and Mrs. Hansen.

The colonial Alberta hockey league gets back to playing for real this week as the league playoffs see the Lacombe Rockets and Red Deer Rustlers squaring off in one set of the best-of-seven semi-finals, while the Drumheller Miners and Edmonton Oil Kings meet in the other half of the playdowns.

Rockets, who have been playing short-handed for the past few games, are expected to be in full strength for the playoff series. Only doubtful starter at this time is Ed Kemmat, whose ankle injury is continuing to plague him. Ed first picked up his injury in Sweden early in January, and last month a couple of more pucks on the same spot, brought a recurrence of the injuries.

Remi Brisson's back injury is responding slowly to the rest treatment, and he is expected to suit up this week. Rich Healey and Austin Smith, also suffering from ir ner knee injuries, will both be back in action.

Tickets for playoff games are on sale at Wagner's Tom Boy Store, and season ticket holders are reminded to pick up their tickets before noon on the day of the playoff game to ensure their regular seats.

Rockets Lose Three Straight as League Play Ends

Lacombe Rockets started a string of nine-for-three games during the past week for their worst showing of the season.

Short in manpower the Rockets were upset 5-3 by Red Deer here Saturday night in an evening that contained what was the biggest feature was a melee in front of the penalty box

Six Red Deer players and five Lacombe players were given 10-minute misconducts for leaving the players' box as a shoving, stick-fencing duel occurred after Ron Maley of the Rustlers and Rich Healy of the Rockets were thumbed for misconduct

Al Drumheller

Playing out the string in "nothing" games at Drumheller Sunday and Tuesday evening, the Rockets lashed back-hard to defeat the Miners 7 and 5-3 decisions. The locals, again going with an economical maximum line-up were substituted in both games by the Miners.

Eagles Win Rimbey Basketball Tourney

(by Terry Jones)

Lacombe Eagles, currently holding down last place in the central Alberta high school basketball league, won their second tournament in two weeks ago, the Eagles capturing Tenth Sr Christ festival basketball tournament in a row.

Two weeks ago, the Eagles captured the Red Deer

Saturday, the Don Gustafson-coached team took home the loving cup of the Rimbey high school invitational tourney, going undefeated in three games.

The Lacombe crew upset Wetaskiwin in their opening game, Camrose in the semi-finals, all other downing a bye, and again beat Wetaskiwin, who had gone the distance in the losers' section to win the final and the tourney.

The six-team tournament included hoopsters from Wetaskiwin, St. Albert, Camrose, Rocky Mountain House, Rimbey and Lacombe, with their second tournament in a row.

Rimbey Spartans counted to a 37-32 victory over Rocky in the opening game.

Camrose was the right to meet Rimbey in the second game of the tourney around when they pulled a 46-37 victory over Paul Kane high school from St. Albert.

Lacombe tripped Wetaskiwin in their opening game to the finals and then annexed an impressive 61-

17 victory. Ray Martens, the most valuable player in the Red Deer YPC tourney led Lacombe with 17 points, followed by Bob Bethart and Dietrich Unruh, who notched eight each.

Highlight of the tournament came with less than five seconds remaining in the play in that game when Bob Grant of Wetaskiwin grabbed the ball at the head of the key and threw it all the way into the Lacombe basket

The long toss clipped smoothly into the webbing without so much as touching the hoop or the backboard, and the win for Lacombe was staged between Camrose and host Rimbey with Camrose drawing a bye directly into the winner's final.

Camrose was a 46-36 victory over the outclassed Rimbey squad

In the semi-final of the losers' section, St. Albert bowed to Rocky its second defeat of the tourney in posting a 66-34 victory.

Lacombe ended the Camrose winning streak at two games by downing a 47-42 victory in the winners' final.

Martens was good for 14 points in leading the Lacombe attack, and was followed by teammate Unruh with 10. Rocky Sauer with eight and Unruh with six.

The game was wide open, and at times, rough. Martens was last to the Lacombe club for the final game when he received a sprained wrist.

Barry Fraser led Wetaskiwin to a 30-24 win over St. Albert in the losers' final, and formed a rematch with the Lacombe crew in the nine o'clock final.

Lacombe held a definite edge in territorial play throughout the final game, and it showed on the scoreboard as the Eagles flew to a 46-36 victory and captured the tournament honors.

Ken Berrington, who replaced Martens, bagged 19 points for the victors, with Unruh sinking 12 and Barry Landers, eight.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Annettine Cleaver, who passed away February 21, 1957.
Calm and peaceful be a sleeping,
Shrouded in our fondest pain
We who loved her sadly miss her,
But trust in God he never again.
— Deep remembered by her loving wife, Angela, and family
20-1p

In memory of my husband and in due, Mr Samuel W Scott, who passed away February 19, 1964.
It's sad to walk this road alone instead of side by side,
But in all these years this moment
When the tears of life divide,
God gave us years of happiness
These years are treasured dear,
But you gave us beautiful memories
We will treasure through the years
— Sweet remembered by Annie and family
20-1p

In loving memory of our daughter and sister, Beverly Ann McGee who passed away February 18, 1959.
Tonight the stars are serene
On a silent lonely night
Where change is dreaming slumber
One we loved now would not have
To you who have a daughter
Cherish her while ours
You will never know the heartache
Till you see her vacant chair;
We pray to God in Heaven,
Take a message to Mary above
Tell her how we miss her,
And give her all our love
How remembered and sadly missed by Mother, Sisters and Brothers
20-1ch

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Thor Thorsen, who passed away February 14, 1958:
If all the world were ours to give,
We'd give it, yes and more,
To see you bring one smile
And greet you at the door
How oft those moments before we
Your dear face kind and true,
For thought each moment we'd have your companion of you.
— Deep loved and remembered by his wife Winnie, daughters Minnie, Woodford and Sandra

Pure Seed Essential For Quality Grain

Role of the Canadian seed growers' association in Canadian agriculture is more important today than ever before, stated L. P. Dinsdale, manager of the Olds district last Friday.

He said that Canada must keep its agricultural export markets. It has one big advantage that must always be maintained and that is quality.

"We must have purity as a basic for first quality factors," Mr. Dinsdale stated, "and this would suggest that a continuing progress of dedication by the members of the C.S.G.A. coupled with a continuing agricultural research by our federal and provincial institutions is necessary."

He pointed out that there is much hard work to cool grown-ing that does not show on the surface, despite valuable aids like improved machinery, seed cleaning equipment and chemical weed controls.

He reminded some of the back-breaking chores he encountered as his own farm to grow weed-free seed of high quality barley, wheat, etc., that qualifies as registered or certified seed.

"Appreciation and its attendant businesses remain the foundation of our economy," said Mr. Dinsdale. "Over 60% of our gross national product is agriculture."

He pointed out that the C.S. G.A., first started in 1904, marked its 60th anniversary last year. It has a membership of 6,000 farmers running seed grain on 300,000 acres.

He closed his talk with the thought that "All seed growers should strive to their utmost to make good seed available for an adequate supply of food for the hungry of not only the Canadian people but all people of the world."

The speaker was introduced by Sanford Leader and thanked by Albert Kemps

EDITORIAL

New Masthead

EVERY now and again a change is good for the soul, and this truism can be applied even to inanimate objects like a newspaper.

We are referring to The Globe's mast-head, which signifies everything of the character and content of the paper. It was chosen for "The Lacombe Globe" name-plate on the front page was known as Station 11 has been in use for seven years.

After this length of time the editors thought that a change was due, if not overdue.

So beginning this week we have selected a five-band style for a new masthead, created by an artist from Seattle, Wash. At the same time efforts have been made to brighten up the inside pages with a series of multi-column big natures denoting columns for women, sports, editorial, and classified.

We are pleased with the overall effect. We hope our readers like it, too.

Attention CPR

IN times of increased competition, one would think that the Canadian Pacific Railway would try to cultivate good public relations. From one afternoon's experience, it's a matter of conjecture whether the CPR cares much about a good public image.

A passenger train due to leave Calgary at 1:45 on a recent Saturday afternoon was clearly marked on the bulletin board as "on time" although the ultimate departure was 55 minutes late.

Passengers who included older people and harassed parents with arms-in-arms were kept standing half an hour without explanation. When they were finally allowed beyond the gates, only one side of a double-door was opened. People were half crushed on the approaches to the narrow opening while CPR staff policeman looked on casually.

A lack of concern about notifying the public of the train's delayed arrival was apparent at the Lacombe and Ricdlecta here who phoned the CPR were variously told that the train was "30 minutes late," then "a further 15 minutes late," and finally "another 10 minutes late."

Trains which are [illegible] minutes at the start can make up much time on the speedy Calgary-to-Edmonton schedule. It should be no trick to so inform the public all along the line when they contact their local CPR depot.

Late trains are annoying, but they become downright outrageous when no one seems to know how many minutes' late.

The CPR should be supplying the best service it is capable of giving to hold onto its passenger runs. A change in attitude is needed.

The New Flag

THIS week, the new Canadian flag was raised simultaneously on most federal buildings throughout the dominion. In Lacombe last Monday, there was a flagpole ceremony at institutional buildings like the post office and experimental farm, when the maple leaf flag was hoisted and the Red Ensign lowered for the last time.

Some people don't like the new flag. They remember and resent the way legislation adopting the new flag was shoved through parliament over the objections of a divided house.

It is time to lay these petty grievances aside now. To persist in fighting the new flag is like rejecting a motion at a business meeting after it has been passed by the majority. Further debate is futile. The Canadian people voted the Liberal party into power at the last general election and one of its platform planks was a new flag for Canada.

The flag should be a symbol of national unity, and we should accept it as such and fly it with pride.

Paper Consumption

IF you are an average Canadian paper user, every year you use 320 pounds of paper. On the other hand, the average person in backward and poverty-stricken countries uses less paper a year than is found in a single box of tissues.

Papyrus, the name of a wholesale paper company's publication, lists the United States as the largest consumer of paper with 457 pounds per capita per year. Canada is second. Next comes Sweden with 379 pounds, United Kingdom, 235 pounds, Netherlands, 228 pounds, Denmark, 227 pounds and Switzerland, 205 pounds.

In the range of 100 to 200 pounds per capita per year are Australia, Norway, New Zealand, West Germany, Finland, Belgium, France, Japan, Iceland, Ire and Austria.

Since the beginning of recorded time, civilization in the world has advanced with the increase in the use of paper. Pulp is used in vast quantities in newspapers to keep people informed. Paper is used in textbooks to record scientific and technical knowledge to be read and improved upon by the next generation.

Consumption of paper is closely linked with our standard of living. It is no accident that the United States, with the highest standard of living in the world, uses more paper per capita than any other country by a wide margin. This paper is used in many different forms — from stationery in the business office to paper toweling in the home.

Reflections of the Times . . .

How to Walk on Ice

People who walk carefully on ice-covered sidewalks watch with envy the sure-footed pedestrian who strides across the slippery surface as though he were on summer-bare concrete. The National Safety League of Canada believes the bold stroller should be pitied rather than envied, for he could be heading for a cracked skull.

Almost every corner in Canada sometime during the cold season, temperatures walking surfaces that look and act like oil-slicked glass. NSL has come up with some ideas to reduce the predestrian who must brave that condition. The league advises:

Short steps. A crouched, slightly forward-leaning position to help maintain balance by lowering the body's centre of gravity

Snow boots, better equipped with an en-gripping cleats, to improve traction. Women should avoid high-heeled footwear on ice.

Strips of adhesive tape on the soles of shoes, rubbers or galoshes.

On the marbled to a cane with a tip to dig into the ice. The tip is retractable for indoor use.

Easy on the curb when a bus approaches a stop. It could skid when the brakes are applied.

Wire cables or chain or other dark Be seen to be safe. Better yet, carry a flashlight.

Where steps have hazardous, don't be too brave. Use them. If there are no handrails, simulate the skier's side-step style of climbing; turn feet sideways on the steps.

Falls are less likely to result in serious injury if the faller is relaxed. There is little time to think of this when it happens and few will want to rehearse falling limp Nevertheless, it is well to know this point, fixing it in the subconscious which may bring it into play when it is most needed.

Remember young children can have a lot of fun on ice, but they must replace fun with peril. Be careful with [illegible]

Laundry Woes

Winter always seems to bring more laundry problems and one of the most common ones recently has been yellowing of clothes or yellow streaks on clothes. Yellowing of clothes is often due to a build up of soap . . . and you'll be surprised how much soap can be left in clothes even after rinsing. Yellowing can be done away by drying in a dryer . . . the heat seems to intensely discolorations.

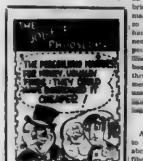
It is necessary to "strip" clothes of excess soap occasionally. This is done by washing them in clear water with a water softener such as Calgon added. Take a look in your machine and see how much soap suds you have. Throw some out of your clothes. Repeat this process until no more suds appear. Then in future, measure your soap carefully according to the directions on the box for your type of washer

Fiberglass Drapes

A number of women have asked about this type of drapery fabric recently. Fiberglass has many advantages, it is colorfast so needs no lining and can be hand washed in the bath tub and needs no ironing. Fiberglass drapes should never be dry cleaned. Also all the most fashionable fabrics that there drapes will wear through from abrasion. This has meant that they could not be used where they would rub against fenestration windowsills, fireplaces or furniture.

Fiberglass Rain

A new type of fiberglass seems to be much more resistant to abrasion. If you are considering fiberglass drapes, we recommend that you choose fiberglass both.



Often it's the same way with tires. Persons interested only in price, often pay more per-mile for rubber than those who buy quality. Here we have lots of good winter tread tires for all makes of cars. Drop in and check our stock . . . and our prices.

FUA Scholarships Help Students

At the annual FUA ... ship meeting held in Lacombe recently an interesting letter was read from the 1964 scholarship recipient, Gordon Lesli.

Gordon graduated in science engineering and is now employed as a foreman for the Iron Ore Company of Canada in Labrador City, Newfoundland.

He said the two year old town has a population of 7,000 with a new school and very modern homes. Air and rail are the only means of travel to the outside.

He was grateful for the help which the scholarship had given him.

Miss Linda Budd, the ninth ... ship also wrote expressing her gratitude to the F.U.A. committee.

She is enjoying her first year of the university in Edmonton and maintaining a high standard as her average was 81.8% on the Christmas exams.

It is gratifying to all who help make the scholarship possible to have the students doing so well

Plebiscite on March 18th

Vote on the town's proposed new $25,000 workshop will be held on Thursday, March 18, public works chairman Dan Dew told 40 ratepayers attending the annual meeting in the Lacombe memorial centre on Monday night. Councilor Dew strongly urged "everyone to turn out and vote for this by-law" since the facilities which this building will provide will greatly increase the efficiency of all town-operated services." (To by-law appears on page eight).

Fred Palmenter was chairman at the meeting, which adjourned at 10:00 p.m. following reports by members of the council, secretary-treasurer, and centennial committee chairman. There were a number of questions from the audience which reflected interest in the town's welfare. Reports, in brief:

Question Period

Audience participation in the town annual meeting has traditionally been fairly active, and included:

Stan Fuller: several questions, including one on town participation in the preparation of streets prior to paving. Was this necessary when other streets were excelled?

Wm. Hunt: questioned the merits of remodelling the active treatment hospital into a nursing home. Also, why did the hospital have difficulty traversing "four or five steps" at the entrance-way.

Jim Barr: Criticized the lack of any schedule to remove light and grade streets, which he said the town was doing on a "hit and miss" basis.

Grant Johnson: Wondered why the police department thought it time to give tickets to persons parking cars on the wrong side of the street.

Bill Prissel: Asked for an explanation of how the assessment roll was paid off.

Elbert Bahne, a comment on the daily garbage pick-up downtown: "Sweeps? Great thing!"

David Sawyer: Wanted to know what plans, if any, there are for a new recreational building. "Ours is pretty badly out of date," he said.

Mr. Badger also moved a vote of thanks to the mayor and councillors for their time and efforts on the town's behalf. Another word of appreciation was extended to Carl Kierluk for keeping up the outdoor skating rinks.

Good Year Revealed in Clive Reports

A year of activity was reported in the village of Clive during 1964, at the annual meeting of ratepayers held in the Clive curling rink.

Council heeded by mayor Stan Hoard gave reports, along with the financial statement by secretary-treasurer Miss. Elsie Ellis, to the Local.

Among important business transacted by the village during the year:

- Built a half-mile of road linking into the village from the north. The county supplied machinery, and the village supplied gravel, labor, gas and oil. Total cost was $1,000, which included gravel used on other streets, too.
- Installed five more mercury vapor lights, now numbering 17 altogether.
- Issued four building permits to a value of $10,000.
- Instituted two new sewer connections, bringing the total to a hundred up to 31.
- Approved the spending of $400 for playground items and preparing ground. The chamber of commerce assisted with this work.
- Purchased a new grass mower.
- Order was given for a new fire alarm.
- Six fire calls were answered by Clive firemen during the year, none of a serious nature.

Thought For the Week...

Some people pursue happiness; others create it.

GENERAL GOVERNMENT

Town has completed a "favorable operation" with a surplus of $13,000, stated councillor I. P. Steinbacher.

He compared the mill rate in 1964 with that in 1959, both of which were 65 mills. The breakdown last year (1959 in brackets): municipal, 27.64 (17.6); school, 29.70 (32.0); hospital, 3.86 (0).

Debentures debt total in 1964 was $977,213, compared to $995,-273 in 1959. Current principal and interest payments yearly are $91,523 or 19.35 mills (includes local improvement charges) in 1965, two debentures come due, which will reduce payment by 69,695 M no additions are made.

PROTECTION TO PERSONS AND PROPERTY

Councillor F. C. Alberg reported that five cents in 1964 totalled $8,000, plus capital expenditure of $9,651 for a 1965 one-ton boor truck, to replace two old units) and 1966 for a flusher light.

Police costs were $69,703, plus a capital expenditure of $630 for a police car with a trade-in total fines accruing to the town were $4,753 ($6,300 in 1963)

The town received light reservations on 65 and 80 revenues, costing the town $1,076.

RECREATION AND COMMUNITY SERVICES

Ballott at the Lacombe swimming pool was cut to $8,007 from $8,500 in previous year, reported councillor M. J. Kierluk. Operation costs at the pool were $16,015, against revenues of $4,537.

Deficit at Jubilee stadium is $7,256 ($8,577 in 1963), but councillor Kierluk said this will be cut to $6,704 with the receipt of $1,000 in outstanding money.

Deficit at the Lacombe memorial centre was $1,282, almost identical with 1963. Operating costs were $6,710, with a revenue tar-

HEALTH AND SOCIAL WELFARE

Councillor L. O Hintle compared low welfare costs in Lacombe with Ponoka where costs of Lacombe, and villages of Mirror, Alix and Blackfalds).

Hospital net requisition was $17,216, an increase of $1,500 over the previous year, and health unit requisition $4,150 which he warned would "see an increase in the next three years."

Town assessment judge is operating at full capacity on a small surplus, and he gave credit to the assessor, Mrs. Florence Bradford.

PUBLIC WORKS

Councillor D. A. Dew reviewed a busy year in public works which included the major sidewalk and paving programs.

Looking to the future, it is planned to renovate and backfill more streets, construct some 4,000 lineal feet of monolithic curb, gutter and sidewalk; and install storm sewer extensions, depending on the results of the current engineering survey.

SANITATION AND WASTE REMOVAL

Garbage collection cost $8,350, said councillor G. A. Smith. This was a lower figure than the previous year's figure of $8,729 because of residential areas expanding and because of the introduction of daily garbage pickup downtown on a trial basis in November.

Sewer costs were $4,300, the same as in 1963.

SECRETARY-TREASURER'S REPORT

Financially, the town is in an "extremely good position", stated secretary-treasurer F. W. Lee.

He reviewed some of the major items of expenditures of $44,000; street reconstruction, $17,000; purchase of the former Wilson property which $9,765 was received from other municipalities (i.e., county of Lacombe, and villages of Mirror, Alix and Blackfalds).

MAYOR'S REPORT

Possible purchase of the water system from Calgary Power has been discussed "to be run as our own capital investment," said mayor W. H. Jackson.

The price would be determined through the board of public utilities, but estimated cost would be "well over $200,000".

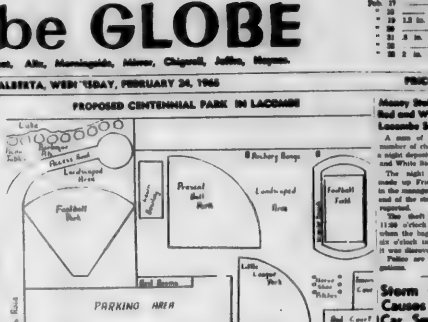
New water well at the experimental farm is delivering 170 gallons of water per minute, and "they think it's good forever."

Pension scheme is being considered for town employees.

Planning consultant survey of the town will soon be ready, and citizens will have a chance to ask questions and receive explanations at a public meeting later.

The mayor commended the efforts of the town work force, fire and police department staffs, town office staff, and caretakers and assistants at the LMC and rink.

PROPOSED CENTENNIAL PARK IN LACOMBE



This is the proposed layout of the centennial park, which will become an interesting place if authority is granted to develop the general area of the school and jubilee stadium and swimming pool to provide facilities for town and county. The above plan was submitted by centennial committee chairman Alex Ellis at the annual meeting of the town on Monday night. It was moved by Don Vickerson that the town council at its next meeting on March 8 "delegate authority to the entertainment committee to investigate this project and to proceed as the official body to carry out this project."

Licence Plates Will Go on Sale Next Monday Morning

- Sale of new license plates will commence at the provincial treasury branch in Lacombe next Monday, March 1.
- Branch manager Jack Connely anticipates that some 1,500 to 1,600 plates of all types will be sold from this spot, of which about 1,000 will be for automobiles.

Plate colors this year are red letters and numerals on a white background.

Car and truck owners from Bentley and district will obtain their plates from Gordon Ellis.

Breeding Association Inaugurates Fee Increase

An increase in breeding fees by one dollar per cow will be instituted by the Lacombe artificial breeding association effective April 1, it was agreed at the annual meeting held in the Legion hall here on Monday of last week.

About 60 members were in attendance.

In the report of the board of directors, it was noted that even though the 1964 operation had shown a modest increase in business over the previous year, for the second year in succession the financial statement showed the association to be operating in the red.

With this in mind and the fact that the Lacombe association's breeding fees are the lowest in the prairie provinces, the directors felt it necessary to make breeding fees one dollar per cow to be effective April 1, 1965.

In the election of officers, the retiring directors Hans Ahrens, representing Red Deer county and Howard Young for Lacombe, were were returned to office for further three-year terms.

On completion of business, the meeting was addressed by H. Bruce Jeffery, supervisor of artificial breeding for Alberta department of agriculture; William F. Hart, foreman for weed control branches and Doug Blair, fieldman from Milner, B.C.

School Graduation Ceremony Vetoed

Perennial spring graduation ceremony at the Lacombe high school will be abolished, according to word from principal Henri G. Forgues, and in its stead members of the graduating class will be recognized at the annual color night held in May.

Mr Forgues said this was the choice of students who were polled for their opinions regarding changes in the graduation program, deemed necessary because many students "capped" in the spring ceremony failed to pass the June departmental exams.

The students favored a color-based graduation and color night program, which is held each May 1st, and recognizes students for their achievements.

Other alternatives suggested was a pre-graduation ceremony to be held after exam results are received, or a restricted graduation ceremony in the spring based on class standing at Easter.

Mr Forgues said the post-graduation ceremony idea in September placed a poor third with the students.

He was also a little surprised at student reaction to a banquet at color night. "They don't seem to care for the banquet," reported Mr. Forgues.

Undecided is whether the combined program should be held in the high school auditorium or in the Lacombe memorial centre, where graduation awards can be seated.

Home Building School Draws Fair Crowds

About 40 town and district residents were present each day for a two-day home building course at the Lacombe pavilion on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week.

There were four resident display firms from local firms. Badger's Home Furnishings and Hardware displayed kitchen cabinets; Eckroth Lumber displayed complete selection of carpets, linoleum, paints, etc.

Al's Electric and Lyon-Lee Sheet Metal put samples on the floor of different furnaces and electrical equipment.

Clear points of a home improvement calendar were run by Mrs. Hazel Anderson.

Program included an interesting discussion on available credit sources, with a local panel of three speakers giving their ideas about credit.

There were visitors from the department talking on a variety of home building subjects.

Board of trade representatives served coffee and doughnuts both mornings.

Mirror Man Killed In Automobile Accident

A 59-year-old Mirror man, Dick Tolmann was killed in a one-car accident on Hwy. 2 highway about 15 miles south of Edmonton early Sunday morning.

The accident occurred near Bleiker, and it is reported that the car had been on at the elapsed.

Money Stolen From Red and White in Lacombe Saturday

A sum of $200 cash, plus a number of cheques was stolen in a night deposit bag from the Red and White Store in Lacombe.

The night deposit bag was made up Friday night and left in the manager's desk at the back end of the store. Lacombe police reported.

The theft occurred between 11:30 o'clock Saturday morning when the bag was last seen and six o'clock in the evening when it was discovered missing.

Police are continuing investigations.

Storm Friday Causes Several Car Smashups

Last Friday's driving snowstorm which cut visibility on highways was responsible for a rash of accidents reported in the area. Icy roads were also a contributing factor.

RCMP from Red Deer investigated a three-car pile-up about five miles west of Lacombe late Friday about 5:30 p.m., and a four-car pile-up in the same vicinity half an hour later.

Another collision involved two Lacombe residents at the intersection intersecting highways two and 12 on the west side of town, on Friday about 8:30 p.m.

Billy Pepoe and Elmer Grover were both heading south, looking for the turnoff when they collided. Mr Grover required a few stitches to the head.

There was damage to the front wheel, fender and grill of the three-quarter ton pick-up truck Mr. Grover's 1955 Ford was considered to be a write-off.

Collision at Town Intersection Causes Minor Damage

One minor accident in the town last Saturday caused about $75 damage to a 1956 Pontiac belonging to Bob Bain of Lacombe and similar damage to a 1964 Dodge half-ton driven by Edward Bisnath of Joffre, Alberta.

The vehicles collided at the corner of 50 street and 51 avenue in Lacombe, at 9:30 in the morning.

Local police have charged Mr Bisnath with leaving a stop sign when unable to do so.

Bentley to Buy New Grader

A new garage or shed to store village equipment and a larger maintainer for use on streets are among the 1965 projects planned at Bentley, mayor Elmer Calkins reported at the annual general meeting of ratepayers held at the Elks-Legion clubrooms Monday evening.

Fifteen ratepayers were on hand to hear reports on 1964 activities, and take part in discussions on future plans.

Mayor Calkins reported on the highlights of 1964 improved garbage pickup service; 1300-ft. extension of sewer service line; grading of streets and lanes to the new sub-division property; extension of mercury vapor street lights; purchase of two-way radio equipment for the police car.

Five new homes, one new apartment house and an addition to the Bentley hotel were among the main building projects of the year.

Secretary-treasurer Claude Sumners presented the financial statement, and numerous questions were asked and answered.

Among suggestions brought up by ratepayers on general discussion: some of the old culverts are going to need replacing this year (officials agreed); fire department could use to advantage a portable pump for use on flooded basements (this will be studied)

Some criticism was levelled at the east of garbage pickup, but village officials justified all expenses and expressed pride and satisfaction with the services they receive for money expended.

Mayor Calkins admitted that the village policemen called on "to do considerable police work in the county," the explained that efforts to obtain county financial assistance for this type of work had been unsuccessful to date.

A hearty vote of thanks for services were extended to the firemen, George Dawson, and his workers on the council — mayor Calkins, councillors R. H (Red) Gervies and T. Les Gray — and to the secretary-treasurer

Rockets-Rustlers Locked in Tight Tussle

Series All Even, 2-2

Lacombe Rockets are having difficulty corralling the hard-rushing Red Deer Rustlers in the best-of-seven league playoff series — now tied at two games each.

The Rustlers last night were skating like mad, checking like leeches and had a pillar of strength in goaltender Dale Stevenson, who frustrated Rocket sharpshooters with phenomenal saves This combination was good enough for a 6-3 win for the green shirts, which knotted the series and made the playoffs — a best-of-seven affair.

But the Rockets looked better than on Sunday than they have so far in this series. They were somewhat lucky to come out with a 6-3 overtime victory at Red Deer last Thursday Vince Down-ey's shot from the corner went in off the Rustler defense to give the Rockets the win in that one.

Here Saturday night, the locals were simply outplayed and out hustled as their timing and passing — which looked highly polished upon their return from Europe — was badly off.

Sunday, at Red Deer, the Rockets had to come from behind a 1-0 first period deficit to win. They potted three unanswered goals in the second stanza and made them stand up for the win-ning effort, which gave them a 2-1 series lead.

Here at Lacombe Tuesday Rockets once more left behind in the early going The hungry Rustlers potted two first period counters thru Reed and Bogan and for a time looked like they might skate the Rockets out of the rink

But the Rox — to come back at — secured to outscore the Rustlers 2-1 on goals by Ortu and Dunnigan Malley picked up Red Deer's assists.

In the third period, Lacombe outshot the Rustlers by a wide margin but couldn't get the range. Barylski moved for Red Deer mid-ice Summers left and the Rockets drove for the equalizer but one goal short.

Ice Chips: Neither team has so far been able to win at home in this series, in spite of the last night Rocket fans breathed easier because the team looks as though it might be coming back

Rockets' nine rookies appear at the first period in every game so far this has sent the defencemen up with the forwards on pressing plays and left Russ Clifton undefended at the other end which has cost goals.

Whether the Rockets are overawed at the rubber they used shooting practice they missed many of the corners which were wide open in last night's game When they did get the puck between the pipes, a piece of Gump or his equipment was there to guide the disc off target.

1,200 fans were on hand Tuesday A huge crowd is expected for Thursday night's game.

Snow Bad At Clive

CLIVE — Snow mixed but managed a couple of rinks to play here Monday night. Rink skipped by Mrs. Stanley Mineard on Friday.

Curlers were received from previous R. C. Manning and Lloyd Young. Page. The Ladies' auxiliary of the church people sent a beautiful array of flowers to aid the family. Friends so far away as Kingston, Ont., came to attend the "open house", as did many from all parts of surrounding town and village.

Flower Shipped

ACT received flowers were offered by Friday's storm, and repair men were busy all day Monday restoring the service. Some long distance lines were out of order. Storms of this type, in Sunday evening, February 28, the meetings will commence each evening at 8:00 p.m., the Sunday morning service at 11:00 a.m.

The mild weather of last week was appreciated but the nasty turns followed which sprang up on Friday afternoon was unwelcome. The day had been a pretty one with 32 degree temperature. It dropped rapidly, as snow clouds gathered.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Seward were Edmonton visitors on Wednesday and J. H. Hanvey took service for Seward churches while Mr. and Mrs. Seward were away.

Junior Baseball opened the week end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Seward.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mowery returned the blizzard to drive to Red Deer, where Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Mowery had prepared dinner in honor of Mrs. Mowery's birthday. Even a little forth weather on 30 was served and much enjoyed.

Many motorists were on the roads and highways when the storm reached here. No accidents have been reported, but all motorists agree that driving was hazardous and nerve-wracking.

Visit Family

On Saturday, Ralph Bell took a bus load of students to Edmonton to the variety theatre and visit. Students taking the trip were all who would qualify for membership. They report a very interesting and enjoyable trip.

Physical Fitness addicts were able to get plenty of fresh air exercise shovelling snow from sidewalks, driveways etc. Seems that most cubicle in season, with each breezy day, and must be cleared away. Won't it be nice to see black soil, and green grass again?

Mr. and Mrs. C. Kuhn from Lacombe were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. Kenworthy

Miss Gladys Hamilton and Terry Homer, university students from Calgary, are home to vacation and in Edmonton were storm-bound and were overnight guests at the Kenworthy home on Friday. A bowling party and pot-luck dinner the same night was a very welcome affair due to the sudden storm.

EDITORIAL

Progressive Education

THERE is a feeling among a certain segment of the population that vocational schools at Red Deer, Stettler and Drumheller, serve the needs of Lacombe county students well enough. Using this argument, they oppose plans vocational school at Lacombe as a duplication of services that will cost the taxpayer more money.

When they say that we should rely on vocational school facilities at other centres, what they are really saying is that they don't think vocational training is important enough to warrant building these facilities in the county. Pupils wanting these courses can be housed or travel by car to the next county.

They do believe (presumably) that capital costs are permissible to build classrooms for academic courses, and for a limited business and commercial program. At least we have heard no outcry to bus our students to outlying centres for this type of education.

This thinking reflects how public opinion is dragging behind the real needs of education today. National leaders are constantly exhorting the people to keep pace with the fast-moving world we are living in. Business is demanding skilled and technically-trained workers. More specialized training is required at the high school level.

Adult vocational training at night classes is assuming greater importance.

We must upgrade our thinking in tune with the times. A vocational school is only one component of an enlarged educational program. Because our senior governments appreciate the importance of vocational schools, they are willing to provide grants to help construct them in all parts of Canada.

This county meets the requirements in high school population to qualify for a vocational school. The establishment of the school here may yet be vetoed by the senior governments, but the plea shouldn't be scuttled on the local level.

Aside from the ideals of education, the practical considerations of trying to bus hordes of students to other vocational schools outside the county are vulnerable to attack.

Some of these considerations, briefly: there are no local construction costs for a vocational school just operating costs; the school does not offer watered-down vocational courses to non-academic students, but valuable training which can revive school interest in some students and reduce the percentage of high school drop-outs, contrary to recent statistics which show a rise; locations initially at both Red Deer and Stettler — and there may or may not be room in their classes for Lacombe county students in the years to come.

Should we abrogate our responsibilities in the field of education by counting on school facilities maintained by others? With sufficient student numbers in high school, shouldn't we permit the senior governments to build our own facilities? The answer is — only if we believe vocational schools serve a purpose.

Alberta Will Prosper

SPEECH from the throne read at last Thursday's opening of the legislature contained interesting news to help open up the north country. This is a plan to build a 300-mile railway in northwestern Alberta, and with the consequent development of known natural resources observers predict a doubling of population in the Peace River block alone within a few years.

People forget that more than half the area of the whole province lies north of the 55th parallel.

Charge It

USE of credit as a way of conducting personal business has reached the stage where "money in the pocket" will soon be unnecessary. Just carry a credit card and forget about cash.

In most stores where the customer is known and respected, a "charge it" method of buying is customary. It is easier for the customer to keep a record of his expenses with a single monthly cheque. It is satisfying to the merchant, who believes quite rightly that a potential buyer is more likely to purchase goods when he doesn't have to lay hard cash on the line.

The merchant does run the risk of carrying unpaid accounts, and these can quickly multiply into sizeable sums.

This has given rise to the finance company. If you're temporarily short of finances, borrow "under one roof" and pay off all those bills, as the slogan goes. While the interest rate may be greater, it's usually a short-term borrowing with no collateral required.

Many firms operate their own finance departments, through which a buyer may acquire merchandise on the instalment plan. Everything is tailored to the convenience of the customer. It's really too easy to buy — purposely so, to encourage more business.

Whatever happened to those old "pay-as-you-go" days?

Relax In Vietnam

VALUE of the tourist dollar is appreciated by all nations, and the revenue is important to a country's economy as people have more money and more leisure time to spend on vacations.

It was amusing to note that last week South Vietnam is trying to boost its sunken tourist trade. "Come to Vietnam" slashes the travel advertisement, "for your next vacation . . . something different."

Vietnam is in the news, but hardly for its tourist attractions.

The name conjures guns and artillery fire in a guerilla war hotspot rather than swimming beaches and gay fun in a vacation land.

Cuba found out how an outbreak of hostilities can affect tourist traffic. It still hasn't recovered its position as a holiday resort, years after the end of the conflict. Soldiers and night clubs don't mix any better than drinking and driving.

". . . Something different." We'll bet!

Reflections of the Times . .

What Made Sammy Run?

He was the boy wonder of public relations, and now he is dead.

Sam Rodney Jr., a native of Brownsville, Pa., went to New York when he was not yet in his teens. He became a part-time public relations man for the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel at 14.

Two years later, Rodney, still in high school, opened his own public relations office and began earning upward of $200 a week.

Shortly before he graduated from high school, he hired a jewelry firm, a furrier, an opera singer and a hotel in Cuba among his clients.

While still only 16, he joined the public relations firm of Dan Sherman and Associates and remained there for five years before becoming a feature writer on the Steve Allen television show. In his spare time he wrote and produced the television show Anything Goes.

Tiring of both jobs, he again opened his own public relations firm and was self-employed until rejoining the Sherman firm a few months ago.

Last month, the day before his 30th birthday, Sam Rodney Jr. died of a hemorrhaging ulcer.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

Final plans for Wetaskiwin's new vocational school are now being processed by the federal and provincial governments.

Cost of the building and equipment will be about $1,382,000, which will be shared by the federal and provincial governments.

The school board recently announced that an additional $200,000 will be required when the vocational extension is completed. This additional sum is for changes that affect the academic part of the school as well as the vocational. About 75% of this will be paid by the provincial government.

GREEN ACRES

By Walter McNary District Agriculturist

Seed Supplies

Alberta department of agriculture officials are strongly advising farmers who are going to need seed oats or barley this spring to place their orders as soon as possible.

If seed supplies are not located early, many farmers may not be able to get good seed because of the shortage which exists in many areas of the province this year.

If you have 1963 grain available for seed you are advised to use this rather than your 1964 grain. Taking a germination test is certainly worthwhile. Take a sample to your elevator agent who will forward it for a reliable test.

Sugar Per Loss

Cattle loss do not present problems only during the winter. After studying the fluctuations of loss populations on cattle over a three to four period, Dr. W. O. Haude of the Lethbridge research station has found that cows animals are more suscept ible to loss than others. They may suffer from a peak live population anytime.

Dr Haude also found that some animals in the herd act as carriers of loss They may not suffer from them but act as a source of infection for the rest of the herd. Therefore he suggests the herd should be sprayed twice a year for lice — in the spring to clean up the loss population on the carriers and again in the fall to prevent a build-up of lice during the coldest winter weather

Late are not usually a problem on well housed, well fed cattle says Dr Haude Cattle suffer most from loss when there are extreme fluctuations in the weather, and when they are poorly fed. Loss have a general debilitating effect not noticeable from outward appearances. They lower the animals resistance to disease and cold weather

Dr. Haude says that the very susceptible animals have no natural resistance to loss the less populations under control. Therefore they may suffer from a sudden increase in loss anytime The build-up of loss is followed by storms. In two or three weeks the surviving symptoms appear, paleness around the eyes, etc., and a sudden drop in body weight If the animal is not treated for lice during the critical period it will probably die from anemia, a condition of low oxygen level in the blood.

Hog Marketing Prospects May Improve With Price

...ing 1964 Canadian hog pro... will be above the national ... port price of $22.65, according to Alberta's agricultural statistician E. F. Reinelt.

Mr. England reports that lower farrowing numbers than those anticipated in both Canada and the United States are mainly responsible for improved hog prices. The upward trend of Canada's hog population levelled off unexpectedly last fall due to lower farrowings will be about the same as it was one year ago.

A drop in the barley hog ratio and relatively good wheat prices... Mr. England, were probably partly responsible for the early in Canada's hog production. Recent reductions in the price of wheat could tend to bring about a lower ratio in 1965.

The Canada department of agriculture estimates that national hog marketings will increase three per cent during the first half of 1965 and nine per cent during the remaining six months.

According to Mr. England, roughly half of last year's five per cent increase in pork consumption may be attributed to higher per capita consumption and the other half to population growth. At the rate if only two per cent more hogs are marketed in 1965 to harvest the additional pork will be consumed without an increase in per capita consumption.

Mr. England reports that the United States department of agriculture estimates that their fall pig crop was down eight per cent from a year earlier. December to May farrowings are also expected to be down seven per cent. Slaughterings are likely to be further reduced since a rise in hog prices will result in more gilts being kept for breeding.

According to the "Washington Farm Letter", a decrease in the per capita supply of pork in the United States will increase the price of hogs by $1.00 to $1.50 liveweight by April 1.

World Day Of Prayer March 5

World day of prayer services for 1965 will be held on the St. Cyprian's Anglican church on Friday, March 5 at 2:00 p.m. The services of prayer and concentrated love as the world theme this year "What doth the Lord require?"

Members of the various congregations in Lacombe are taking part in the service and an invitation is extended to all to attend.

The world day of prayer service this year was written by Mrs. Jessie Du McNeil, a gifted and distinguished Negro woman, wife of Rev. Dr. Jesse Du Barnett McNeil, minister of Metropolitan Baptist church at Pasadena, California.

Her selection of the theme "What doth the Lord require of thee?" is most timely in view of the international and inter-racial tensions in the world today.

Senior Citizens in Alix Area Hear 4-H Speaking Competition

(Reporter, Betty Cantleman)

March meeting of Best East Lacombe 4-H beef club was held in the Alix school auditorium on Friday, February 26, at 8:00 p.m. Twelve members answered questions from their project books for the roll call.

Three group members were: first year, Roger Martin; second year, Robert Glenn (absent); third year, Susan Elliott.

A letter was read by the secretary, Susan Elliott, to remind the members of the demonstration night at the Lacombe Pavilion on Friday, March 19.

The president, Elaine Nielsen, gave a warm welcome to the senior citizens who were special guests for the evening; also to the sponsors who took the time out to come and see their 4-H members speak.

The judges for the evening were Mr Dew, Don Wright, and Rod Glenn, all of Lacombe, and A. Macleod of Clive. Winners of the speaking contest were:

1. Elaine Nielsen, "Water conservation"; 2. Betty Cantleman, "The school drop-out"; 3. (tied) Susan Elliott "Lawrence of Arabia", and Bruce Loughridge, "Dinosaurs"

Roger Martue and Betty Cantleman, curling "chips," gave a short report on the Bentley 4-H banspiel during the month.

After the business meeting, Betty Cantleman entertained the audience by leading a sing song.

After a delicious lunch was served in the basement of the Alix school auditorium by the mothers of the 4-H members present, the meeting was adjourned.

Puckster Cherishes Days As Cub, Boy Scout

"I cherish my days as a cub and scout", declared Ed Ramstad, at a father-and-son banquet held in the LMC on Tuesday night of last week

Over 200 cubs and scouts with their dads attended the social evening, which included a number of toasts and a presentation of award pins to deserving boys Ladies volunteered to serve the chicken pot supper, and they were thanked most fittingly for their efforts by club Marker, Karlick

Mr Zemrau, an all-star defence man with the Lacombe Rockets athletic director at the university of Alberta in Edmonton. He was introduced by Bill Douglas and thanked by cubmaster Al Wenzel.

As well as giving a short talk Ed showed a number of interesting slides taken on the Rockets hockey trip overseas last December and January.

Good Program

The flag break on stage was preceded by cubs Walter Lakeley and Bruce Bredrych, and scout Ken Friesen Toastmaster for the evening was Jack McConnell, chairman of the local group committee.

John Othime gave the invocation and Bruce Bever read Don Bairtram proposed the toast to the Queen

Cecil Pelletier introduced the leaders Monday cubmaster Mrs B. H. Thackeray, and assistant David Buttner, Wednesday cubmaster Al Walunkha and assistant Clem Bray, scoutmaster Darrel Rodger, and assistant Brick Thackeray and Don Bairtram.

Scout Gordon Johnston proposed the toast to the fathers. Cubs and scouts appreciate the interest and help of fathers in teaching the concepts of good living, obedience and reliance, he said.

Harold Johnson made the reply, saying that fathers were proud of their sons and of the associations they represent in Lacombe

Scout Bob Bluthart proposed a toast to Scouting. He stated that on all activities of scouts, members learn to work together and separately "and have fun doing it" in the spirit of the founder, Lord Baden-Powell.

Ray Edwards, president of the Diamond Willow district, replied in kind, quoting from the founder of Scouts.

A closing prayer was rendered by scout Ken Friesen.

All the boys were then guests of the Lacombe Rockets at the hockey playoff game vs Johns Jordans, but their chaers were not enough to stop Red Deer from winning 4-3

Lots of Snow

Another snowy week end and this time it is really piling up. All we can say is that those folks who were worried about dry dug outs last fall can now start to plan how to keep them from becoming mush outs this spring.

We hope to hear that J. McNally's infant son, who after examination in Lacombe was taken to Edmonton for surgery, is progressing nicely.

Little Accidents

Efforts of the volunteer fire men and the Mirror fire fighting equipment and men kept the fire from spreading to trailers, sheds, wash house and close-by homes.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Algis Ramsey on the birth of twins, a son and a daughter in the Lacombe hospital last week.

Congratulations to Miss Judy Gabert who graduated from the Rayes secretarial college in Red Deer last week end, and was one of eight from a class of forty to obtain immediate employment. We are glad to know that another of our young people is establishing herself.

Hall Tissue Issues

A well attended PTA meeting on Wednesday, Feb 24, witnessed presentation of awards to students who earned them in the 1963-64 term.

All enjoyed the remarking of the panel of pioneer settlers: Mrs. Rouse Sr., Mrs. Myrtle McDermand, Mrs. Molly (Race) Nielsen, R. D. Nielsen, Clark Walker, Tom Ralston and H. M. Parlby.

These panelists recalled Bullockville, a little town east of the present Larkins farm, homesteaded shacks with sod roofs, a former justice of the peace, Billy Grey and wet and dry years. Big Pete and Little Pete etc. The bygone days became very colorful and interesting.

Hockey Year

Thanks to Mrs. Doreen Brown and Mrs Wiewe, the Girl Guides were able to accept the invitation of the Lacombe Guide troop to join them in a toboggan party at the Juniper Lodge recreation ground on Friday evening.

The eight girls enjoyed the party, refreshments, and special evenings which also provided an opportunity to renew acquaintances with Mr and Mrs M Coates and Patsy.

The H. Parlbys had spectacular guests — 20 deer — last Sunday afternoon. One large buck with beautiful antlers, and 19 others of varying sizes managed to find food around the Parlby house where earlier in the winter they'd cleaned off the garden and flower beds.

Some of the deer have been seeking peaces around the Parlby's cattle feeding grounds.

The radio have-forum group met at the Lee Richardson home on February 22 and gathered for a final meeting at the Dan Loughridge home on March 1 when "The part of the church in the community" was the topic. The local group have found these forums interesting, worthwhile periods and sincerely regret the fact that due to lack of apparent interest it is being taken off the air.

Dinner at Elkes

FUA invite all interested persons to hear Andy Silver's account of his trip at delegate to China and see his slides at the UFA hall on Friday evening, March 3 at 8:00 p.m. This interesting topic has been arranged by Owen McDonald. Refreshments will be served by the FUFUA

Irvine Peterson, who as result of amount of his sale of fertilizer was awarded an all-expense paid trip to Chicago is home and states that he left here during the Feb 20 storm, and travelled to Chicago on the storm. It snowed and blew all the time he was there and found when he got home that another snow storm was on hand. How unlucky can one be".

Diamond Elsenhower

Junior and senior high school students assembled in the auditorium on Friday afternoon to hear the United Nations public speaking contestants. Wanda Rettenfuner, Elaine Nelson and Betty-Jo Harnett in their preliminary contest. The latter two were chosen to compete in the semi-finals on Monday evening.

During the interval in which judges were conferring, on behalf of the Dr. Irene Parlby chapter of the IODE regent Mrs E. Holsworth and educational secretary Mrs. D Hayes presented framed portures of the Queen and Prince Philip to grade eight and grade nine classrooms. Denise Smith and Wendy Lyle accepted for grade eight and Gloria Loughridge and Angela Schnapf for grade nine. Gloria in a few well-chosen words thanked the ladies and the IODE for the pictures and interest in the student body.

The Workshop Plebiscite

VOTERS in Lacombe are being called by town council to give their approval next week to a by-law to borrow $35,000 to build a new parks works building.

Chairman of this committee, Ald. Dave Strategy urges everyone to get out and vote for the by-law. He pointed out at the committee meeting that the town has needed suitable facilities of this kind for some years to store machinery and provide shelter for necessary repairs.

The present [illegible] has failed to meet the requirement and is [illegible] which is costly in both time and manpower. The equipment is bound to weather and deteriorate. Or choose ' Or jam or marmalade?

Lacombe [illegible] and this is very important when it comes to the development of [illegible] industry.

People don't seem to have too much to say about the coming postscript, which probably remains more or less much opposition. About the only complaint which has been voiced by anybody is that the proposed new workshop is too expensive. A large structure is necessary to house the units, however, and the estimated cost per square foot is about as low as it can be by today's standards.

The plebiscite will be held at the [illegible] on next Monday, Thursday, March 14, from 10.00 a.m. to 7.00 p.m. Do your part by casting a hasty "Yes" for by-law

An Indoor Picnic

THE [illegible] took a [illegible] turn with a fair [illegible] of students. It is a part of growing up which rivals in importance the education taught in classrooms. It provides lessons which are learned over the noon hour when a meal is eaten efficiently in peace.

Lunch is usually consumed by students under supervision in classrooms, hallways, canteens, or in larger accommodations like auditoriums.

Some of the greatest moments of pleasure for girls and boys connected with them comes their [illegible] on the food boxes. What kind of sandwiches are there today? Left-overs from the table, like cold meats? Or something out of the can like fish ? Or hard-boiled egg

Forest Fire Losses

LIBERTANS don't usually consider their province's forest reserves an important natural resource, but a study of forest fire losses in 1964 show just how widespread our lumber stands are.

Fire suppression costs amounted to nearly half a million dollars last year for 355 fires which claimed over 19,000 acres. This was the third largest loss on record. Usually chiefly to a combination of timely rains, cool, moist nights and few or hot, dry winds.

Lightning is the chief cause of forest fires, accounting for 43 to 47 per cent of fires in recent years.

Alberta's two largest fires in 1964 were in the Lac la Biche forest. Clearwater - Rocky Mountain House range, more familiar to residents in this area, reported 21 fires but a loss of only 40 acres.

The worst year in Alberta's history was 1948, when 1½ million acres of valuable timber burned down.

Reflections of the Times . .

We Are Not Magicians

We are not suggestions.

That may not be an earth-shaking statement. You probably didn't think we were agreeing.

But we get that feeling sometimes when something happens, such as an important anniversary for someone or some organization, or an interesting or humorous incident occurs in a section of the community, or when someone — particularly one of our young people — achieves something or gets either here or abroad, or when someone catches a big fish or grows a big tomato . . . and weeks later, we learn about it. Trouble is when we do learn about it, we are usually greeted with phrases "Oh . . . I thought you'd know all about it."

That's where we think people sometimes thank we are suggestions.

It is no help to us, and little comfort to you, if you stop one of us on the street and say "I thought you might have had something in the paper about our anniversary last month", or "How come you didn't have a picture of that big fish Joe Dunken got couple of weeks ago?" or "Funny none about Bill Blank's bull . . . guess you don't like him or you'd have had the story about his promotion in the paper"

We probably would have had it . . . had we been told at the time. It is our job to report these things, whether pro bibo somebody or not as a human frailty we like to keep as deeply submerged as possible. While this newspaper is made up of individuals, it strives to operate in a non-individual manner. We may disagree with you or anyone on one subject, but if we find common ground to co-operate on another basis we are ready to do so.

Individual likes and dislikes have no place in the paper we strive to produce each week.

We do have regular news sources — council meetings, police reports, civic organization meetings, fire and accident reports, and so on harassed by chronic shortage of staff and the fact that there are still only 24 hours in a day, our job is made much easier by a regular list-

LIGHTS FOR WAINWRIGHT

Representatives from Calgary Power Limited meet town council recently and outlined a progressive plan of street lighting, which, if implemented would see Mr. Knit [illegible] from its present annual figure of around $7,713.60 to nearly three times that figure by 1965. This would bring the per capita cost up from its present $2.10 to $5.85 (based on a population of 3,700) (This figure would be reduced as the population grew).

The proposed program was a step-by-step affair with increases in the number of mercury vapor lamps each year While council was interested in improving the lighting, it felt that the plan was a bit too elaborate The whole matter was referred to committee.

Last Call for Trees

Farmers who may have to plant tough or dumpy grass should have it tested for germination this spring

A 10 Wilson Alberta's field crops commissioner says, that very little reliance should be placed on fall germination tests. A wheat test of creditable results of over 10 per cent or coarse grasses such as crested dogtail or timothy of 18.5 per cent. Only tests carried out in February or March are likely to give a true picture of the seed quality.

When wheat shows heavy frost damage which is indicated by severe blistering of the leaf sheaths, or in the case of obvious immaturity as indicated by a brassy appearance of the grain germination can be expected to drop considerably during the winter months. If such seed stocks are being considered for pasture seeding, they should be tested in the spring.

Alberta Agriculture will conduct seed testing for farmers in March for germination.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Sir:

Winter '64-65! How many times in the past months have you heard someone say, "Hasn't this been a terrible winter". What has made it seem this way to those people? Is it the lack of sun, the cold temperatures or all the [illegible]?

True, we have had a much heavier snowfall this season than for many years. Now on the other hand if you have the opportunity to talk to someone who has taken up the sport of skiing ask this person, be it man, woman or child how they like the winter They will come forth with a big smile and tell you how much they have enjoyed it

The interest in skiing is expanding by leaps and bounds even here in the central parkland of Alberta. Perhaps there are a number of readers in this area who are unaware there is good skiing available practically in our own back yards so to speak.

However the season is fast drawing to a close, so if you feel you would like to enjoy the sport whether it be as a spectator or otherwise you are cordially invited to pay a visit to the ski hill in the Bentley area.

The rates are reasonable, the atmosphere friendly The slopes offer good skiing for the professional, the pleasure or the novice alike. The quaint log cabin offers warmth and a hearty welcome for your convenience

The hill is located on highway No. 51, 8½ miles west of Bentley and is in operation three days a week, Wednesday and Saturday afternoons from 1:00 o'clock until 5:00 and each Sunday from 11:00 o'clock until dusk, weather permitting

This is not a private membership venture. All facilities are owned and operated by the ski club to provide the best skiing to as many skiers as possible at a price that is within reach of everyone operating capital.

Anyone holding a current season's membership card has equal votes in all club policies, development, and participation in club activities. It is hoped to hold a meeting early in March. For further information drop in at Phone 743-3911, Bentley. Good skiing!

School Building Plans Explained by Chairman

Report of the education committee was given by chairman Art Wigmore of Blindbide at the annual county meeting on March 5.

The past year probably appeared to the ratepayer as being rather uneventful on so far as the educational picture in the county is concerned But doubt many of you will be happy to note that there was a surplus at the close of the year's operation [illegible] was the school [illegible] term done in the county and you and this at a matter of concern for some who are acutely aware of a growing need due to overcrowding and the lack of proper facilities in certain schools More over, had our original plans not [illegible] new construction at Mirror and Alix last year.

Unfortunately certain difficulties arose as in the amount of depreciation the school buildings should stand alone, as was the [illegible] at Bentley. The formula was finally resolved on further submission and we received an acceptable proposal agreed to.

Big Program Planned

Our plan now is to instal an elementary-junior high school with a gymnasium at Mirror to replace the old buildings there, a new high school with gymnasium at Alix to accommodate high school students from Bluffton, Elnora and Haynes, as well as from Alix We also plan to build a gymnasium at Clive. Due to the rapid increase in enrollment at Blackfalds it is necessary to add two more classrooms and a gymnasium there also.

This may sound like an ambitious program but it must be remembered that some of the buildings mentioned have a gymnasium at present, although they are considered to be necessary for any school with ten or [illegible]

Perhaps we should say a few words at this time in explanation of the committee's thinking with regard to the program so far outlined. As many are aware, it is becoming increasingly difficult to satisfactorily teach the present high school curriculum in a small school. There are several reasons for this, the two principal ones being:

1. Each teacher is no longer trained to teach in all high school subjects Instead they specialize in one or two subjects, i.e Mathematics, English Social Studies, etc Therefore we should have at least three or more teachers to cover all the subjects in a high school grade.

2. Changes and progress in educational methods plus technological change in the sources make continual study by the teacher a necessity Only a "specialist" teacher can keep up to date

Small [illegible] are [illegible] and lack vitality. The preparation our students receive now will have a [illegible] effect in their adult years, [illegible] [illegible] Eltorn years from now.

It would appear that Alberta may be on the verge of a period of rapid industrial expansion that [illegible] demand for [illegible] workmen in many trades, but a good high school education in an academic course will open up numerous patterns a new essential is provided. Blood Donor Clinic

THERE will be another blood donors clinic sponsored by the Lacombe Kinsmen in the Lacombe Memorial Centre, this week, like first one it is mainly a year. Let us hope that the trend to panic conditioned them was established. Perhaps there will be little use in holding a clinic at all.

In 1964, there were 339 donors from the district. Since then the population has decreased somewhat to 330 in 1965, 344 in 1966, 320 in 1967, 309 in 1968, and 153 in the first half of 1969. The total has picked up a bit in May of 1964 to 171, but it's still a poor showing for a large town and district like ours.

The need for blood in hospitals is well recognized, and Red Cross efforts to fill the demand can only be met by volunteering who are willing to give their blood at these clinics.

In an effort to stir the public, the Kinsmen have arranged free transportation to the clinic in the afternoon. They will provide free baby-sitting service. They even offer a "sniffer" on the heels of complaints and coffee and doughnuts afterwards.

The Kinsmen have issued a challenge to other service clubs, with the reward receiving a trophy for the largest proportion of membership in attendance.

This should be enough to start local citizens out on the rebuilding need to success. Do your part by giving blood at the clinic on May 20, either in the afternoon or evening.

Bid To Bankruptcy

IT SEEMS to us doubtful that the present system of Canada's health services, Mary Lady Labarchi, is going to last much longer in its present form of operation very much.

Yet there continues to be loud and virulent protest from a lot of responsible citizens over whether Canada can afford such an expensive program. The country is moving forward steadily today in medical care, but the price we're paying is getting to be pretty high.

And there are those, we'd like to see a political party with the courage to say they're going to put the brakes on welfare spending. They could win votes, let the people decide after a few of their own families for a change and perhaps even balance the budget like the corporations of good business do.

And do you know what? We think the majority of people would be amazingly enough in favor of such a program at the moment.

Reflections of the Times . .

Credit to Town Planning

On Thursday of last week the annual edition of the Hall Commission Report on Health Services was released, adding another spoke to the Welfare State wheel the Socialists claim which we more fought against. It also comes on the heels of the possible break-up of the National Health program in England.

All of these recommendations and wonderful, but upon taking off the rose colored glasses we come back up against the problem of financing so this plan will include everything from psychiatric treatment to a badly inflamed hang nail.

The Commission and the economists can afford this big system and government can do it but those private insurance companies can't—don't for get that government has had a number of years already of distinct marketing with the welfare we already have). The first report said they were concerned that Canadians would willingly pay the higher taxes required when they see what they will be getting for their money. Perhaps they would if they knew how much this new system would cost at the top of Lac Ste. Anne.

The Commission also stated that the annual cost for our present health system, "with all its limitations and inadequacies" will be $4,814,000,000 or $178 for every man, woman and child in Canada.

From the ridiculous to the absurd is the Progressive-Conservative party suggestion that the present $75 a month pensions at age 70 be raised to $100 at age 68.

Now there's a vote-catching idea for you! Who wants to live on $100 a month at age 68? That really ought to bring the people out to the polls!

And then there, we'd like to see a political party with the courage to say they're going to put the brakes on welfare spending. They could win votes, let the people decide after a few of their own families for a change and perhaps even balance the budget like the corporations of good business do.

And do you know what? We think the majority of people would be amazingly enough in favor of such a program at the moment.

Reflections of the Times . .

Credit to Town Planning

On Thursday of last week the annual edition of the Hall Commission Report on Health Services was released, adding another spoke to the Welfare State wheel the Socialists claim which we more fought against. It also comes on the heels of the possible break-up of the National Health program in England.

All of these recommendations and wonderful, but upon taking off the rose colored glasses we come back up against the problem of financing so this plan will include everything from psychiatric treatment to a badly inflamed hang nail.

The Commission and the economists can afford this big system and government can do it but those private insurance companies can't—don't for get that government has had a number of years already of distinct marketing with the welfare we already have). The first report said they were concerned that Canadians would willingly pay the higher taxes required when they see what they will be getting for their money. Perhaps they would if they knew how much this new system would cost at the top of Lac Ste. Anne.

The Commission also stated that the annual cost for our present health system, "with all its limitations and inadequacies" will be $4,814,000,000 or $178 for every man, woman and child in Canada.

GREEN ACRES

By Walter McNary Retired Agriculturist

How 4-H Crop Clubs

There a a strong possibility of two new 4-H grain clubs being organized in the district in this very near future. One of these may be in the Woody Knob district and the other in the Fairview district.

Boys and girls between 12 and 20 living on a farm or with city parents in their place will be eligible to join a grain club in order for a club to be organized there must be at least 12 members.

First year members who are 12 and 13 years of age, and also older members if they wish have a varietal red rust plot. This is a plot which has one row each of seeds of all the grains now in use. The member is responsible to keep his plot in a reasonably good condition free from weeds and rust. At achievement day, the committee collects a pamphlet from which contains the records and percentage of crop specimens.

Other members in the club may carry a similar-to-these plot from pedigreed seed of any recommended variety. The plot must have an extension only around it, be roughed and maintained in good grain. This is how keep records on the growth of their plot and prepare a one inch sample of grain for exhibition. Interested youngsters in the district can get in touch with their 4-H representative.

At the present time crop clubs are operating at Clive and Spring Valley. Any boy or girl wishing to form a club may get in touch with the agricultural representative.

Stanley Bowl Show Winners

Winners at the Stanley seed potatoes with the Stanley seed potato growing variety were as follows: Barnyard F. ? Major Stanley 2. Dakota Rose Burbank 3. French Knight Stanley Unit 4. Long Johnstone Rose Say. 5. Just Fresh. Stanley

Although the number of entries was limited a one felt that this may increase in following years and was a worthwhile of interest.

Spring Thaw—The Lakes

With the spring season at the Olds agricultural and vocational college commencing on March 31 the last call is going out to young people interested in an agricultural course.

Further information is to the spring session for any students and particularly for those who are engrossed with regard to education or farm background.

Advantages of the spring session include small classes and plenty of individual attention, field trips to outstanding farms, to experimental farms and agribusinesses, outdoor classes for better demonstrations, outdoor swine-carcass activities, operation of swine-carcass breeds, a favorable balance of young men and young women.

Interested young people or parents should visit or phone their agricultural extension office in Olds or phone direct to the principal, agricultural and vocational college, Olds, without delay.

Two plays will be presented by Red Deer Amateur Society Members Hosier, Dalborne and Lacombe.

Hosier of entertainers and organizers is Lacombe's another Hal Coates. He states the plays vary in length from 20 to 60 minutes. Date of appearance of the play are:

Friday

Local Couple Nearly Suffocate

Mr and Mrs Hugh Rowland, who recently moved to town in retirement from the Bluffers district, had a narrow brush with death last week when they nearly suffocated in their home from a faulty gas furnace and crumbling chimney.

Mrs Rowland reports that she and her husband "didn't feel well last Wednesday and that they still didn't support any thing on Thursday, although they sat around the house mostly all day sleeping and feeling drowsy.

"Then cars were ringing Thursday evening. "I still don't know what made me wake up during the night," (Thursday) Mrs. Rowland today, "but I threw the windows open wide and thank goodness they came 1 and up."

A gas official condemned both the furnace and the chimney during an inspection Friday morning. The furnace was leaking fumes and bricks were crumbling in the chimney causing a backup

Mr and Mrs Rowland moved out of town to recuperate for a few days, with their son Jack at Elnboro and with the Fred Strathcona family at Innisfail. "The doctor said my lungs were inflamed from the gas" said Mrs. Rowland

They moved back to 5321 52 avenue in Lacombe yesterday (former of the drowing, Bob Belding, has installed a new heavy and new chimney

Orders Still Taken For Centennial Crab

Lacombe is going to be the commercial fishery centre of all districts of the Legion has surprised, to say about it, but some orders from local citizens are essential to make the hope possible.

Past-president Ron Moore told The Globe this week that 120 applications have been received for the ruspicious flowering crab, officially adopted as Canada's centennial tree.

There are three different varieties of this White Blossom Flowering Crab Tree available at a nominal price. They will be delivered at the recommended planting time this spring.

The Legion committee of chairman Moore along with president Ron Nemley and Norman Morrison, is responsible for the sale of trees in this area. More applications are welcome, either from the town or district.

The price is nominal. Every centennial tree planted will help beautify Lacombe and district. Planting this year will commemorate the founding in 1867, the nation's 100th birthday.

Erection of Chapel Rests with Government

Fate of a "chapel-by-the-highway" which the members of Christ Reformed church of central Lacombe wish to build alongside the No. 2 divided highway three miles north of Lacombe rests with the provincial department of highways.

Site chosen for the prospective chapel is about 300 feet off the highway in the Rocky Lacombe area, about 300 feet off Junction Lodge, about 300 feet off the highway. It is the property of Agriculture from the highway that is causing concern, since the government has requested a zone of 660 feet from the centre of the road.

A committee headed by chairman Elmer Hendriksma of Lacombe visited the department of highways in Edmonton recently to state its case. Delegation are still awaiting reply from Hon. Gordon Taylor.

Working on committee with Mr. Hendriksma is Jacob Hoogeveen, Bill Kerver, Clarence Braamhorst and John Stolk.

Christian Reformed churches from Red Deer and Bentley Mountain House are co-sponsoring the two churches from Lacombe on the chapel project.

The chapel will be non-denominational to the extent that it will be open to all persons, but the four Christian Reformed churches are combining to build the 27,000 structure. It will be about 14 x 16, with a 36-foot ceiling and a colored all-glass front.

It will allow travellers to stop in and rest. They can listen to sermons and prayers on a special tape recording machine. Tourists can pick up bibled literature

A question box would be left. Qualified persons would try to help answer any questions or problems later.

The chapel would be owned on property owned by Harvard Steele, probably through a long-term lease. County of Lacombe has already given its approval, and if permission is granted by the provincial government, the chapel will be built and in operation before this summer.

If the government refuses the application, Mr Hendriksma said plans though might be given to building a chapel within the boundaries of a town or village (like Dull Lake) where provincial government regulations do not apply.

Life Memberships To Be Presented to Former Councillors

Town and district residents are reminded to attend the annual board of trade meeting commencing at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Lacombe memorial centre.

Honorary life memberships will be presented to two former town councillors, Wilf Hunt and Bob Miller, and to two former county councillors, Mrs Ross Hodgson and Chuck Parsons of Tees.

Guest speaker will be Peter Dueck, one of the junior college in Red Deer.

Man Injured in Highway Mishap East of Lacombe

Edwin John Mellish of Red Deer was taken to Lacombe hospital with a bruised hip and other injuries, following a two-car collision about one mile east of town on the No. 12 highway last Friday night at 10:00 o'clock.

Police reported G. D. Herring-ton of Lacombe was travelling west on the highway in a 1964 Oldsmobile when it was struck from the rear by Mr. Mellish's 1961 Volkswagen. Mr Herring-ton was unhurt.

Both vehicles left the highway and were thrown into the ditch. Mr Mellish was released at the Lacombe county on completion of their course

Mr Cohe said the county now has 12 bursary students on all, four of whom will teach in 1965-66, six of whom are in their university year, and three in the second university year.

Young School Student Wins Award For Entry

Bonnar Henderson, a grade six student at Lacombe school who chooses "the fast way to get" each year in his first section commercial attempt. He quite the many odds in Lacombe and elsewhere, Craig Shaw, who helped the winning entry for his in the son of Mr and Mrs Bill Henderson.

Bonnar drew the best design for the Parkland regional library which held a recent contest open to all students in the four participating districts of Penhold, Innisfail Red Deer and Lacombe.

Receiving books as runners up in the contest were Ralph Shelmore, grade 12, Lacombe; Keith Fox, grade eight, Dalhousie; Larry Lemoyne, grade 10, Delburne, and Lorraine Lemoyne, grade 10, Lacombe. Honorable mention went to Karen Hermen, grade four Bentley.

Three Teachers Resign From County Staff

First teacher resignations from staff in Lacombe county were announced this month by superintendent Ted Giles at the regular meeting of the education committee.

Three resignations were accepted by committee members effective June 30, from Mrs. I. Mosher of Blackfalds 34 Travelling at Alix, and Miss A. Spencer of Lacombe.

There is a usual turnover of about 25 on staff each year, Mr Giles said.

He also announced the hiring of seven new teachers: R. Janke, A. R. Kaldell Miss J. Pfeiffer-Jones, Mrs. M. Thompson who was on staff at Lacombe a few years ago, Mrs. D. Simpson, G. Miller and Miss C. Wade.

The last three are nursery students attending university who have agreed to teach in the Lacombe county on completion of their course

Budget $28,000

Lacombe agricultural service board has drawn up a budget of $27,305 for operations this year, nearly half of which will be recoverable under provincial and federal government grant programs.

Estimates were completed at the March meeting by the five-man board comprising Albert Wagner of Clive, L. P Dinter of Joffre, Art Wigmore of Blackfalds and Ross Sloss of Belvelle representing the county, and district agriculturist Walter McNary representing the department of agriculture. Field supervisor Jim Robertson serves as officio.

The budget is almost identical with last year It is about $5,000 over the 1964 figure

Cattle Population Up

Biggest anticipated expenditure is $5,000 for vaccination of calves against brucellosis. Approximately 20 captains are situated throughout the area to help supervise, about one man per township.

Mosquito control increased in 1964 than in any previous year since the compulsory program came into effect about 10 years ago.

There were 10,000 calves vaccinated in 1964. Five years ago, the figure was 5,000. In 1955, it was 2,700, and in 1957, 1,000. The increase reflects the bigger cattle population in the county of Lacombe

Use of Herbicides

Another $4,000 will be spent on herbicides for roads to farmers may be used against an emulsion. A highly concentrated form of 2,4-D is used for eradication.

The estimated fees and licenses cost of application for machinery and labor.

Also there are 1,200 lbs of forage seed available for seeding bush-shaped roadsides. This is available free of charge to farmers who make application.

Research Required

Another section in the budget applies to "special projects" in which the senior governments share approved costs

The total received is $4,200. [illegible] $1,000 [illegible] $1,000 [illegible] $1,000

A New Conservative Leader

NEWLY ELECTED leader of the Progressive-Conservative party in Alberta is Peter Lougheed a 36 year-old lawyer from Calgary, whose family name has been connected with politics for a generation.

Everyone must believe that their particular view is the right one and that the other fellow is wrong. Then the act is made to touch key accounts. Our Commentators and Columnists pass down.

By this time the handful of individuals started the whole thing for the ordinary reader that noticed of being a bunch of hooky-playing brats they are actually getting down to the business of a revolution.

Then it's all over.

We are not as cynical as to suggest that there are no real and serious problems. We simply suggest that a few of these crises are just paper tigers to be [illegible]

Choose a pattern for stretch fabrics with low seams. Each time a seam is used, the amount of stretch is lost.

Sewing Stretch Fabrics

After cutting out your pattern, mark all sewing lines and notches edges. Avoid pulling the fabric while stitching.

Use a synthetic or mercerized thread. If you have a machine with a choice of zig zag stitch, use this. If your machine only straight stitches, use the 10-15 stitches per inch.

Use a good seam finish as some stretch fabrics need a great deal.

If your pattern includes bust darts, place a small patch of interfacing inside to prevent stretching. Unless you are a stretch lining, do not use stretch fabrics.

Prepare By-Laws For New Schools

Education committee at a meeting yesterday recommended that the county of Lacombe advertise immediately two by-laws authorizing the borrowing of $713,000 for school construction at Alix, Mirror, Clive and Blackfalds.

County council is expected to give its approval to the by-laws at a meeting tomorrow, after which they can be advertised giving proprietary electors an opportunity to decide whether or not to request a vote.

Request for a vote must come from a minimum of five proprietary electors representing at least 20% of the school districts (there are 66 school districts in the county)

Most of the anticipated school construction expenditure of $713,000 will cost ratepayers nothing in local taxes.

The provincial government's school buildings branch has approved costs totalling $616,600, leaving only $96,600 in unapproved costs which must be borne by the county (an average of about one-third of a mill per year).

Half of the unapproved cost is for the normal depreciation on the old 4th school building at Mirror, calculated at 20/30's, or $46,561.

Balance of unapproved costs are for stage and showers connected with gymnasiums at Mirror, Clive and Blackfalds which the government feels are unnecessary for schools of this size

To make these facilities available at all schools in the county except Balmwood the county is writing to stand the expense itself

By-law No. 76 would authorize a borrowing of $600,000 to build an eight-room elementary and junior high school with auditorium at Mirror valued at $538,000 a centralized high school at Alix comprising six classrooms, science lab auditorium and library valued at $346,000 a gymnasium, stage and principal's office at Clive valued at $87,000 plus $27,000 for furniture and equipment at these points

By-law No. 77 would authorize a borrowing of $113,600 to build a two-room addition with gymnasium at Blackfalds, $108,000 of which would be for school construction and 39,000 for furniture and equipment.

Salespayers in towns and villages are considered proprietary electors, since they contribute taxes for school purposes.

High School Facilities Needed, States Superintendent Ted Giles

High school facilities at Lacombe were reviewed "most intelligently" by T. E. Giles, superintendent of schools for the county of Lacombe in an address to members of the Lacombe Lions club at the LMC banquet room Monday evening.

Mr. Giles dealt with the need for a vocational-composite high school at Lacombe, and deplored the fact that at present all high schools operating in the county are being forced to send all students to university

He noted that, statistically, only 15% of the county grade nine classes of 1956 entered university, and that there was a 40% dropout of students from grade nine to the final examinations in grade 12

Admitting that there as a similar trend throughout Alberta, he stressed that although the county's record was possibly no poorer than the average "it is certainly no better"

Referring to the present grade nine enrolment of 300 pupils, Mr. Giles pointed out that it is estimated that no more than 60 will continue on to university so that the present program will provide university entrance training to the vast bulk of the students who will not continue their studies at the university level.

On figures of past performance, "126 of these 300 students will not even try to write grade 12 exams," he said

While it is admitted that some of these pupils have not the ability there are many dropouts who do but their interest is in other fields."

Mr. Giles stated that the Lacombe high school cannot today be considered "a big high school" To bring facilities up to standard at Lacombe would require an expenditure of between $400,000 and $500,000, he estimated

Proposed School

He stated that the proposed new vocational composite high school in Lacombe would widen the scope of education available here "At the present time, we are offering less than one third of all courses available to high school students in Alberta."

The school superintendent then outlined all the improvements which a vocational composite high school at Lacombe would provide:

- Senior matriculation courses plus business vocational training in a four-year course.
- Senior matriculation plus industrial vocational training in a four-year course.
- The present standard senior matriculation course in three years.
- Business courses, to include managerial, secretarial, merchandising and other options.
- Drafting—a three-year program to meet entrance requirements into technical schools.
- Horticultural courses
- Electricity, automotives or building trades courses, all designed to tie in with apprentice programs and entrance to technical schools.

Mr. Giles declared in grave tones the need of not only new building and equipment but he stated that it could be at the neighborhood of $1,700,000

However he pointed out providing we can meet the necessary regulations and structural costs as set out by the senior department of education and I am convinced we can, all building costs would be met by the federal and provincial governments.

Operational costs of vocational training schools are generally greater than for the straight academic schools, Mr. Giles stated, but with additional grants now being paid by the department of education as far as I can determine the program will not add any additional tax to property of Lacombe residents."

Mr. Giles was introduced to the Lions club members by Eli Brake, town representative on the county school committee and was thanked by Bert Ford.

Town Council Studies New General Plan

Town council at a special meeting on Monday night received copies of the general plan of the town which has been three years in the making.

Albert Ed of Red Deer regional planning commission was present to clarify the contents which include maps, general information and recommendations under the general heading of:

Land use plan, thoroughfare plan, community facilities plan.

Much of the data was finished in committee, who have attended many special planning committee meetings during the past year.

Mayor Wes Jackson has promised a public meeting at a later date on the findings of this survey.

The Globe will publish some of the information in a series of feature articles in subsequent weeks.

Industrial Building Plans Completed; Call For Tenders

Tenders have been called for the construction of a one-story building to house the Lacombe medical centre which is varying in progress on 50 avenue next summer to make way for a new provincial building.

Proposed site for the medical centre is on 51 street.

At the time of the property sale last fall, government architect stated they hoped to start erection of the provincial building in August, 1965.

Whose Interests Come First?

WHEN FUA president Peter Hannay told a meeting in Edmonton at Sportsmen's last week that farmers must receive more profits, or the entire economy will be endangered at the same time that the Canadian farmer must do all he can to keep food at the cheapest possible level, he was speaking a truism.

C. F. Bentley, dean of agriculture at the university of Alberta, says the same thing and to make his reserved efforts to increase productivity and efficiency in agriculture. This means only when the recent great advances in farming techniques are considered, but results of statistical tests and Mr. Bentley's statement.

Still the world's population is near the starvation level. The population is increasing by the rate of about 2% per year, and this small percentage relates to annual increase figures of 60 million many more hungry mouths.

Canada's population is also increasing, and because Canada can supply foreign markets with farm products, the Canadian farmer must receive more profits. As Hannay says, he produces more and less fertile soil.

Science has helped in many ways to increase productivity on the farm, mechanization and fertilization, developing rust-resistant grain varieties, improving quality and livestock herds, etc.

Still more must be done along this line, and agricultural officials and scientists must be technical workers. It is also a great challenge to the farmer.

He can't be blamed for accepting his hand sometimes over the farming programs. On the one hand, he's urged to produce more and help a desperate world survey. This fact is real enough. On the other hand, he's fighting for his life to survive. The higher of higher costs but no greater revenue. That fact is real enough, too.

Mechanical Condition of Cars

IT was disappointing to hear Hon. Gordon Taylor state in the current issue of the Review that he does not know enough about the mechanical condition of motor vehicles operated on this province. He seems to feel that the number of traffic fatalities is a problem for the department of highways, and therefore any compulsory checks or test would be the other.

Mr Taylor seems to forget that the traffic toll concerns all of us, and that any government action that will help reduce it should be undertaken. The fact that 50% of accidents which are in doubt by coroners' juries are attributed to mechanical failure is significant but the true story usually is put down to "human error", and there is no question that in most instances the more accurate term is mechanical defect.

Statistics are available to prove that a number of old and decrepit cars are travelling the highways today in need of repair. Some even require major repairs to the extent of entailing the cost of a new car.

Still, he was always a heretic in character, and it is against his nature to remain in the background after so many years in the spotlight. He must do so, and in a positive disgrace at that.

It was said he "retired" because of ill health, but observers noted he looked fit and well last month at the polling station, apart from being pale.

Tears welled in his eyes when a crowd of about 50 cheered him on his arrival.

Maybe he can keep his spirits up by writing his memoirs like retired statesmen do in the cozy twilight world. The book would be banned in Russia, but it might gain wide readership in the west.

Khrushchev in Retirement

NIKITA Khrushchev came out of retirement into the public eye for the first time since he was ousted from office nearly six months ago. The occasion was an election in Moscow, and the official report said he had to show his identification card just like any ordinary citizen before he was allowed to vote. He and his wife are living on a small villa outside Moscow.

There is something a little pathetic in the man because of his enforced obscurity. There is no reason to feel sorry for him, because he was no great friend of the west when he occupied the No 1 office in the Soviet Union.

Reflections of the Times . .

Our United Representatives

One expects to hear platitudes from members of Parliament, and perhaps partisanship from the front benches.

But the statement in Hon Harry Hay's report from Parliament Hill this week takes the cake like cup. "Government in themselves are neither good nor evil. It is how the people use the power of government that is all important." We believe that just the reverse is true Rulers are ruthless good nor evil. They are a heterogeneous mass, a cross section of the thinking of a nation, and the whole all from the most spiritual and intellectual to the drunken bum in the gutter, those of high rank and low, the rich and the poor.

These people select from among their midst those who they believe to represent their views collective thinking through the rather inefficient system of the federal election (We ask them that if on the best means that man has ever devised)

We would say with a bunch of people in Ottawa who are, at the best, only reasonably representative of the people who have placed them in power These office-seekers as direct appointees for John G Diefen is further reduced by the subtleness of party structure, and the straight losing and broken channels of parliamentary procedure. That is further complicated by the wide diversity of the economic, living conditions and the economic problems of the various areas which comprise our great Dominion.

Finally the whole picture is badly confused by touch between parties and leaders, who seem to have a flair for spending so much time trying to buttress their own images and those used on their opponents so they do handling the business of the people they were elected to serve.

In the last analysis, parliament, which is the finest governmental institution man has yet devised, is ruthless remote from the elector and must certainly at not a best under the direct control of the men who rank the ballot He shall have to depend almost entirely upon the integrity of the elected representative he places in power.

Writes Best Essay

This essay entitled "A Canadian Centennial Project" helped Linda Thompson, grade 11 Lacombe school student, win the Rotary club's essay contest. The subject matter for 1965, the centennial of self-rule in Canada, was chosen by the club.

A constitution according to Webster's New World Dictionary, is "the system of fundamental principles of government, parliament, under a Canadian written or unwritten," and "a document or act of documents in which these laws and principles are written down."

A constitution of a country does two very important things. It determines the way in which the government of a country should be organized and run, and the powers the government can exercise over the people.

Canada is like ten young teenage children, rebellious of their parent's authority, and unwilling to stay within bounds of the rules set down. Some of these rules, being outdated, can only do harm to those subjected to them.

The British North America Act, Canada's constitution, is one of the main reasons for the political unknowns Canada finds herself in.

Under the present system, Canada has not yet full control of her constitution. All amendments concerning federal-provincial relations must still be approved by the British parliament in London another The time has come for radical changes.

The president should not of course be elected as a leader of the government. He should be chosen by popular vote rather than by the head of the party with the most seats in the house, as is our present prime minister.

This way, the majority of the people would action their choice as leader. The president should also not be allowed to act without the support of his cabinet, then eliminating any type of step to dictatorial government.

Elections of members of the house of representatives should take place at the same time as your leader, and should be based on representation by population and area. To become a member of parliament one must be over thirty years of age, be a Canadian citizen for at least ten years previous to election, and reside in his electoral district for at least five years.

Representatives would then promptly be better informed and not so subject to propaganda as they are at present.

In a well-adjusted family, all members are given equal opportunities and responsibilities. This should be the case with Canada and her provinces. Some provinces are badly handicapped by poor educational standards, such as Nova Scotia.

Education should be put on a federal basis. Curriculums and requirements should be equal in all schools from coast to coast.

Students who travel from province to province during their schooling would then find themselves belong to required subjects.

Unemployment should operate in order to avoid costly duplication of facilities and expensive Health services, such as workmen's compensation, pensions, insurance benefits, and unemployment should be on a national basis to guarantee equality for the people of all provinces.

The Jewish race soldiers of the Canadian people should assume the responsibility of the whole country, under one central and unbiased.

A man present to of all issues and responsible to all his electors when judging them and making out proclamations. All laws and supplication thereof should become uniform in all provinces. All Canadian citizens should have equal rights and opportunities.

Penal institutions, such as provincial jails houses of correction for juvenile offenders, and for the insane should be under the control of the federal government.

Courts should be headed by people chosen on merit rather than on political standing.

If judges were not appointed by people of political parties, but were appointed on their worthiness in practice, the judiciary would take a large step forward. The federal parliament is also responsible for the revising up, maintenance, and standardizing of all courts and penal institutions.

Laws should be altered in such a fashion as to change our present outdated philosophy of "an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth" towards a policy of punishment of criminals. The death penalty is unthinkable in a country which does not believe in vengeance.

Minority groups must be protected by strict laws to make all citizens equal before the law, racially or political grounds a criminal act. Such laws can be no unity in a country whose people practice discrimination.

There are many more amendments which Canada should make to her constitution.

The abolishment of the unseat haven, the nationalization of railroads, the federal government control of all transportation routes. The making of the Yukon and the Northwest Territories as to preserve the republicans of the Eskimos and the Indians, and the adoption of French as a second official language are all other reforms for consideration.

A country like Canada, whose peoples have such varied racial backgrounds, could become an example for greater unity under a truly Canadian constitution. Modern times make it more and more necessary to organize countries of all sizes, and the principles of a nation, as a united community in the whole world.

The British North American Act was a very true and valuable document but it has now become outdated, and changes are always necessary for the sustained growth and development of a nation.

Meteorite Visit Lights Up Sky Here

A trail of meteorites flashing across the sky lit up the country side for a few short seconds on Wednesday night of last week and was observed by a number of local residents.

Mrs. Ted Wright, wife of The Globe's editor, said the town was "as bright as day" when she looked out in the bedroom window at her house at 48 street. The time was 10:45 p.m.

George Barron, who was on his way to work on a night job at the Lacombe Hotel, had the same experience when a "bright light" was turned on, illuminating everything.

There was no accompanying sound in this part of central Alberta, but reports from Edmonton said there was a sonic boom, rattling trees or something. The meteorites are believed to have hit the earth's surface in the B.C. interior.

Alix Board of Trade Reviews Achievements

ALIX — Amazing number of projects have been completed by the Alix board of trade and an increase of one in the per capita completion at point adverts with the village council.

Impressive array of accomplishments were outlined at a banquet for the members and their wives held on Thursday, March 31 by chairman Stan H Mercier. Minute of the board of trade meeting, read by secretary Ken Bowen, were devoted to:

Four post office, corner lights, new sidewalk, new high school, Christmas dance and tennis with Bentley for children, supports to county planning board, ball grounds on Main street, Dowd to Hamilton, Alix to Bentley 4-H achievement day, new cenotaph, high school, annual picnic.

Projects successful but still being worked on: hospital, dance, community hall, main street lighting, cemetery, sewer and water, new water tower at Blackfalds, Lacombe, Alix, Clive network, fertilizer plant.

On Wednesday evening, members of the board of trade entertained their wives and a few friends to a very complete turkey dinner with all the trimmings served by Mrs. Madeline Gould and her assistants. Head table guests of the United church ladies' 24 persons enjoyed dinner, and a piano selection by our new teacher Lyle Hiller.

The surprisingly long list of projects completed by the board of trade have added to the satisfaction of and fellowship among most of his fellow car executive Mr.

Bedroom Water Heated

Compliments and a hearty vote of appreciation to our village foreman W J Robinson and his assistant Larry Wilson (who should not have returned to the job so soon after undergoing surgery) for the prompt action in providing hours they spent on the water system. Now we have a new and powerful pump with the mammoth problem of corrosion in pervention. Thousands from becoming fish ponds in our homes.

Thanks to their long hours of strenuous labor we've completely thawed the trouble with what threatened to be a major spring drainage problem and how glad everyone is to see more allowed gone.

We are glad to report that Mrs H. Hanks some home last Friday after being a patient in Lacombe hospital for a few days.

Twenty-two young people registered at the United church social room on Tuesday evening, April 6, when the baby sitting course being sponsored by the Ila Jones Perley chapter of the I.O.D.E. commenced with a very good panel discussion on the first session on this program.

All are very glad to see a few workers who may be employing baby sitters present and hope that more ladies will avail themselves of this opportunity to learn how to care for the safety of their engaged and perhaps get some help in dealing with problems in which these may arise.

Remember, boys are welcome to attend and receive the benefits of this course!

Aid to Fire Victim

Assistance has been received by Mr and Mrs. Jerome Anderson and family, who recently lost their premises, household and business possessions in a fire which destroyed the building that housed the Anderson Photo establishment containing supplies of a grocery and service station.

They appreciated receiving a parcel containing three camp blankets, three quilts, three double sheets, six pillow cases, two pillows, six bath towels, four bath towels, four towels for facecloths, combs, etc., a nine doll and an airplane kit.

They feel that contributors to the Red Cross fund and those who research that help is not forthcoming from that organization will find the foregoing but a bit of an eye opener.

We wish to complement the Anderson on the courageous way they met their misfortune on they

Bird Artists Hold Tourney

Last Saturday, the Lacombe played host to a tournament of the Central Alberta Bird Artists' Association, when members from Lacombe, Red Deer, Ponoka, Innisfail and Olds were present.

Judged by the members on competitors and their entrances, it must be ruled as one of the best ever affairs of its kind in this part of the province. No less than six county schools were represented with a total of 120 boys exhibits competing. Ten county teachers chaperoned the young artists and helped with arrangements.

The carefully planned affair ran off like clockwork and at five hours the almost unbelievable total of 172 games had been played.

Most gratifying to the various teachers was the friendliness and good sportsmanship of the young artists, who have obviously swept all the hard feet badmintonism in a game of good manners.

The closing act of the tournament was probably the best. Well contested, well conditioned and well-played from start to finish, was one of the titles Lacombe won a total of 42 games several to Innisfail's fourth with 38.

The local club managed to get some several funds and even finish, but were edged out by the smooth-playing visitors Bentley won the boys' doubles consolation and their fine girls' doubles team came very close to taking the final in this event Bentley won a total of 34 games

Clive made an excellent showing, for a smaller school, going through as far as the finals in the girls' singles consolation and the girls' doubles consolation in all, they won 32 games

Mirror and Alix, first-year clubs handicapped by a shortage of grounded space made a creditable showing, with the former winning 14 games and Alix 11.

These clubs will undoubtedly be heard from in the future, as they have some very promising young players.

Visiting coaches were enthusiastic about the tour of central Alberta, and expressed the desire that it become an annual affair possibly sponsored by the ATA.

CURLING MEETING

Annual meeting of the Lacombe curling club will be held next Wednesday April 21 at 8:00 p.m., at the curling rink There will be an election of officers and a review of the financial position. A good turnout of members is especially requested.

Many Entries in Mixed Bonspiel Held at Clive

(By Terry Jones)

The Clive Baker rink of Hayes rallied to a 12-9 victory over Paul Shenney of Alix to capture the first event of the Mixed bonspiel Clive curling club banquet as it concluded Saturday.

Baker had Jim Howe at third, Mark Bissett at second and Ella Baker throwing lead rocks.

Pete Nora of Lacombe edged Don Barr of Alix to take the second event with Walter Wolfe of Clive sharping club-mate Harold Wagner to capture the third event.

Finishing third and fourth respectively in the first event were Cecil Proudfoot of Lacombe and the school-boy rink skipped by Ed Wagner.

Mr Norris had on his rink Jack Watts, Norm Jones, and Mildred Watts.

Playing third in the second event was Bob Long of Clive with Zig Pohl also of Clive finishing fourth.

Walter Wolfe and his rink of Vic Rowley, Lloyd Grose, and Wynne Bailey posted a 13-4 win over Harold Wagner to take the third event.

Playing third in the event was Jim Scott with George Pohl finishing fourth. All rinks that placed in the prizes of the third event were from Clive.

Almost anyone can play a Baldwin Organ
You CAN'T make notes on a Baldwin Organ—only music. Even musicians sound pretty. That's because the organ is built for experts here by Baldwin—the famous piano people. Learn to play it at Baldwin's. Sign up for the strings and play a one-finger fiddle tune. Drop on the ties and wail. Dial yourself a full orchestral sound with Baldwin's exclusive Symphonic Tone Control. It's child's play. If you can play the radio, you can play a Baldwin. If you can play the piano (however competently), you'll wear 'em on the organ. And here is the best part, it is just as easy to buy as it is to play. Visit us soon and find out what we mean.
Just about free home trial program. If you like it, you can buy it. If not, we'll take it back. As you can see, we like to help our customers.

Better Quality Hogs

SOME encouraging statistics were published at the Lacombe county hog producers banquet last week concerning the quality of hogs marketed during the past year.

Nearly 37% of the hogs were grade A1, not less than 3% were grade C's. This compares with 30% A's and nearly 17% C's in 1964 in its four years, farmers in this area have improved the quality of their hogs appreciably. This means better returns, and higher profits. To the consumer, it should mean better meat at the breakfast table!

It is significant that the large pig producers raise better stock. The survey figures for 1964 reveal that 535 farmers who shipped less than 25 hogs could grade only 30% grade A's. In the next group, 26 farmers who shipped over 200 hogs averaged 65% A's.

Still the farmers in the total group are causing hog raisers, who are in and out of the business to the market fluctuation. The quality of their stock is a little less because of a lack of study, lack of experience, and probably lack of interest. The big hog producers have economic advantages on feed savings, pure purebred animals, etc., which account for the fact they sell 10% more profit.

Local farmers and Canadian hog producers as a whole have a long way to go, however, to approach the fine quality of the hogs from competitors like Denmark, where marketings of up to 95% A's are not uncommon.

The hog population is increasing in this area. The survey shows that 1,000 farmers in the Lacombe county shipped 64,000 hogs in 1964, an average of 64.0 hogs per farm. This compares with 47 hogs per farm in 1960.

Hazards of Motorcycles

THE high injury rate connected with motorcycle accidents should give owners of motorcycles pause for some heavy thinking and careful driving.

Statistics from the B.C. motor vehicle branch show that there are needed a fatality for every motorcycle accident reported in police in 1964. Many offenses are warned because more and more motorcyclists are talking to the roads every year.

Right here in Lacombe, one young motorcycle rider was fine-plained with a broken leg after a collision on 50 avenue last fall—one of the few accidents to have involving injury.

The reason for a high incidence of injury is clear enough. A motorcycle driver is offered no protection like that provided by a cage of steel in a heavy car, but he can't ignore the comparable. The blow from a collision hits the motorcyclist harder, and usually sends him catapulting through the air with broken bones.

It gives car operators the willies to see reckless motorcyclists weaving in and out through traffic, apparently oblivious to the extra risks they run. Instead of acting smart, they should be receiving special care.

Reflections of the Times . . .

Sins of the Fathers

The Bible reports the sins of the fathers are visited unto the sons for a number of generations and that is probably precisely how our sons and grandsons will view the Canada Pension Plan loaded on the country by the Pearson government.

It seemed the pension factors on the party was potent on making handling into legislation before heading into an election. It seems they were not quite, but almost, heedless of the warnings the plan should be amended be made in its present form it is building up massive problems for the future. And unfortunately for democracy, the opposition members who strongly object during debate to the detailed provisions of the pension plan couldn't bring themselves to vote against Santa Claus when the actual voting took place.

To his credit personally, our district's own member, Cliff Smallwood, had the gumption to vote against the proposal as it was presented. By contrast Social leader Robert Thompson, found it convenient not to be present when the vote was taken, the only time, it ought be said, when their widely heralded opposition could count. On the record, we suppose, from a sense of political realism, maybe they were wiser to accept resignedly the storm while they had effected all the changes and modifications they were capable of during debate, and their vote was thus played out. It could be.

Regardless of all that, the plan will work handicaps on two major groups in the country's workers, as has been demonstrated many times during the debate those over 65 years now, and those in the younger age groups. While workers of 55 are at the level for optimum returns right now, gaining back far more than they will ever pay, into the fund, those of the other two groups will get back only a small portion of their investment.

And the younger worker too, faces a dismal prospect of having his contributions increased over the years, as the cost of living increases, and receive great payments from the fund. The Unemployment Insurance Fund will look like a piker compared to the politics that can be played with this one.

Chuck Fertilizers

Alberta soils advisory committee strongly advises farmers to check the relative costs of an treats pressure in fertilizer for mixtures before buying any kind of fertilizer.

Several new fertilizer products accompanied by misleading claims have recently appeared on the market Among these are liquid fertilizers, which are applied through the soil or sprayed on the crops

Many fertilizers being promoted extensively commercial companies are claimed to have superior value because of the presence of minor elements or because they have some important effects in soil structure or moisture holding properties.

The Alberta soils advisory committee does not recommending the use at any specific manufactured except on a trial basis for comparison purposes It is considered the use of soil conditioners on a large scale other than farm manure green manures and crop residues.

Farmers can find out the number of plant nutrients required for their crops by checking the soils advisory committees recommendations. Consultation with district agriculturists, or by having their soil tested at the soil and feed testing laboratory at the university of Alberta.

Once the amount of fertilizer required is known, costs of the various formulations on the market can be checked Government regulations state that percentages by weight of readily available nitrogen phosphate and potash must be stated on fertilizer labels Using these figures, the farmer can easily calculate the actual cost of the plant nutrients

Experimental Farm News Release

Analyzes New Cereal Grains

Four new cereal crop varities have been released for sale on Tuesday following field testing in 1964 None of them were developed in central Alberta but they were tested there A D McFadden of the Lacombe experimental farm.

Marathon Wheat There is little justification for the production of Marathon wheat in central Alberta because of its greater ruggedness in the severe early frost conditions of the area. It is adapted to the eastern prairies where rust is more of a hazard.

Rust is not however a serious threat to wheat production in central Alberta, and Marathon does possess better resistance to stem rust On the terms of soil central Alberta it has yielded as well or better than Victory but slight ly below Eagle

Both Conquest and grey tails it yields no better than Victory but its plumper kernels must be considered an advantage It is anticipated that Harmon will replace most of the Rodney presently being grown on central Alberta when seed stocks become available for general seeding until the 1967 or 1968

Conquest Barley is the first variety developed in Canada which shows promise of good malting combined with high yield be lower in oil and stem rust In central Alberta it may serve as a dual purpose variety It is also eligible for the C.W grades and if it fails to be accepted for malting its yields are considerably higher than presently grown malting varieties

To date it has averaged about five bushels per acre higher than Parkland on the dark brown, black and grey soils at central Alberta This is about 10 per cent below the yield of Husky and Jubilee but it will mature seven to ten days earlier There should be a fair supply of seed for commercial planting in 1965

Sonnia Flax represents a distinct improvement in yield, straw

(subject to final approval of county council)

Costs of education continue to increase, as school committee members and trustees all over have grappled with estimates at a special budget meeting in the county office last Wednesday.

They finally settled on a budget that is not far off the two-million-dollar mark at $1,982,357. This is $120,000 over the sum of $1,812,697 seriously spent last year.

The budget still needs ratification from the county council at its meeting in May.

Some of the increases are self-explanatory.

Teachers salaries — $1,168,000, about $70,000 over actual costs in 1964 (instructional side $99,000 over the actual expenditure last year plant operations $264,000 up $16,000 over revenue of maint. $216,000 up $8,000 additions/new $32,000 up $2,000, capital expenditures out of current revenue, $165,000, up $67,000.

One notable exception to the trend of increases is in the cost of debt charges, estimated at $191,108, down $5,000 from last year.

Revenue Sources

Estimated revenue of $1,800,000 will be brought in from sources of: From the foundation provincial grants, $1,058,000, up $61,000; small revenues like the school grants and the old book rentals, $30,000, up $700; from the surplus cash fund, $77,000, up $12,000; transfer to capital fund, $80,000, up $60,000.

Requisitions will be based on a rate of 8.21 mills, it was decided, up two mills from last year's basis of 6.21 (the table for requisitions is defined).

Town council will hold a special common council Monday at 8:00 p.m. to prepare the budget, Mayor W. H. Jackson told councillors at their regular meeting a good many items must Monday with C.

Public Invited To Book Display Here This Week

Thousands of 1,000 books will be on display at the J. R. McConnell Memorial Library in Lacombe from Thursday until Friday, April 21 to 23 inclusive, from 10:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

The exhibits will give the general public an opportunity to view a series of brand new books all under one roof, and to see the talent in on books associated with educators there will be many of public interest.

The display is from the Canadian publishers' council and is brought here by the Parkland regional library. It will be divided into two sections.

There are 38 publishing houses co-operating in this display, each exhibiting up to 100 books.

Damage estimated at over $5,000 was caused when a fire swept through the dwelling on the Baxter Brown farm one mile west of Lacombe last Saturday morning about 5:30.

Mr and Mrs. Dave Perrin and two small children occupying the house escaped without injury, but the family dog suffocated.

Lacombe fire brigade battled the blaze for about 1½ hours. The upstairs portion was burned and the roof was destroyed, but the downstairs was confined to water damage.

Fire chief Cecil Dalzell reported that dead grass had been burned the previous day, and while it was well soaked down and apparently smouldered and caught hold on the side of the house leading to an outburst of flames.

The loss was covered by insurance.

Petty Damage Caused In Unoccupied House

Petty larceny was reported by Lacombe police in a vacant house being constructed by Pelkan Homes on the corner of 49 street and 51 avenue, some hours last Thursday night.

The building, which was not locked, was entered by a person or persons unknown who stole a screwdriver worth $14 from the wall. Some galvanized tin from the roof and a door in the basement room was also torn away.

Police are investigating.

Curlers Reduce Deficit

Clayton Brown was elected president of the Lacombe curling club at the annual meeting held Wednesday evening of last week.

Other officers are: vice-president, Carol Proudfoot; second vice-president, Howard Armstrong; treasurer, Ian McFadden; secretary, Hans Rosenberger; directors, Dunc McGarvey, Gordon Reed and Don Attkisson.

Financial statement showed that $2,300 was paid off during the year, on the capital loan which now stands at $7,750. With more revenue than ever, the club anticipated that another $1,000 will be paid off before the end of the season.

Ladies Contribute

A feature of the financial statement was the fine effort made by the ladies' club members. Ladies contributed a total of $2,100 to club coffers — a total all but $200 was raised through operation of the kitchen and canteen.

Vandals Hit Unoccupied House, Cause Some Damage

First break-in at Lacombe in some time occurred at the Blue Way Coffee Shop on the north outskirts of town on highway No. 2A last Saturday night or early Sunday morning, and thieves escaped with a small quantity of merchandise.

Entry was gained by kicking in the plate glass front door. Entering the building, vandals overturned two packages of cigarettes, and an unknown number of chocolate bars and penny bubble gum. Nothing else was reported missing.

Lacombe police are still investigating.

Disaster Exercise Planned at Hospital

An enormous disaster planning will be held at the Lacombe general hospital next Wednesday, May 1.

While the time is the surprise part of the exercise, the mock disaster in the afternoon and the public is requested to refrain from visiting near the grounds will be blockaded off and guarded. (Normal visiting hours will be in effort in the evening).

Hospital staff is expecting to treat in the neighborhood of 50 casualties from some 1000.

Mrs. Jack Horrod, matron, states that the complete survey is very useful purpose because local disaster like the school bus tragedy at Lamont could happen any time.

Census Fund Total Reaches Sum of $765.36

Donations from Lacombe and district to the Canadian Cancer Society total $765.36 to date, secretary Chairman Mrs. Elbert Robertson announced this week.

Miss Hayes a nurse from the town, is collected in the "mop" period last year, but the Society cheque complete for the last campaign is happy with the response.

Lacombe clubs in the district have been particularly generous with their contributions, says Mrs. Robertson. The canvass is now closed completed, and it is hoped to finish up the drive on schedule at the end of April.

GOLF CLUB ADDITION TAKING SHAPE

Advanced stage of construction has been reached on the $30,000 golf clubhouse addition as shown by the picture taken over the weekend. Work is now proceeding rapidly according to advice from B.C. this week to close in the building. The 24 x 80 structure will be finished in smart pre-finished hardboard panels and stone. A large kitchen will make catering possible to rental groups during the summer months. Big picture windows will look out on to the golf course. Completion date is May 15. The addition is being built on the same design as the 32 x 60 clubhouse (shown on the right) which was erected some years ago.

Sharlene Audrey Maurer Bride of Glen Tonneson

On Saturday, April 5, Sharlene Audrey Maurer, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Maurer of Clive, became the bride of Glen Tonneson, also of Clive.

The ceremony was performed in the Clive United church. Rev. R. Warren officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a full length dress of white nylon over taffeta, featuring panel front, sweetheart neckline, long lily point sleeves.

Her three-quarter length veil of embroidered net was held from a pearl tiara. She carried a heart-shaped bouquet of red sweet heart roses and white carnations complemented with ribbons matched with rose buds.

Her jewellery was a cultured pearl drop necklace and earrings to match, a gift from the groom. Gift from the bride to the groom was a set of cuff links and tie pin to gold, contrasted with Adrian diamond.

The bride's attendants were Miss Judy Green of Calgary, maid of honor, and Mrs. Madgine Gamble of Calgary, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid. They were dressed of alternated coral satin sheet length featuring back fitted panel front and full swing low and net lined flounce with coral and white carnations forming the green. They each carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations, lilies from the bride.

Little Darlene Tonneson, niece of the groom, as flower girl as a light blue nylon dress and basket bow to match. She carried a basket of carnations and lilies with a necklace and bracelet, gift from the bride.

Attending the groom were Mr. George Simons of Calgary, as best man and Mr. Thornton Shearer of Stettler, brother of the bride, as groomsman. Their gifts from the groom were a cuff link and tie clip.

Miss Helena Bosh, cousin of the bride, played the wedding music. "Because" was rendered as the bridal party left the vows of the ceremony.

Ushers were Mr. Larry Gorrell of Ponoka, nephew of the groom and Mr. Brian Bosh, of Stettler, cousin of the bride. Their gifts from the bride's parents were matched tie pins.

For the ceremony, the bride's mother wore a silk jacket dress of brown, rust and gold tones with brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

The groom's mother chose a beige lace silk in blue tones, brown accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception at the Lacombe Hotel banquet room was held for 50 guests. The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered pale-blue wedding cake baked and decorated by Miss Judy Green of Calgary.

Gowns was used by Mr. Maurer Bosh of Stettler, uncle of the bride. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Richard Maurer of Red Deer, great-uncle of the bride, to which the groom fitting ly responded.

The guest book was attended by Miss Lynn Christensen of Ponoka, cousin of the bride and gift from the bride. And the call as the parent's great home.

Leave Angle Parking Alone

IT is perhaps unwise to take issue with an expert body like the regional planning commission, which implies recommendations based on exhaustive survey and study.

In isolated cases, this could be the trouble. The commission tends to be too pedantic. It may be concerned in so much theory and detail that proper application is not always given to practical considerations.

Take the case of street improvements and parking problems covered in the report. The Globe featured in its review last week. The commission among other things, suggested that angle parking be changed to parallel parking on 50 avenue since angle curb parking causes unnecessary congestion in the downtown area.

This idea sounds fine, but the commission evidently didn't consider the consequences. The change would reduce the number of parking stalls on the avenue by more than 100 in each block. The commission did recommend extra parallel parking on the south side of the thoroughfare, but still the net loss of parking stalls would be 11.

Parking space is at a premium downtown, as the commission notes, and it would be pure nonsense to reduce the number further. The congestion caused by angle parking rarely ties up traffic and does not warrant such drastic action.

Many of the commission's other recommendations deserve immediate attention, particularly the thought of "planting small appropriate types of trees" to beautify the commercial area.

But a word, too, [illegible] about introducing [illegible] turn. To attempt to add a [illegible] another complication.

Hockey At Its Best

STRENGTH of the central Alberta hockey league has been amply demonstrated again this year in the playoffs. Red Deer Rustlers captured the western intermediate "A" title. Drumheller Miners lost out in a tough series to the Nelson (B.C.) Leafs. Eastern senior "A" finalists Edmonton Oil Kings will again represent the west in the Canadian junior finals.

The top team in the league, Lacombe Rockets, were ousted early by the upstart Rustlers. The point is that hockey fans in this neck of the woods are being treated to the best brand of hockey in the country outside the pro leagues. Let's hope local appreciation like last and will be manifested in larger crowds at the gate where it really counts.

While on the subject of hockey, one can't help feeling sorry for the Oil Kings who are about to begin a gruelling east-west finish of this hide duke. When the games start practice as early as September, it is silly to prolong a hockey season into a baseball month like May. People are disinterested, and players are tired of chasing a puck around. Even the national hockey league has some enough to pack it before that. The CAHA ought to shorten the long playoff grind to no later than April 30.

Problems In Radio Shows

UNREHEARSED radio programs in which the station and a listener engage in a telephone conversation "over the air" are causing the board of broadcast governors concern Chairman Andrew Stewart says some curbs may be necessary to control the type of programming which permits a person under the cloak of anonymity to come out with outrageous statements that are an affront to the listening audience.

He points out that in "opinion" columns in newspapers the publication insists on a signature to identify the author. In radio, a mud-raker interviewing a party on the air can be shorted before he can shut off the voice. The damage has been done.

Perhaps taping the show before-hand would provide the remedy. This would allow radio officials to eliminate obscene language or any offensive remarks while still maintaining the impromptu character of the show. Broadcasters are jealous of their rights concerning freedom of speech, however.

There is the other side of this type of opinion program, of course. Instead of the audience phoning the radio station, the station picks out telephone numbers at random to make the contact. There have been complaints from some of these people who found themselves on the air against their wishes. This is an invasion of privacy.

Pocket Gopher Problem

Now that spring is here the old problem of pocket gopher control comes up again. Although I have given information in the column before on pocket gopher control, judging from the number of office inquiries lately on this problem it would do well to repeat.

The following information is taken from a publication which is available upon request from our office.

It is possible to control and even exterminate gophers over large areas. Until such time as the value of natural controls is established, the farmer will have to resort to artificial means. The best time to exercise control is before the young are born. Trapping and poisoning have given best results, on field trials, in Alberta. Other methods which may be useful at times and in certain areas are flooding and evacuation.

1. Trapping: The common spring gopher trap, or the special Macabee trap will take gophers underground. When using the former it is necessary to widen the tunnel made to allow the steel jaws to lie flat and unrestricted. The Macabee trap, however, will fit the burrow opening without disturbing the soil.

Macabee traps can be sprung from only one direction. Therefore, the animal always has to set in pairs facing outward with a draw bait between unless in a lateral run. The excavation, above the trap, should be sealed off with cardboard, plywood etc., to keep out all light.

Results of actual field trapping in in Alberta, indicate that ten Macabee sets would, on the average catch 4-6 gophers per day provided the traps were moved to new burrow systems after a successful catch. Ordinary steel spring traps averaged slightly fewer gophers caught per day. After the traps were set, dirt mounds were level, so that new mound activity could be observed and further control measures applied.

2. Poison Baits: At present, poisons offer the most economical control. Large fields, heavily infested, cannot be effectively cleared by trapping in the Edmonton [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Forage Crop Does Well in Experimental Farm Test

Seventeen forage crops can be grown on many good soils around, up to 2 ft. A. Hall of the Lacombe Experimental Farm has recently released by a test on 6 under pens set at Lacombe in 1964.

A record of the crop yields was also established in the test, which was conducted in the form of a fertilized zone in the soil. Varying rates of nitrogen, phosphate and potash were applied. A complete fertilizer was also used. Each plot received 100 lbs. of 11-48-0 per acre applied with the seed and 200 lbs. of 34-0-0 per acre worked into the soil before seeding. The check plot received neither fertilizer nor the general fertilizer previously mentioned.

This was the only test which Mr. Hall got a response to potassium. Greatest response which was produced by the nitrogen and greatest response to a combination of nitrogen and phosphate in nearly all cases. He did mentioned the seed soils as two tests and the soil was low in phosphate and potash on these because of the variation in response.

Mr. Hall said:

In the conclusion Mr. Hall is challenging the ability of soil and air temperatures to the uptake of nitrogen. He is saying that the nitrogen is not available to the plants and will later compare this to field conditions.

There is some evidence, he says, that the warmer the soil, the less nitrogen is required and that less need for fertilizer to be applied in hopes the temperature will provide to better use of the fertilizer applied.

BURNT — The village was shocked at the death of Mrs. Edith Pearson Booker, a resident here for nearly 30 years.

She was born in South Dakota on May 18, 1896, and came to Edmonton, Alberta in 1915.

On December 31, 1924, she was married by William Charles Booker.

Did you know — table cream contains not less than 18% butterfat, coffee cream not less than 30% butterfat, whipping cream not less than 32% butterfat, ice cream whipping butterfat and ice cream manufacturers Dairy Products Act? In 1955 — high is 1965.

Available, free of charge, from the holmes address is the "Alberta homemakers guide". This is a booklet which just came off the printing press recently. This guide lists trees, flowers, vegetables available to the different zones of Alberta.

One raw carrot 2½ inches long and an inch thick, contains 6,000 international units of vitamin A. Carotene which is more than enough to satisfy the daily allowance of 3,700 units recommended for the average adult. This same carrot contains about 20 calories only.

The tea and temperature tables for meat cookery are calculated on cuts which are at refrigerator temperature when cooking is started.

If you are eating enough to maintain your weight, a brisk 10-minute walk five times a week will burn up 100 extra calories a day or you'll be eight pounds lighter a year.

After purchasing fruits and vegetables, it is necessary when preparing them to be careful to keep from throwing away the edible portion as vitamin C is only huge, the core and the little new leaves are richest. In potatoes, the highest concentration occurs just under the skin. Bacon, boneless thick portion of the type of vegetable is a great waste in fact, small potatoes with more surface to the pound have more for your money as vitamin C does longer cooking.

Treating raw vegetables and fruits gently and cooking them with a sharp knife so that you can use them as bulk as possible from the beginning of their food value. This is especially important with vegetables of the mineral family. Soaking them in water for any amount of water, the minerals are soaking time, the easier they are served, the better the flavor and food value.

Fish and Game Meeting Here

By Terry Jones

Bayne Henderson was elected president of the Lacombe fish and game association at its recent annual meeting at the Lacombe Legion hall.

Other officers elected were Herb Cochran, vice president, Carol Pelletier membership chairman, Harry Primmett, secretary-treasurer, and Jim Barr, past president.

Alphonse Beauheron, Bill Johnson, Jack Travis, and Ted Tully were elected as officers.

There was deep concern shown about the fame in the area which after the past winter's run-off needs repairs. The club is strongly in favor of supplying the needed materials.

Another point of major discussion was that of the drastic drop in membership from 400 to less than 150 in four short years.

The club has decided to raise membership fees to include the new membership system which will now be worked in with each membership.

Guest speaker for the evening was Ernest Klein of the Alberta Fish and Game Association who spoke on the benefits and conservation of many species.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, June 8th at 8:00 p.m. in the Legion hall and will feature a film.

Town of Lacombe

This Is Our Town . . .

Help Keep It Clean!

Following is an outline of Town of Lacombe By Laws in respect to Collection of Garbage and also a Schedule of the days on which garbage is collected in the various sections of the town.

There are suggestions, too, of recommended placement of garbage containers, to assist garbage collectors and to prevent damage to garbage containers by dogs. The co-operation of all citizens is sincerely requested to help "Keep Our Town Clean".

Schedules For Residential Weekly Garbage Pick-up

● Garbage in Residential Districts is collected once each week.

MONDAY - West of 53rd Street and North of 50th Ave.

WEDNESDAY - South of 50th Avenue

FRIDAY - East and South of 53rd Street and North of 50th Ave.

BUSINESS SECTION - Daily Pick-up.

TO ALL LACOMBE CITIZENS

So all citizens may be familiar with Town requirements in respect to collection of garbage, we would like to bring the following points to your attention.

GARBAGE IS DEFINED AS

1 Meaning the refuse of animal or vegetable matter which has been or has been intended to be used for food.
2 Ashes
3 Other Waste Matter meaning such articles as tin cans, bones, broken glass, bottles, wire and metal scraps, and all similar inflammable or non-inflammable matter, that belongs into the household, except stable refuse, and silt and sand deposited in garages by cars.

GARBAGE CONTAINERS

Each householder shall provide reputation size tin more than 20 inches high, or 18 inches in diameter, impervious containers, with two handles, capacity of 75 pounds. (Note Garbage collectors are not required to carry larger garbage cans, or barrels.) If any garbage container is not of sufficient size to hold one week's accumulation of garbage, the householder shall, at his own expense, supply enough additional containers to take care of his needs.

TRADE WASTES

All material left over as waste or other, from the waste of trades or manufacturing will not be taken away by the garbage collector but shall be the responsibility of the party concerned (Such as oil cans from garages, builder's refuse, plaster bricks, etc., resulting from remodelling or construction.)

BARREL DISCRIMINATION

It is not our intention to do away with the large barrels used for burning, but due to health and sanitary considerations reasons, we do not want them to be used as garbage containers and so have provided in the by-law a penalty for the improper use of the burning barrel.

Please only newspapers, cardboard, printed matter or wood in the burning barrel.

Tree trimmings, grass, shrubbery that won't burn may be placed in a suitable container (not more than 30 lbs.) and placed near the garbage container to be picked up by the town workmen.

DISCRIMINATION

Each householder should provide an incinerator to burn all combustible material.

BURNING OF RUBBISH

No person shall burn or cause to be burned any combustible garbage or waste outdoors on any premises or highway in the hour of 9:00 a.m. on Monday and Sunday mornings or other times or any day of the week.

LOCATION OF GARBAGE CONTAINERS

Garbage and other waste matter shall be placed together in suitable containers and containers shall be placed conveniently and close along the lane, or at the most convenient spot where no lane exists.

Garbage shall be thoroughly drained and wrapped in paper to very being placed in container.

(Note: Garbage cans and containers must be placed on your own property . . . NOT in lane)

OTHER PROHIBITIONS OF GARBAGE

1. HEAD: Garbage to remove excess liquids. This will reduce both and weight of waste and help to prolong life of can.
2. WRAP: GARBAGE in several thicknesses of paper one sheet at a time to prevent the hoisting of maggots, to reduce the pleasant odors and to prevent freezing to the can in winter.
3. PLACE: IN standard covered container

Post Office Shortens Hours

CHANGES in post office hours today mean some time official at Lacombe last week, and local residents no longer have the option of lolling up their mail as early as 7:30 a.m. or picking it up as late as 9:00 o'clock at night.

The new hours are from 8:30 to 5:30. This means a certain hardship for those who have come to rely on the wee'e a.m. to do the morning and like to pick up their mail a few minutes later than they can at present. Judging by the comments of many waiting out in front of the post office last week waiting for the doors to open, and by a few of those who heard the change is not at all popular.

However, there are undoubtedly many more who will welcome the change in that it is the campaign in which Lacombe has been pioneer. So does it behoove the local postmaster to put forthcoming efforts behind the change and make it work successfully. To protest belligerently, however, we doubt this will result in any advantage from a post office point of view. Here's a few of pointers:

A Generation Is Passing

MRS. I. S. Scott was laid to rest at the Lacombe cemetery last week. She was 91 years old. She had lived in Lacombe for nearly 50 years.

Her passing leaves another link in the chain that binds the present county lady with the day of the early settler. There are not many of these links left.

Her passing also marks the gradual decline of a generation of sturdy men and women who came to Canada in the days when the country was young and who helped to lay the foundation for the prosperity we enjoy today.

Mrs. Scott was born in Ireland and came to Canada with her parents when she was a girl. She was married in Toronto and came to the Lacombe district in the early days. Her husband took up a homestead and pre-empted a quarter section.

If her son had lived, he like many others would now be welcoming his 50th birthday.

The parents of these hardy pioneers have been removed and their children, who helped to build this country, are now following in their footsteps

It's budget time for town councils across the province, and a few decisions concerning mill rates have resulted from months of pain in adjusting expenditures.

Ponoka — 32 Mills.

Council of the Town of Ponoka tonight spent quite a bit of time discussing the annual budget of the municipality which will total $1,000,000.

The budget was approved at a meeting on Tuesday of last week. They discussed the budget with a mill rate of 32 mills on property of the following levies:

The school foundation program 21 mills, supplementary school requisition, 5 mills; Town of Ponoka requisition, 4 mills; Municipal hospital requisition, 2 mills; health unit, 1.3 mills; municipal general, 13.5 mills; additional debt service, 7 mills.

— Ponoka Herald

Clandonald — 32 Mills.

The tax rate was set at 32 mills as the same figure as last year, by the municipal district of Beaverhill council members Thursday night.

The town rate was maintained at an even level in spite of a 10 per cent increase in anticipated town costs.

— Clandonald Local Press

Delburne — 32 Mills.

After many weeks of devising ways and means of "narrow-out" the budget for the municipality, a meeting of representatives in all departments of the municipality was held Monday night and the 1989 mill rate at 32 mills, an increase from the 30 figure during 1988.

Total estimated revenue and expenditures for the year is $1,000,000.00. The town's estimated is $1,000,149.00.

— Warren Herald

Innisfail — 32 Mills.

Despite expansion, increased cost of operations and greater money demand through requisitions the Innisfail town council Monday night set the mill rate at 32, up two over last year.

The increase represents the spending for the coming year, said Mayor Hamilton. It was pointed out at the meeting here Monday night.

— Innisfail Province

Rocky River — 37 Mills.

High River's mill rate jumps two mills this year Monday's council meeting set the rate at 37 — after deliberating at length in an effort to hold last year's rate of 35 it just wasn't possible.

An increase of 2 mills is expected to produce $6,022.00. The estimate of expenses for this year 1989 are $268,000.00. Estimated expenditures are $268,284.00.

— High River Times

Sundre — 32 Mills.

The town of Sundre will spend nearly $37,000 more — 1989 than was spent in 1984. The council met at special session last Thursday evening to review the 1989 budget, and struck a 32 mill rate for this year's tax computations.

The mill rate went up two mills.

This year the town will use 22 mills for municipal purposes. Last year the town's rate for municipal purposes was 23.5 mills.

This year the town will assess 7 mills to cover the annuity school requisition. Last year the rate was 7.5 mills.

This year the town will use 23 mills for the school foundation program, while last year the rate was 21.5 mills.

This year the town will use 4 mills for hospital purposes. Last year the rate was 4.5 mills.

— Sundre Herald

Olds — 32 Mills.

At a special meeting Friday night, the Olds town council set the mill rate at 32 for the year 1989. This is the same rate as 1988 and 1986. It is comparable to follows: schools 23.66, hospital 3.25, health unit 1.05, general municipal 4.04, debentures 7.31.

Total tax levy will amount to $870,000.

Ratepayers seem to be getting more in 1989 for almost the same amount of money as in 1988. Also, the school foundation program has been increased.

— Pamela Herald

Sylvan Lake — 32 Mills.

The 1989 mill rate for the town of Sylvan Lake was set by council Monday evening at a committee and session of the previous week's meeting. The rate will remain the same as it was last year — 32 mills.

Requirements for education and health services were all increased, leaving less money for municipal purposes. Portion of the mill rate for municipal purposes are dropped from just under 20 mills to just over 17 mills.

— Sylvan Lake News

Drayton — 37 Mills.

At the regular meeting Tuesday night, town of Rimbey council set the 1989 mill rate at 37, which will work out to 39.2 mills for those who get a 10 percent discount by paying their tax bill before June 15.

The 1988 tax rate was 33 mills, but the decrease in the rate does not represent a big decrease as the amount of taxes the individual will pay because a new general assessment roll, giving property values drastically in 1989.

— Rimbey Independent

Rimbey — 37 Mills.

The town of Rimbey will spend nearly $3,000,000 this year, according to budget estimates presented to council at the regular meeting Monday night.

Of that amount, $1,000,000 will be raised by taxation. The remainder will be raised by grants, sales of services and other revenue.

The budget was approved by council and the mill rate was set at 37 mills.

Electricity Cooking

Iron is Hot There has been evidence for several centuries that iron is a very essential element in the diet. In spite of this fact, iron is still reported that iron deficiency anemia is one of the most serious of all deficiency diseases in man ... a rather startling fact.

The most important food source of iron is meat. It is estimated that nearly 50% of our dietary iron comes from meat and other products of animal origin. Liver tops the list as being the richest source of iron, pork being richer than beef, veal or lamb of liver.

Poultry, fish and eggs should be included in the menu frequent-ly, for they too contribute a good supply of iron.

While dark green leafy vegetables are ranked as a good source of iron, other vegetables and fruits are not as valuable mainly because of their small iron content.

Cereal grains are fair sources, but how much iron in the milling process, although the enrichment of flour with iron has helped to replenish the loss.

Dried peas and beans supply us with about 10% of our iron. A variety of casserole dishes using peas and beans can add quite an economical touch to the menu also.

It is wise menu planning to include these foods which offer a good supply of iron.

Iodized Salt

Iodized salt plays an important role in our diet but this fact is one we tend to take for granted. Iodine in the diet is an essential factor requiring for good health.

Natural sources of iodine are limited in some of the country where iodine is found in soil and water. To ensure an adequate supply of iodine for everyone, the industries of salt was introduced and has become a common practice. Because it has become familiar let us not overlook its importance. The following quote from Canadian nutrition notes is an answer to the questions. "Has there been a decrease in the incidence of goitre after the introduction of table salt?"

The best authorities available to the extent of goitre surgery. A common place before iodization became general, the type of surgery has become rare ... So, be sure that it is iodized salt being served to your family

Local Farmers Eligible For Crop Insurance

A total of 1,258 farmers have insured their crops under Alberta's new crop insurance program. This figure represents 43.9% of the eligible farmers in the three local areas. The deadline for applications for insurance was April 15.

S. A. Patching, general manager of the Alberta Crop Insurance Corporation, said he was pleased with the response of farmers to crop insurance being offered this year for the first time in Alberta.

The total liability of the Corporation would be nearly $2,500,000 and the premiums amount, including the 20% share paid by the federal government, will be just over $500,000.

Mr. Patching said that in the Vulcan-Strathmore area there was a 41 percent sign-up, in the Pincher-Lacombe area 49% of the eligible farmers were participating, and in the Bassano-Vauxhall area 55% of eligible farmers insured their crops.

Under the program offered by the Province of Alberta, with the backing of the federal government, farmers are assured of a minimum return from their insured crops. The amount of the premiums and the premium farmers pay varies with the crop (whether wheat, oats or barley — the area, type of soil and whether it is sown on summerfallow or stubble.

Protection is provided against losses caused by natural hazards such as drought, frost, hail, insect pests and disease.

In the Lacombe-Ponoka area, typical coverage for barley on summerfallow is $15.65 provided at a cost of from 69 to 92 cents per acre, depending on hail risk.

Grade Three Pupils Receive Spruce Trees

Spruce trees about 15 inches high were distributed by the Lacombe garden club last week to 120 grade three students attending the J. S. McCormack elementary school.

This is the fourth consecutive year that the garden club has sponsored this worthwhile project to give youngsters a chance "to help trees grow up, not knock them down."

Club president Jim Asher explained the options, and they were distributed and to the classrooms last Friday afternoon by Don Sim.

FAIRVIEW — Where does a correspondent get news when a storm erupts the telephone line?

Sunday evening the neighborhood was plunged in darkness for several hours. The fairview farm lights we have come to depend on were gone; likewise the electronic operated furnaces and milking machines were stilled. Anyhow, like to go back to "the good old days".

Saturday afternoon callers at the J. Douglas home were Mrs. J. Crawford, Mrs. Bert Gannon and Brian. Mrs. Dale Crawford and Mary Lee, Mrs. Ross Crawford and Douglas.

Seven ladies [illegible] achievement day at Bancroft. On Wednesday Afternoon a splendid display of sewing done by the girls [illegible]

Mrs. [illegible] with a group of [illegible] and [illegible] pleasant memories from the university of Alberta has just returned from Indianapolis. They were guests of the Lilly Drug Co. They visited Chicago and Minneapolis en route. Shirley has accepted a position with English's Pharmacy in Lacombe.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Flewelling and Brian of Bashaw were week end visitors here.

Pedal Pushers Course Wins Praise Here

Box 324,
Lacombe, Alta.

To The Editor,
Lacombe Globe,
Lacombe, Alta.

Dear Sir:

May I have space in your paper to express my thanks to Al Wahlstedt and his helpers from the Kinsmen club for the Pedal Push-ers course which our children are now using.

I realize that it takes a great deal of organization, time and equipment to put on this course but the children do enjoy it and gain a lot from it.

Somehow it makes Safety Education more important when they are taught by Kinsmen instead of parents.

I'm sure that many parents are grateful to the Kinsmen club and to those who assisted that organization. Thank you.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. [illegible]

Blackfalds Sees 4-H Achievements

BLACKFALDS — President Mary Bonham was in the chair at the annual achievement night of the Blackfalds 4-H sewing club. The program was held Saturday night in the Blackfalds community hall, and an enjoyable and good crowd attended. The girls' group consisted of:

Reports by the secretary Jo-anne Beerbower and by the treasurer, Sandra Beerbower.

Demonstration — Method on commandments of good posture by Carolyn Brown and Marilyn Priest.

A vocal duet by Lorna Wadey and Marilyn Priest.

A piano solo by Lynn Sheppard-bower.

A demonstration, "grocery your clothes" by Jeanne Beerbower.

The highlight of the evening was the fashion parade in which each member of the club modelled the dress articles for sewing Mrs. Norris Brown supplied vocal music for the parade of the event, and Miss Beverley Quash ably read the commentary.

Leader, Mrs. Elmer Wadey then called on the sewing judges — Miss Marilyn Bolton and Miss Lynnette Land, home economists from Lacombe and Edmonton respectively, to give their points and criticisms to the club members.

The leader also made presentations to Miss Beverley Quash, Mrs. M. Beerbower and four club members, Sharon Brown, Marilyn Priest, Sandra Beerbower and Carolyn Brown, who had perfect attendance for the year.

Kenneth Warring of the Rapid Rock, Red Deer, presented last year's efficiency winner, Joanne Beerbower with the bank's usual gift — a silver rose bowl. The remaining members of this club are Mrs. Claire Beerbower, Mrs. G. Bonham and Mrs. Fred Deaton.

The 12 club members served a delicious lunch.

Shower On Bride-Elect

Miss Barbara Bolton and Miss Ruth Legacie held a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Lou Bolton for the bride-elect, Miss Barbara Cropper. Miss Mary Jane Rauch had contests and a relay to entertain the 25 guests who assembled and presented the bride with a nice assortment of gifts.

Miss Eileen Cropper helped her sister to display and record the gifts. The bride tellingly thanked the ladies and then refreshments of a dainty lunch.

Bad Storm

The wind storm Sunday afternoon broke a spruce tree in the grove surrounding the Farwell home, and it fell on the power line causing a power cut on the line for two hours. Monday morning, there was another two-hour power cut.

Mr. P. L. Hendrie and Annie were in Edmonton over the week end to be with Mrs. F. Sauvageau, son of Ignatz Bauer who underwent surgery.

Harry Cramer is undergoing treatment in an Edmonton hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gunn have returned from a trip to Toronto and Niagara Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Tolmie and family of Red Deer have taken up residence in the house formerly occupied by Mrs. S. H. Farwell.

The local men's football team on the local ground defeated the Lacombe Jets 16-11. The prize for Blackfalds were Glen Long and Allan Logan.

Cheryl Wadey is in the Lacombe hospital where she underwent an appendix operation

To the Grade 12 Class

This year marks a change in the year-end awards to be doled out at Lacombe high school with the color night and graduation night combined into one event.

Other nights will not involve a change and there is no plan to change the present system of awards for proficiency, attendance, etc. The main change in the ceremony for the night of Friday will be centered with the grade 12 class.

This is good. There is always a certain nostalgic sentiment about the end of high school and students should not be deprived of a program that honors them for their year-end academic and leadership achievements.

U.S. Open to Censure

PRESIDENT Eisenhower's declaration that the United States will intervene wherever communists threaten to take over governments is a step that should have been taken a lot well with a lot of Latin American people or with a lot of those fellows in Asia.

In pre-suppose the U.S. will step in if it does not like the form of government in any particular country in that hemisphere. After all, who can adequately define a communist?

This is what was interested in the United Nations Security Council the United States took it most seriously. Unfortunately for that side of the Atlantic but highly needed action does not win splendid support around the world.

Here's hoping the UPP never becomes a majority of voters in Canada's election. Taking the president's words literally, Americans troops would be marching on Ottawa.

Naming the New Arrival

NAMING a new addition to the family is one of the pleasant tasks which befall a happy mother and father. The choice is made with both parents after months of deliberation preceding the blessed event. The mother is by their offspring will answer to throughout life, so the name is rather for total result to be given.

The important selection of a name is like a breaking iron for a new calf. His christian name and not his surname identifying the family tree to which he belongs.

Sometimes unexpected significance is attached to a first name or combination of names. Sometimes it is a name that has been handed down from generation to generation. Sometimes it is a name that is given to them. The history names from the people in the first years, however, follow the trends in public and personal fashion and a host of similar matters.

This taking away and handing back to ourselves, because there is always has been the custom, sometimes make baby look like—instead it robs people of identity, along with the possession of a name, suitable for the duration of their lives.

It was the students themselves who requested this type of ceremony. It has been the feeling for many that full credit for achievements are sometimes withheld because of the graduation exercises. Papers are written and delivered in the name of a grade and could be too personal for public ears.

It is to be hoped that students enjoy this year's affair so that it can be continued. There are many examples of traps by which we might easily, along with advice to the graduates, that will be useful in meeting the challenges that lie ahead.

On the Government Payroll

HAS Canada reached the saturation point as a welfare state? Probably not, however many thousands more than one-quarter of the country's population now receives some kind of income form from the national treasury.

The percentage is going up all the time. People have the peculiar thinking that they are getting something for nothing when they obtain a payment from the government. They don't seem to realize it is given to them. The money comes from the people in the first place, however. Take the various profits and personal taxes and a host of similar matters.

Gold as a Monetary Unit

The total supply of monetary gold held by world nations at the end of 1955 was a value in U.S. dollars of about $41 billion. While Soviet Russia's gold hoard is a secret, it is estimated at 15 of $5 billion.

Gold has been a precious metal in use as money, and looking for paper money for many centuries. It is now valued at $35 an ounce by the United States government, such being the price that can be obtained for the metal by foreign governments of the country. Elsewhere in the world gold values are predicated on the value of

FRIDAY EDITIONS HERE

Decades of tradition will be broken by a wide majority of retail businesses of Drumheller, when Saturday evening shopping will end. Instead, stores will close their doors at 6 o'clock, commencing Saturday. At the same time, Friday evening shopping will be open until 9 o'clock Friday evening.

After three weeks of uncertainty as to whether Friday or Saturday night shopping would win out, members of Drumheller's grocery stores met Monday and it was decided every grocery outlet would remain open until 9 Friday on a six month's trial basis.

DRAINAGE PROBLEM

A complete job of draining the lowlands of Penola would cost approximately $600,000 and if the town continues to grow at its present rate this will be necessary within the next 10 years. The immediate needs, however, are not so great but still run into considerable money, a conservative estimate being $40,000.00.

New Assistant DA

I am pleased to announce that Jim Paulen, a third year agricultural student, has been assigned to this office as assistant D.A. for the summer.

Jim was raised on a farm in the Grande Prairie district and attended high school at Grande Prairie. In his spare time he is interested in light horses and pig fattening in stampedes.

Upon returning to the U. of A. this fall he will complete his studies with a major emphasis on soil science.

Jim is the type of fellow who is easy to get along with and I am sure we will enjoy having him in the district this summer.

Tractor Accidents on Roads

Have you ever had an accident with your tractor on a district road? If you have or know of someone who has I would like to hear about it. The purpose of getting this information is to help with a study which is being made to investigate the causes of tractor accidents on public roads.

All information obtained will be strictly confidence and will be used only for research purposes designed to reduce the future number of tractor road accidents.

Water Systems

If you are installing a new water system this summer you would be well advised to pay close attention to a well established local business.

The better business bureau tells us to beware of a man travelling around the province selling farm water systems. The man is not licensed and has a history of defrauding the public by taking money in advance on orders and then not making delivery.

COMET

Comet is simply the most luxurious, best performing, roomiest compact going

Comet is the best compact on the road and we want to prove it to you. Actually, you owe it to yourself to enjoy the fun and excitement of driving the best compact on any road by taking a Comet test drive.

When you get in, rest sit for a moment and take in Comet's luxury. Masterly mixing in three deep, foam-padded seats feels luxurious and you can have your choice of either individually adjustable bucket seats or wide, roomy bench seats. Most comfortable driving you ever enjoyed. But look at all the you Comet offers: vinyls, fabrics, plaid and striped upholstery in fashionable colours, textures and patterns; colour-keyed loop-pyan nylon and nylon carpeting.

Must look for Comet's elegant details: On the Cabriolet, for instance, there are vinyl and foam-padded door panels, rubber-backed tweed inserts in the instrument panel and doors and door-mounted courtesy lights which help you see Comet's luxury better.

Now, take Comet out on the road. Comet is the car that sets the trends for compact performance and you'll soon see why. Every Comet is fun. Choose either of the two lively cases, the zippy 200 V-8 or the blazing 4-barrel, 225 horsepower Cyclone V-8. (Every one delivers top compact performance).

Feel the silky smoothness of Comet's transmissions, too. There's an effortless, 3-speed, dual range automatic, a 3-speed manual, (fully synchronized with V-8's) and a superb, easy "four-on-the-floor". Team all this with Comet's new, improved suspension and this is undoubtedly the best performing compact on the road.

10 Pounds Stolen
Gathered Up UCW
For Harvest Shipment

United church women of St. Andrew's United church have just shipped a large box containing 10 pounds of used rubber clothings from Lacombe to factory industries at Vancouver.

These rubbers may be left at the Canadian education building of the church or given to the U.C.W supply secretary, Mrs. J. H Martin.

"Should Man Change the Bible?" . . . David Rorke, Grade 10

In our modern Age of Science this question must have been asked many times in the minds of enlightened people throughout the world. This matter also affected me. The learn of what scientists have been able to accomplish during the past century in the field of medicine.

Most notably is that of evolution. With only slight encouragement, the complete change of mankind from primitive cavemen to the first true human beings of the present is explained. Scientific research such ideas are modern and many people have chosen to readily accept the changes and support their thoughts. But why, as far as to warn the basis of all religion is cast out-dated.

On the other hand, numerous unsolved, moral questions such a man shall "Beware of Counterfeits" . . . Mary Kae Scrabe, Grade 11

Mr. Winston Tempo, Social Credit member of parliament for Hillcrest-Norwood stated recently that if teachers of Alberta are offered to determine what they teach, "traditional subjects" such as "reading" will be destroyed.

What young people of high school and university level do perhaps unsure of their stand in the moral issues of today. The clever teacher may, by slyly introducing contrary doctrines or "modern" information into his teaching material, cause the average student to take these ideas unconsciously as fact and use it as such.

The moral standards they have previously come to know through parental and spiritual influences may take a back seat to these new and "modern" ideals made by educators. At present the government of Alberta does not regulate what teachers must teach. It merely supplies a teachers guide and text-books, leaving the basis or an his own as far as what he presents to the student. The teacher does has an undue influence over his students, and this should not be on that what is the answer?

"Do No Forget Your Privileges" . . . Joan Jefferson, Grade 12

"I hate school!" "Such a bore!" "I wish the school would burn down!" "Those teachers!" This seems to be the theme of the kids behind song.

But is school really as bad as all that? Is the curriculum that dull? Are the teachers so unreasonable? Or is it just an epidemic of "arthritis" that has spread amongst the students like the Flu or the measles (one catches it—then everyone has it)?

Students, actually, have never had it easier than we have it today. There's no more trudging that weary three miles to the centre of learning, we board a hostel but the gale and ride to school in an spring-filled upholstered seats.

Our destination isn't the "little red schoolhouse" where our parents once stood around the red-hot pot-bellied heater to keep their frost-nipped hands and feet and noses. It's a massive, architecturally designed structure with central heating and air-conditioning. Gone are the inconveniences of iron grates rocking their lumes while eighth graders comfortably in a fashionable square. No more lunch pails with cold sandwiches and cocoa in a thermos bottle. Now we have cafeterias that serve hot meals at a reasonable price.

(Nan. Mention) "Amateur Careers" . . . Kathy James, Grade 12

In any discussion about censorship, we should first of all remember that in our modern-day society, it actually exists. Every province in Canada has various boards of machinery, dedicated to create, that supposedly protects us from so - called "gutter" publications or so - "suggestive" acts in movies.

Whether our censorship works or not is open to dispute. In the past, when recognized literary works by recognized authors were banned in Canada, it has been possible to buy in the larger Canadian cities dingy publications of no literary merit whatever, that have been put out only to cater to the sexual eccentricities of a small group of people.

Wherever some well-meaning citizens feel that our present laws regarding censorship are inadequate. Quite often some group, most frequently composed entirely of women, take it upon themselves to organize a clean-up campaign on book stands, and to set up committees to preside over radio and television networks. They rarely call themselves censors, but that is what they are trying to do.

But the trouble with this type of any kind is that it sets out not only to pass laws concerning public morality but also to judge artistic merit. Too often, the members cannot, rather than defending the community from any real danger, is trying to impose his or her own tastes in literature or art on the public.

The question then about censorship is this: who can honestly say, "I know what is best for my fellowmen and I also have the wisdom to judge worth"?

Censorship is a little like using gasoline to set grass afire — it is often more damaging in its accompanying effects than in what it is trying to destroy.

Dear Sir:

In the full knowledge of the importance of your writing at the earliest possible date, of all requested information as to support, availability of our "B.C." crops, we bring you the facts as we know them today with respect to the effect of the Canadian cold spell last December.

It is our assessment that the minor injury to the oath fruit crops has resulted serious production. With the exception of minor quantities in the southern end of the valley the tree fruit and peach crops have been almost completely lost, and the cherry, prune and plum crops have suffered severe reduction.

As a result, we regret to advise that we do not anticipate having any commercial supplies of apricots or peaches this season. We could however, furnish limited quantities of pears, Bartlett pears and prunes, and will keep you advised as to their availability as we approach closer to harvest.

We particularly wish to draw to your attention that, even with the above expected reductions in the apple and D'Anjou pear crops, we expect to have adequate supplies of both commodities for Western Canada.

While some tree fruit has escaped serious damage, we anticipate reduced tonnages in the tender fruit and small fruits crops. Strawberries and peach crops have been almost completely lost, and the cherry, prune and plum crops have suffered severe reduction.

This bulletin, with its frank appraisal of the situation, is evidence of our continuing desire to be helpful to the trade generally. Should there be any major changes in the crop prospects as they now appear, we shall relay this information to you as promptly as possible.

In the meantime, we have a plentiful supply of 1964 crop apples, which we believe to be 1965 Cooker crops at the usual time when McIntosh and later varieties

Lacombe, Alberta

In January 1965 some 7,800 Alberta residents 69 years of age will receive their first old age security pension cheque.

They will become the first large group to benefit from recent changes lowering the age limits for old age security. In 1967 those aged 68 will become eligible and so forth, until by 1970 the pension will be paid to everyone over 65 who has the required Canadian residence.

To receive the pension a person must apply using the standard application form available at all post offices. There is one exception to this rule. Those who are receiving an old age assistance pension need not apply as the provincial pension authorities will apply on their behalf.

The applications should be submitted six months before the expected date of payment. In the case of residents of Alberta and the Yukon and Northwest Territories, the forms should be sent to the Regional Director of Old Age Security 946 Federal Building, Edmonton.

If possible birth or baptismal certificates should be submitted with the applications. However no one should delay applying for the pension for the period of age.

Where a birth or baptismal certificate is not available proof of age often becomes a difficult problem as searches for records may take months. Because of this, pensions is urged to apply well in advance. The Edmonton regional office is now prepared to accept applications from persons born on 1895 or 1896 and a group may apply immediate

Care in Control of Weeds Urged By Experimental Farm

Beaverlodge (Canada) grass good material on these tough-to-boil weeds. But it can do more harm than good if you don't use it carefully says H Friesen of the Lacombe experimental farm, experimental farm.

Beaverlodge (Canada) grass good material on these tough-to-boil weeds. But it can do more harm than good if you don't use it carefully says H Friesen of the Lacombe experimental farm, experimental farm.

Beaverlodge (Canada) grass is more susceptible to damage from Banvel D than wheat or oats so it must be applied earlier and at lighter rates.

The recommended rates are to boot and oats are two ounces per acre applied before the grass is past the four leaf stage. Then your Banvel D is banned for use on barley and is recommended at 1½ ounces per acre applied before the barley is past the three leaf stage.

Spraying before the crop began to tiller will reduce the risk of injury Under bush growing conditions there is more danger of injuring barley says the Friesen If the cereal growth is very rapid and lush the rate should be dropped to one ounce per acre or not applied at all

Under these conditions the soil the chemical is taken into the plant more rapidly where it slows growth by interfering with cell division

HENRY A. FRIESEN

According to Mr Friesen this is particularly important for the large barley growing area on the Peace River Block where natural debris it is not as common in the other areas.

He also suggests it is as important to have a sprayer accurately calibrated to apply the chemical as the correct amount. He says it is spray at the right stage of growth The little chemical can result in a slower less effective kill but too much can cause severe crop damage

Banvel D does not kill some common weeds like mustards, which are very susceptible to 2,4-D The chemical Banvel D will probably be used in combination with the mixture of 2,4-D or MCP A three way mixture of Banvel D with emergence replacing some of the 2,4 D. has not proven more effective as grass-borne and field trials at Lacombe Farm and Banvel D with with annuals but not esters It is usually simpler and safer to buy the commercially prepared mixtures he says it is one of the new and better products of modern science but it demands more respect

Mirror School Band Invited to Join Seniors

MIRROR — The individual band instruction and band rehearsing as a group under the leadership of Staff Sergeant of the PPCLI band terminates May 31.

Both the Mirror community band and students feel they have received invaluable instruction under Mr Cosmo and are sorry they could not continue longer. He has also taken over Mrs. Cowpie's school band, and reports some very talented and well trained children there, in spite of not too good accomodation and time duties from the lunch hour.

It is regrettable that with the talent and enthusiasm of the young players, twenty-one in all, the expenses of instruments borne by the parents, and the interest extended by the Mirror school staff and the students union that a more regular interest is not taken by the county school board.

The Mirror community band and their leader, Mrs. Parks extended a hearty welcome to all those young people to come out at with the band on regular practice nights, Tuesday and Friday, of each week at 7:30.

After a cool day on Thursday the night was chilly and early Friday a white frost covered the roof tops, with temperatures as low as 27 degrees But too good for perennials which are in bud or for fruit trees and flowering trees on which the blossoms were ready to burst into bloom. Some farm thermometers reported that temperatures of 6.30 was only 30 degrees.

Power Disrupted

During the May 16 rain and storm, people of Clive in some places had no power from 2.30 p.m. Sunday until 6.00 p.m. Monday. Other homes had power for a while Sunday evening, and a gas Monday morning when it went off about 6.30 a.m. And the most unhappy evening found refrigerators defrosted during the interruption and deep-freezes stored some defrosting but not enough in most cases to cause damage

A. L. Senecal drove to Alix on Monday to inform Calgary Power men that the power had been off for 84 hours They could not be reached by phone and did not know that Clive was without power

Heavy machinery has been passing through and also being parked overnight in vacant lots leading people to believe that some project was being done But it was all gone in the morning and not attended for one hour.

Thoughts to ponder: Why are roads long lists of business being put on the same page in papers and magazines? These recipes happens recently and made the rest and eat, tantalizing the appetites of ardent-sometime people.

Bud Phillips Family Will Leave Clive

CLIVE — A farewell party was held in the Clive Legion hall for Mr. and Mrs. Bud Phillips, who are leaving Clive after living here for about four years. Mr Phillips was manager of the Beaver lumber and hardware, which is reported to be closing down.

They have both been active and willing workers in the Clive curling clubs, and Mr Phillips has been a very clever minded man in town affairs.

He helped plant the trees in Clive last year, and was also involved with Mayor Stan Heald during the winter to keep sidewalks, etc. cleared of snow.

A presentation of a chess cabinet was made by the Rev. Fehrenbach on behalf of the town people, and a compact was presented on the behalf of the members of St. Bruno Curran.

A very nice "thank you" speech was made by the recipients, and the evening closed by the serving of a delicious lunch.

Mr and Mrs. Phillips will be missed but their many friends wish them well.

The welfare of every Albertan is essential to the welfare of the Province

Alberta's greatest resource is her people. From every walk of life . . . of every age, Albertans are working together to build, create a bigger province in which to live.

Through the Department children who are needs of the province receive proper care and attention.

Through financial assistance and social development programs, aid is available to those who through misfortune, physical or mental handicap are unable to fulfill themselves as productive members of society. Through the Department, citizens are helped to help themselves, particularly, the Old Age assistance and rehabilitation programs in which even the individual rights of the recipient are protected.

The Department has made available Senior Citizens Lodges for the aged and infirm. Through these lodges, they have social care in congenial surroundings for their remaining years and retirement.

Plans for single mortgage loans to rural and housing in Edmonton, Calgary and the Yukon Chinook at Grande and Vermilion.

Through this people we are an Alberta resource, Alberta looks after its own, but it has to be under Alberta.

CLASSIC CONFUSION

Farmers like Ray Hand who resides a few miles east of Lacombe on Hwy 12 report that a number of last motorists are stopping at their farms asking the way to Edmonton. After looking at the hedge-podge of directional signs posted at the cross-roads of Hwy. 2A and 12 highway in Lacombe, it's no wonder drivers get confused, and also lose their way. Two sets of signs, side by side, don't help matters any either. If the department of highways removed the post shown on the right in this picture, directions would be clearer and correct. This should be done before the busy tourist season which has closed.

Town Studies New Street Program

With the first phase of the street improvement program almost completed with the last of the paving, town council is turning its attention to other thoroughfares under systematic police works development.

Councillor Don Dew at the meeting last week presented a map showing an outline of streets which pavement and sidewalks are the most prospect extended to cost about $64,000 under debenture borrowing.

He said that the proposed assessment to the present street program would have to be advertised in the same manner under local improvements, and residents would have the same option to petition for the by-law if they so desire.

Councillor Dew pointed out that the building of sidewalk, curb and gutter would be done in some cases before road construction and Mayor Gissing said Grades would be established by curbs, however which would be an asset.

He said that Calgary Concrete was willing to extend the same rates as last year and that Strang Lumb and Nelson would carry on similar engineering services.

Council pondered whether more thought should not be given to the initial stages to storm sewer and Alex, the preliminary sewer system for improvement as this fund as a map required a good deal of study.

It was decided that council should not a committee next Monday, June 7, to discuss the question further.

Centennial Funds From Town Expected to Total $15,000

Town of Lacombe began to have about $15,000 available for centennial improvement project.

The sum of 25,000 will be forthcoming from the $1.00 per head grant from the $1.00 per head government on the town population of approximately 5,000. Another $4,000 can be obtained on $1.00 per head (three times) from the population of 1,000 which the town has been "borrow" from the county of Lacombe.

At a meeting on Tuesday night of last week, town council received a letter from the county commissioning its proposals to waive rights to centennial grants and to have Lacombe receive pro rata to municipalities within the county of Lacombe.

Lacombe's share has been set by the county at one-quarter, or about 2,000 based on the county population of 8,000-plus.

Town council is pleased to accept the offer, and will endorse the county accordingly.

It was decided at the meeting last night of business, with adjournment close to midnight.

Meeting of the season council welcomed four visitors from the Lacombe Boy Scouts, namely Warren Hall and Mary Rabeck, all on grade nine, along with instructor Rev. Hamilton.

Miscellaneous Business

● Councillor Lew Kittle drew attendance to the "unsightly sign" on the north entrance to town on Hy 2A highway. Secretary Fred Lavery was ordered to write the Engineer Hotel to repair the sign, or the town will have it removed at the owner's expense.

● Theatre inspector reports were given that an inspection by the LMC, and good to inform citizens of the fact, carried out inspections. He points out that the top outside seat on the east side of the rink needs repair.

● Lacombe general hospital has announced that an increased maternity committee will be necessary this year due to a policy change in paying the driveway.

● R. H. Jenkins of Calgary, owner of the Red and White store building in town, sent a letter of complaint about the state of the sidewalk in front of his premises. Town has already planned to make repairs.

● Provincial planning director from Edmonton advised council by letter that approval has been given to the sale of 0.6 acres of land (near hotel to Shell Oil Canada Ltd. on the divided highway) belonging to Canadian Union College.

● Council authorized the expenditure of $4,000 to have Highline Construction of Lacombe crush three-inch gravel, to be used for road foundation and to fill holes. This money was set aside in the budget.

Truck, Train Collide At CPR Crossing

There were no injuries in a train-truck crash at the CPR crossing on the south outskirts of Lacombe by the Red Deer-Lacombe bus Wednesday afternoon about 3:30 p.m.

The big truck with 3-ton hay trailer belonging to Miller's Light Gilfield Haulage was being driven by Wetter Truthart of Red Deer when it was in collision with a CPR freight. Engineer Harry Hilling of Red Deer was behind the controls.

The impact rolled the truck over. There was no immediate estimate of damage. Fortunately the driver was unhurt.

Lacombe police reported one other street accident during the week, by the last officer of the month, at 51 avenue and 58 street.

Murray M. Robertson of Lacombe in a 1960 Rover collided with Mrs. Irene Doherty of Lacombe in a 1957 Ford, on Sunday morning about 10:25.

Damage to the Rover amounted to about $70.00, and to the Ford about $40.

Police have laid a charge against Mr. Robertson for failing to yield the right-of-way.

Stray Cougar Panics Local Sheep Raiser

Lacombe police are investigating reports of a cougar which wandered into town and killed one sheep and mauled several others at the John McKay ranch on the northwest of the town the old race track.

The wild beast entered like a cougar were found around the McKay house, and police think it is "quite likely" that it is the same cougar as the one seen at Mirror and some dozen sheep killed in the latter part of May.

The animal is believed to be ranging from Lacombe (Smithfield) area, three miles to the northwest.

A cougar has been seen "a few times" in the area by the experimental farm by local residents, but there have been no reports of a cougar from farmers in the vicinity.

The animal ate the back portion of the lamb which you killed in the latter part of May

Council Accepts Building Bids

Town council has decided to go ahead with improvements to build a public works building at a cost of around $55,000, instead of $55,000 as originally estimated.

At a regular meeting last week, council gave first reading to a by-law to borrow another $5,000 for the additional cost of the building. The by-law will now be forwarded to Edmonton for approval.

Public works committee recommended that the town obtain the extra money for construction, rather than try to tailor specifications to the original $50,000.

By not keen on some of the features of the building would destroy some of the "quality features," in councillor Don Dew's words, like a 30-year bonded, concrete floor, guaranteed free-your pallet job, etc.

Balance of the money is needed for extras like earth fill and water extension.

The public works building will be used to store town machinery and to carry out routine public business rather than major overhauls, it was emphasized.

BLACKFALDS. — Mill rate of 54 has been set by village council, the same as last year but domestic refuse had to be made in municipal expenditures to do it.

"There will be no work in the village this year to avoid a tax raise," stated secretary Tom Ferguson.

Mill rate of 54 is based on an assessment of $743,000. Costs of education take 32 mills, municipal, 16; hospital, 4½; and health and, 1½.

The 1965 Mill Rate

THE 1965 mill rate is four mills higher than last year, an increase which is due to higher costs of education.

Trustees realized that the system of paying to reduce municipal expenditures, by increasing school expenditures, was just imagine the loss and cry that's going to be raised. People are quite sensitive to local services they are used to, like garbage collection, water supply, snowclearance, and fire protection, but add any curtailment would be immediately apparent and would cause considerable opposition.

The M.D. is to be sorry. We have to pay for what we get. Council wisely decided to hold the line on the mill rate for the present year as in previous years, but pressure for more mills for school operations and teachers' salaries affects the public purse.

Council did initiate certain economies in the budget which are hard to swallow. Cuts of $5,000 in the grant to the $10,000 capital reserve fund, which has been used for the purchase of land for future parks, lowered eventual contribution of a new town office. However the new assessment fund system has been broken, it will be quite an hard to bring back on course.

Council talks about raising the mill by different rates for the three areas. It should be borne in mind that dual payments were held 10.4 mills of that is all they are.

Royalty Returns to Germany

QUEEN Elizabeth's visit to Germany has had the charming effect of bringing the people of West Germany and Great Britain closer together.

There was a nasty aftermath to the visit of the Queen's mother in the beginning of the year of Nazi but this must not be forgotten. Indifference between the nations did turn out and the Nazis stirred by the latent anti-Semitism it was a question of retirement on the part of the German people, which led to short strict decorum at this first visit of a British royal to Germany since the beginning of the century. The welcome was implicit in the manner.

As the Queen is prone to do with her radiant beauty and gracious poise, she soon broke down public restraint. Gestures at intervals of the royal lower broke into cheers and applause. Such is the emotional effect of Britain's great ambassadress and symbol of Commonwealth unity.

Prince Philip.

The royal visit will help consolidate the gains in economic ties made by the two countries since the end of the immediate world war. While relations were better in 1963 than ever before, there still existed a strain built up by two great wars in which Germany and the UK were opposed.

Visits to Germany by such world leaders as Premier Macmillan, Kennedy and Charles DeGaulle have helped assuage feelings between the country and United States and France. Now the cause of Great Britain can be added.

All's Well That Ends Well

WE have nothing but sympathy for manager Bobby Tebbutt of the Cleveland Indians, not because he holds down a precarious spot in baseball or is running a losing club, but for his experience in losing his way in a Cleveland hotel.

It's embarrassing for a grown man to admit he's lost in a city he's visited a hundred times, but like the same thing happened to many of us, mixed up in a maze of streets or hotel corridors?

Anyway, here's what happened to manager Tebbutt. (The story reported down the line is only slightly embellished, we trust).

Manager Tebbutt was invited to be guest speaker at a newspaper-sponsored American Legion luncheon in a downtown hotel in Cleveland. He was told that the luncheon was on the 16th floor, so up he went. Sure enough, he found a banquet room ending with a right promoter fit for the duke and earl.

After awhile he sensed all was not well. Adding whose hands he was trusting, the promoter replied, "Relax." They suggested that Lawrence Alfred Tebbutt go on the platform.

Down 15 floors in the bathroom, manager Tebbutt located another gathering, this time more sedate — which made sense. It took a dark leader as a moving picture was being shown on a clipped beside and sat down, whispering to the man next to him. "I'm here. I'm Tebbutt." There was a mild, terse reply that allowed as how he was lonesome.

After watching wild game wingding across the screen for a few minutes, the stricken manager decided it didn't fit in very well with a Legion luncheon. He inquired brought forth the information that he was at a wrestle and western club luncheon.

With this comedy of errors behind him, manager Tebbutt found the right place on the third try. The opening words of his address were reported to be, "Yes'll never believe what happened."

On this commentary, Mr. Tebbutt, it could happen to anyone!

Supervision Saves Lives

ACCORDING to the 1964 drowning statistics compiled by the Canadian Red Cross, nearly 1700 persons lost their lives, including 16 Albertans, under 15 years of age drowned because proper and adequate supervision was not provided during the time they were near the water.

Most of these children were completely unaware of the dangers that might confront them. Many were found under, but not in, deep water. Panic, death, or injury could, they felt, be prevented by watchful supervision. Lifeguards are apparent to adult but not to young children.

For years, the Red Cross has been advising us to supervise our children whenever they go near the water.

It takes only a few seconds for a child to drown. That's why the Red Cross recommends constant supervision, never to let a child out of sight when he's near the water.

June 6 to 12 is Red Cross water safety week in Canada. Help safety sports. This provides the life but, the instructor to teach them with respect and proceed safely.

Reflections of the Times . .

Myths of the Fourth Estate

If you want to have a pleasant, quiet, lazy life, edit a weekly newspaper.

Any newspaper man worth anything can make an extra $10,000 to $20,000 a year besides his regular salary writing for television and radio plays, short stories or novels.

Editors and publishers of weekly and daily papers from Newfoundland to the Yukon met in a secret session and instructed their editorial writers not to say anything new about John Diefenbaker.

People who work in the fourth estate like their job so well they don't care about money.

Write something nice about a person in the paper and he will do him until you or write a thank you note.

Editors who chew tobacco and spit on the floor and kick the copy boy every chance they get are the best kind.

If you hack a winning politician he will do whatever you tell him from then on.

Writing books is easy work.

A dedicated journalist will write his own obituary just to be sure his colleagues don't spell his name wrong.

"A financial report will be presented showing the club's total income and expenses," said Wagner, "so there will be a basis to work from when the schedule is drawn up."

It is to be noted that during the past season the Lacombe Rockets ended up with a deficit.

Just how big that deficit is will not be known until the final report is finished but the fact still remains that the Rockets gave Lacombe fans a lot of entertainment and provided a lot of publicity for the town.

Wagner expects to be able to have a complete report on hand for the coming meeting. Many of the members of the Rockets executive will be present at the meeting.

Late Seeding Bothers Meadowbrook Residents

MEADOWBROOK — Sunday, we still hold our breath and wonder if the sun will stay out or will it be running again tomorrow? It is getting quite serious for many farmers who have only a few acres or none at all, seeded. Once the land is dry enough, every available moment will be spent on it, until seeding is completed. I feel that many farmers will be taking time off on "Farmer's Day" this year.

A shower hamessing Alma Unwin and Bob Sharon was held in the Meadowbrook school on May 28. Gloria Kemball and Darlene Hamsley brought on a basket of gifts coming from many friends and relatives. Diane Deal made the presentations to the couple and passed on the community's wishes for a happy future. Host ess for the afternoon were Mrs. Vernon Kemball and Miss Carol Deal. The afternoon was concluded off with a delicious lunch.

Mr and Mrs Garry Gilland and boys were week end visitors at the N E Gilland home.

Mr and Mrs Melvin Hilke to enter the parents of a baby boy Joey Allan born in Rimbey last week. Congratulations!

We'd like to wish a rather belated welcome greeting to Mr and Mrs. Arw Drew who recently moved in their home in the district.

Church services will be held at Meadowbrook church the Sunday at 11:30 a.m. Communion will be held with Rev. Hansen from Lacombe officiating. Our student examiner Ron Gilroy will be taking the morning service in the Lacombe United church. We will hold Sunday school every Sunday at 11:30 a.m. this year, so any interested parents please bring your children.

Choir practice is also being held this year on Wednesday evenings at 8:30, in the church, and anybody who likes to sing is certainly welcome to come.

Miss Carol Deal left on Saturday to begin her studies at the school for nursing aides in Calgary.

We extend our sympathy to Mrs. Bob Riley and other relatives of the district, on the passing of her sister, Mrs. C. S. Cote (Lorna) who died in a Calgary hospital last week. Funeral services were held in Red Deer on Saturday.

Sisters Wed Same Day In B.C.

Two sisters, one from Lacombe and the other a Lacombe nurse, were united ceremonially vows performed in a double wedding ceremony on Saturday, June 25, 1955, at Salmon Arm (B.C.) First United church, with Rev. Gordon Sheriker officiating.

The daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Sutcliffe of Salmon Arm, became husband and wife united in marriage by her brother Linden to Raymond James Carlson of Sturgeon by her father in Dominion Metro Rose of Lacombe.

For wedding they wore identical gowns of lace and nylon, with matching veils and bouquets of white and pink carnations.

Bridesmaid was her twin sister, Miss Evelyn Mary Sutcliffe, dressed in orange lace brocade. Bridesmaid was a pink brocade and net.

For her marriage to Donald, son of Mrs. E. J. Rose and the late Henry Rose of Lacombe, Margaret chose a floor length lily-point sleeves of Chantilly lace, with hand and pearl trim of the same material on a full net skirt. Her shoulder-length veil of net was crowned with a tiara of pearls and brilliants. Her bouquet was of tuberose roses, euphoniella and carnations.

Miss Janet Rose, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid in a dress of orange lace brocade with headpiece of brocade and veiling. Best Ring bearer was Wayne Johnson.

Mr. Rose had Jon Webber as his best man, while Mr. Carlson was attended by Ron Sutcliffe. Ushers were Keith Johnson and Lorden Sutcliffe.

Miss Florence Johnson played the wedding music and the soloist was Mrs. Bruce Corbett, who sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "O Perfect Love."

Mr. and Mrs. Carlson are honeymooning in the Western States and on their return will reside in Salmon Arm.

Mr. and Mrs. Rose also spent their honeymoon in the West and will make their home at Lacombe.

Bentley, Mirror Pupils Win Essay Contest

Gail Holmes of Bentley and Ann Havings of Mirror were winners in the essay on the Alberta safety council's annual farm safety essay competitions in grades five and seven-eight, respectively.

Announcement was made last week from central headquarters in Edmonton. Each winner will receive a sports hardwood pig-gue plus a lapel pin.

A DISASTROUS HURRY

(Gail Holmes, grade five)

The happiest day for the children of Jackson high school had arrived at last Final exams were over and the summer holidays had started It was a beautiful warm day the kind of day when nothing could go wrong To celebrate the end of another school year Mary Ann, Fred, Lynn and Jack decided to go to the dance at Sunny Side Lake

They set off for an evening of fun, laughing and singing all the way to the lake When they arrived there was already a big crowd and they soon became part of the merry group.

About ten thirty they noticed that a light rain was beginning to fall, but this did not worry them When they left at eleven thirty the light shower had turned into a downpour Suddenly Fred could dampen their spirits and they were on the gravel highway and headed towards Jackson's Every car of them forgot that a railway track crossed the road, or else they did not think that a train would be travelling at this time of the morning.

Fred did not stop at the track to see if a train was coming, but when the car had just started to cross the track it was only a few yards away. Suddenly Mary Ann saw him It was too late for him to warn the others and the train hit the car with a loud crash.

Fred and Mary Ann were killed instantly Bob and Lynn were more fortunate and were thrown out of the car, which was completely demolished.

When the police arrived there was glass and blood everywhere. An ambulance hurried Lynn and Bob to the hospital for they were badly hurt Bob had serious head injuries, broken bones and lost a lot of blood. The summer did not know if these two young people would even live. If they did they would carry life-long scars.

Everyone in the community was shocked by the terrible accident, for nothing like this had ever happened in Jackson before.

The mistake that these teenagers made which caused two deaths was that they did not stop, look or listen for a train before crossing the railway tracks. Never take it for granted that a train will not be coming or just because you see the engine

(Ann Havings, grade eight)

One day, about a year ago, the streets were slippery because of the rain and sleet. Many cars did not stop fast enough.

On the particular day some grade six students were going home from school. They were in a hurry because they did not realize they were crossing the street until they heard a loud, sickening sound of brakes and then what they would never have expected — a crash right behind them.

They suddenly turned around and saw broken glass everywhere. Bob in the hospital for they were badly hurt Both had serious head injuries, broken bones and lost a lot of blood. The summer did not know if these two young people would even live. If they did they would carry life-long scars.

Apaches, Braves Tied Atop Softball League

Apaches and Braves are deadlocked at the head of the pack in the Lacombe Softball League after last Sunday's games.

Apaches edged up first spot out of a tie with Braves by virtue of a 9-7 win. They edged the Braves 9-8 last Tuesday in a tightly played game from which Carol Stewart emerged as the hero for the winners.

On Friday the Apaches were called on to do the trick again by meeting Bentley ball club.

On Sunday the hapless Lacombe squad took on 11-0 pasting from the co-league leaders to slap in their first loss in the standings.

Meanwhile the Braves were picking up four points in their two weekend games. After dropping one to the Apaches, they rebounded to nip Lacombe 10-9 in a thriller and then humiliated 22-4 on Sunday.

Blackfalds and Bentley reported battled to a 5-5 draw but Tuesday game between the same two squads Blackfalds edged out a 6-5 victory in the last official league game.

Jubilee Explosives Bentley Squad In Central Penny League

Central Alberta penny leagues faced its first crush of the season last week-end when more than 500 set to drop out of scheduled play.

Penticton has filled the vacancy left by the Bentley group and a new schedule has been issued to cover play until past the middle of July.

Carl Glenn of Clive, league spokesman, said that Bentley officials felt they were unable to do the best interest of their local leaguers and themselves by dropping out for this season.

Bain has hastily reorganized the only part of the schedule but of Bentley league to be able to pick up the rain-out by the middle of the month.

Meanwhile, games during the next week are scheduled as follows:

Friday: Clive at Blackfalds; Bentley at Lacombe; Lacombe at Penticton; Bentley at Penticton.

Monday, Maple Leaf at Penticton.

New Softball Park Now Ready For Use

Volunteers spent a busy week levelling packed and fenced, and moving the softball park from the former location alongside centre line 2A highway to a new site at the rear of Bob Hill's residence on the 20 acres of land leased with the county south at the entrance to the town.

The new park — "it's a dandy" says one enthusiast — is protected from the east by a high berm of loose hay from by groves of trees.

The first meeting of the ball-dig and softball forming on Saturday and Sunday, and on Monday evening the ball diamonds will be ready for next week's home.

Bleachers will be moved to the new park this week, and outfield accommodation for upwards of 250 fans will be set up.

Dugouts are now are still not completed, the league players have agreed to have an "official opening" of the new premises before the end of the month. Efforts are being made to bring in two teams from Red Deer to feature the official opening of the new ball park.

Kamloops Accepted for Lions Baseball Tourney

Only one team has been definitely accepted for the Lacombe Lions club baseball tournament to be held on July 10 and 11.

Town and district baseball chairman Fred Stewart told The Globe on Tuesday that the Kamloops (B.C.) Labatts — who won first place money of $1,500 last year — had definitely accepted the invitation.

Hon. A.R. Patrick, Local MLA, Replies to Board of Trade Letter

Complaints from the Lacombe and district board of trade regarding the approved provincial government policy of restricting expenditures to the amount of estimated revenue, contained in a letter to the local MLA, Hon. A. R. Patrick, minister of labour and mines, drew a reply.

Here is the text of Mr. Patrick's reply:

207 Legislative Bldg.
Edmonton, Alberta
June 7, 1965

Mr Roy Sturgeon
Secretary Manager
Lacombe & District Board of Trade
Lacombe, Alberta

Dear Mr. Sturgeon,

Your letter of May 31 on behalf of the Lacombe and district board of trade is disturbing to me now as a member of industry and development and as member of the legislature representing Lacombe constituency.

In both roles I am sure you must appreciate that I am fixed minimal by our industrial development department where money shortfall is concerned. I fully realize the benefits that existing industry has brought to Lacombe and the value that further industry could accomplish.

It is unfortunate that to note that even though all districts are now fully aware of the value of industry to their growth, most of them realize the limitations they must face in their hopes to get all the industry they would wish for.

When your letter begins by expressing disappointment in our efforts on behalf of Lacombe, you must support your contentions by acts and examples which are of a different nature and refer to gas revenues payroll in the town.

The first one deals with the contributions in connection with the education revolving from exemption claiming of telephones.

I would suggest that you refer to your files of eight years ago when the Lacombe and district board of trade protested to me concerning the fact that you were not on the top priority for changing over from semi-automatic to automatic system.

In my reply I explained the procedures which established these priorities and ended up by submitting to you that automatic dialing would result in that very situation.

I pointed out that the was a communication department of telephones and centralized by us pressing my personal view that since Lacombe was one of a few automatic rural areas that was financially capable of converting to dialing, the further down the list they were, the longer they would enjoy having a Lacombe payroll.

Surely you are not asking for the stash of progress to be stopped.

When you reverse the power of the provincial government for failing to back the federal government in its removal of the C.B.C. transmitter from Lacombe, I don't think I should digress such a protest by even commenting. Many persons on this may have been to all of us, I am amazed that anyone should be questioning a scientific fact.

The last example that you have quoted refers to the change in the distribution of bingo lost money from the Lacombe figure close to the provincial average established in the year.

For the moment the law as such is one, and not two per province. Recommendations have been submitted from Lacombe but being familiar with this subject I understand the comment I had heard of this reorganization.

I learned that bag beer is unpatronized and therefore most beverage stores which in a time limit of 30 days can only be effectively located in one area for large distribution. This decision was made only after careful study and consideration of manufacturers applications for handling the product.

As you know there will shortly be a brand new provincial government building to be erected in Lacombe, which has to be delayed until all of the desirable properties can be acquired and put to office.

I know it is your objective to secure the education facilities will come to Lacombe as a result of the development as compared to the taxes you have collected and your school, I convinced, there should be no distinction in the contents of services to the people of that area.

I would only conclude by supporting that the speech given by Honourable Harry Hays last week to the Alberta members of commerce be read to your board.

Yours sincerely,

A. Russell Patrick
Minister of Industry & Development

Town Assumes Development Control Following Public Hearing

Public hearing was held at the municipal council centre last Monday, June 14, at 7:00 p.m. to hear particulars to town amendment of a proposed development control by-law.

That hearing gave the town authority to establish areas of development control, until passage of a zoning by-law and adoption of the general plan later this summer.

It was a procedural type hearing, and not to be confused with the public hearing to be held at a later date when a permanent zoning amendment and zoning by-law is passed.

At that time council will be facilitating citizens with the general plan for orderly development of the town as such inside as parks, schools, and community [illegible] industrial-residential zones.

Passage of the by law at a later date will give the town control over construction and subdivision and any changes that are in the development of land within the town limits.

Control at present is restricted to a building construction regulation by-law

PIONEER CHURCH — This pretty little white church at Mirror with the red roof is the oldest church in Western Canada. The congregation of St. Stephen's Anglican church will welcome others to a special 75th anniversary Sunday morning service, followed by a box quet and program. Accommodation should be arranged before-hand through the rector, Rev. Tim Nakagawa (See story page nine)

Vocational School Receives Approval

A new vocational-academic high school at Lacombe was approved verbally last week by the school buildings branch of the provincial government in Edmonton. The vocational part of the proposed school had previously been approved by the federal government, which pays its share of this cost under the dominion-wide vocational training program.

Cost of the proposed school is estimated at $2,175,000. Only about $81,000 of this huge sum will be a direct charge on the taxpayers of this district, local officials estimate. The balance will be paid from the province's foundation grant, and from funds set up through the federal-provincial vocational act.

Education committee of the county of Lacombe is due to meet in special session this afternoon. While a formal letter of approval is still required from the buildings branch, it is understood the committee will go ahead with plans for the big project.

A debenture by-law must be advertised first, and allowing a normal time interval to follow for the approval of ratepayers, plus a further time lapse for receipt of detailed plans by the architect. It is calculated construction of the vocational-academic school could not start before January 1, 1968. On this basis, it could be at least partly occupied and in use by September 1, 1967.

Total area of the proposed building is 110,000 square feet. It would be located on part of 26 acres of property acquired earlier this spring from Ronald MacDonnell, lying west of the county office.

According to present plans, the centre of the proposed school would be single-storey for shop, kitchen and administrative area.

On either side would be facilities for vocational-industrial, and for academic subjects. These would be two-storey structures, as presently blue-printed.

In the vocational-industrial wing, plans call for shop areas and six standard classrooms for these courses.

Beauty culture, electricity, automotives, building construction, drafting, horticulture, related activities (welding, etc.) physics. In addition, there are two classrooms provided for business education, one typing room, one business machines, and one merchandising.

The academic wing provides space for ten classrooms, two ancillary rooms, two science areas, one industrial arts, one home economics, and one language lab.

There are a number of rooms for joint use on the blue-prints like study space, gymnasium, audio-visual room, arts and crafts room, and library.

The local education committee is expected to draw up a debenture by-law requesting authority to borrow about $270,000. An estimated $135,000 of this will be returned through the foundation program — leaving a direct cost to local ratepayers of a little over $81,000 according to present calculations. This sounds like a bargain for a two-million-dollar school.

Co-op Meeting On Friday

A year of consistent operation with no great business losses to date, is cited as the chief feature and statement of the Blackfalds United Co-operative association for the year ending May 31, 1966.

Egg shipments are up slightly, and cattle and sheep movements show small increases.

Three salaries will be dealt with in detail by manager G. A. Wright of Bentley, at the annual meeting to be held in the Legion hall at Lacombe next Friday afternoon at 1:30.

The statement reveals that 37,000 head of hogs were handled through the Co-op during the year, for a total weight of 5,554,- 000.

This compares with last year's big figures of 39,500 head, and a total weight of 5,645,700.

Only seven cattle were shipped through the co-op for a total weight of 3,220 pounds, compared with 34 head and 5,940 pounds the previous year.

Balance Sheet

Members of the co-op will be given an opportunity to tour their stores. There will be an election of officers.

Two interesting guest speakers will be present. A personnel director, George Wiskinier of the Alberta Livestock Co-op, Calgary, will speak on hog marketing practices in Ontario, Manitoba and Alberta.

Dr. W. Combs, assistant professor of animal genetics with the University of Alberta, will outline a provincial system in rotating breeding stock.

President's report on the year's operations will be given by Harold Peterson of Bentley. The meeting concluded in Ponoka Hive of Lacombe.

SPECIAL CHURCH SERVICES — Rev. T. Nakagawa, rector of St. Stephen's Anglican church at Mirror is making arrangements to observe the 75th anniversary of the church's founding next Sunday together with the vestrymen and church wardens, Bill Lailey and V. E. Thompson.

Motorist Finds Bumpy Road On Railroad Track

A car driver heading south on No. 2A highway Monday up on the CPR tracks yesterday nearly had a disastrous afternoon when both front wheels became before a freight train was due.

Lacombe police said the motorist turned east at the Blackfalds Hotel intersection, highway No. 12, and crossed the railroad tracks into Blackfalds municipal district.

Here provided to the rail crossing. There was still enough room for the cars to pass.

Police received a report from the driver. A few minutes later, a CPR freight train came down the line.

Police stressed the importance with motorists to obey railroad signs. They also wish to remind motorists to be careful when crossing railroad tracks.

Thought for the week . . .

Last Days of School

For the rest of the students, it's a busy time Grade 9 and 12 pupils are now in the midst of writing departmental examinations.

Chapel Site On Highway Turned Down

Application from the combined Christian Reformed churches of central Alberta to erect a "chapel-by-the-highway" on the No. 2 divided highway has been rejected by the provincial government.

Wymer Meisterman, local spokesman for the church, said that highways minister Gordon Taylor explained in his letter of refusal that traffic should be kept moving on the highway with as few stops as possible.

Only commercial highway stops are authorized, and any attempts to reduce morale from the highway are frowned upon in official circles.

It was the intention of the church group to erect a non-denominational chapel near Bevin's Juniper Service where travellers could rest and listen to tape-recording sermons.

The proposed $7,000 project has not been abandoned. Church officials are looking at other alternative sites around Gull Lake, Sylvan Lake, and the Blindman River camp site on No. 2A.

RED CROSS AWARD — Fred Parenteau (left) of Lacombe receives a Red Cross citation for long and outstanding service from Bob Jewell, past-president of the Red Cross association, at a Rotary club meeting in the LMC last Friday noon. Mr Parenteau has served the Alberta division of the Red Cross for 18 years in Taber, Claresholm and Lacombe, acting as secretary-treasurer here. The citation "in recognition of outstanding voluntary service" carries the signature of the provincial president, H. M. Hunter of Calgary.

A Boost For Education in the County

The education picture in the county of Lacombe looks brighter this week, following verbal approval from the provincial government for construction of a new vocational academic high school here. The facilities it provides would offer greater opportunities for students in this district who are restricted to a straight academic program at present.

It is hard for people of "the old school" to accept the need for what they consider frills in education. But business and industrial courses are required now, to counter-act the alarming drop-out rate in high school grades, and to help prepare youth for the business world which demands better education and trained employees.

Provincial and federal authorities would never have given their approval to a school of this scope in Lacombe without careful study and deliberation. They agreed to under-write the total estimated cost of $2,175,000, with the exception of about $81,000.

The federal - provincial agreements on education were set up a few years ago to provide just this type of assistance to local educational bodies. They were formulated to provide needed educational expansion without placing the entire cost burden of construction and operation on property owners.

The need here has now reached the local level in this county, and is so liberal that the new high school concept will be built here with less actual local taxpayer contribution than the necessary school building programs to be undertaken at Alix, Mirror and Clive (where unapproved needs total over $150,000).

Lacombe school facilities are dangerously inadequate. Classes are crowded. More rooms must be supplied. By far the best way to get them is in this new county high school with vocational wing.

CANADA'S NEW LABOUR CODE (Hon. John MacEachen, Minister of Labour, answers some questions)

"Our new Canada Labour Code has been called a 'first,' Mr. Minister. Would you agree?"

"Briefly, what does this new Code apply to?"

"Let's get down to specifics. Will, exactly, does 5 minutes in these employees who are affected by it?"

"You said the new Code applies to industries under Federal jurisdiction. Would you name them?"

"You said it is one of the most absolutely Canada has a right to be proud of it. It sets higher standards than have been set for other country. Other countries are taking note of the way Canadian Parliament is moving that more workers share in this country's growth."

"It applies to industries which fall under Federal jurisdiction and they will prove to be a guide for other industries, the Railway Board, which is a large employer and in its own right, will take the lead by applying the Code's standards to its own federal employees."

"You are said, in non-substantive amendments — and I assume that these are changes — that there is a lot of wisdom already under Alberta law the Code sets. Now, it sets a standard 8 hour day and a 40 hour week, with overtime set at 1½ times the rate, and another at time-and-a-half.

Second, it sets the minimum wage rate for all men and women over 17 years of age at $1.25 an hour.

Next, it provides for two weeks annual vacation with pay after one year's service; or 4% of wages to vacation pay for those who work from 30 days to a year's service.

Finally, it stipulates that each employee shall get eight statutory holidays with pay a year — or get a half day off in lieu of the holiday."

"The Code covers interprovincial or international rail and highway transport, private highway lines the Railway Code, for wages, air transport, radio and TV, shipping, banks, commercial enterprises, grain elevators, and feed mills and canneries, and canning mills, terminals operated by interprovincial pipelines, and those engaged in international telegraph and telephone, and Crown corporations and one or two other smaller industries."

If you are not sure whether you are covered by the Canada Labour (Standards) Code, write to Department of Labour, Ottawa.

Former Publisher, James Skinner, 69, Throws Hat in Ring

Founder of the old Lacombe Advertiser James D. Skinner is still going strong in the city of Edmonton at the age of 69.

He announced last week that he would contest the next bi-election in Edmonton West as an independent Liberal candidate.

Mr. Skinner, who published the weekly here in the early 1900's says he is running to win — not to be defeated.

He promises a program "entirely different from anything ever heard on a public platform."

It's nice to be young. Good luck, Jim.

Rockets Hope To Ice Team

Rumors of the Lacombe Rocket's hockey club in an active member of the Alberta Provincial Senior league will probably be settled this evening at a meeting between executive members and players in Edmonton.

President Grant Wagner told the Globe yesterday that a meeting will be arranged with next year's players in the capital city to seek out their feelings about sponsoring the team.

"If the players are with us," treasurer Alec Martin said, we will go to the CARL meeting in Red Deer on Sunday with a fifth entrant ready to play hockey next year."

Most players, unofficially have indicated a desire to play with the Rockets again for the 1965-66 season, but there are a few of the veterans who are ready to hang up their skates.

Meeting Postponed

Meanwhile, organization on the local executive level is questionable. At an annual meeting called last Friday evening, only six persons out of a large membership attended. The meeting was postponed.

Garth Wagner, who has headed the club for the last two years, has signified his intention to resign. He has been contacted by Red Deer officials as a candidate for the league governorship, but vowed this spring by the resignation of Jack Ferris.

As candidate for league governor, he cannot be connected with the Rockets in any connection with the club. The Globe yesterday that "my resignation, in writing, has been forwarded to the club secretary."

He still travel with other club officials to Edmonton tonight.

Rocket executive members were not available for comment on the matter.

Alec Martin, who will represent the Rockets at the league meeting at Rimbey tomorrow said the club executive would be represented at the meeting.

The support and enthusiasm will be checked at the annual meeting, date for which has yet to be announced.

Scheduled Baseball Games Rained Out

Minor league baseball has been taking quite a beating from the rains of the past week.

No games were played in the pony league during the past week although a full slate of games are expected to be played Friday evening. Bombay at Clive, Bentley at Lacombe Maple Leafs and Lacombe Legionnaires at Blackfalds — and if the wear their co-operates, all teams will see action.

In addition, Legionnaires coach Jack McConnell plans to take his team to Castor on Saturday for a tournament

Little League Scores

Little leaguers have been having rain problems, too, and many of their games have been washed out because of wet grounds. The diamond north of the swimming pool, has had considerable work done on it, but the wet weather has made the new infield employ only several evenings.

The Dodgers, sporting a won-three, lost-one record, are showing early-season championship form. Since the start of the league the Dodgers have defeated Herb Sorenson's Braves 9-4, walloped the Blackfalds Angels, 17-5, and dumped the Maple Leafs, 9-5.

The Braves sport a one and one record, having defeated the Giants 6-5 before being clubbered by the Maple Leafs, 20-4. The Giants, who gave the Maple Leafs a one-one record, as they were rained out 16-0 by the Rockets, who also have won one and lost one.

The Giants and Angels, both of whom have played but one game, are still looking for their first victory in little league play.

Games during the coming week are scheduled as follows:

Tonight, Tigers vs. Mets; Blackfalds Dodgers vs. Red Sox at Blackfalds; Monday Mets vs. Dodgers at Lacombe

In minor little league play (using the diamond west of the C and S Trail, between 10 and 11 average) games are scheduled as follows:

Tonight, Tigers vs. Mets; Blackfalds Dodgers vs. Red Sox at Blackfalds; Monday Mets vs. Dodgers at Lacombe

Swim Lessons Success

OVER half of the first "learn-to-swim" class, 55 youngsters out of the 98 entered in the 6 weeks, learned their lessons well enough for completion of two strokes or better. A similar proportion of passing was expected in the second class of 60 which will finish up this week.

The swimming pool, according to The Globe, which sponsored those lessons free of charge if one or 100 children have been taught their themselves property in water, like rules of drowning are evident. They don't have to know how to swim well, indeed at the tender age of six to eight they couldn't be expected to. But at least they have learned the basic essentials of water safety, and they are able to float and possibly proceed for short periods of time. Most important, they have learned to overcome a natural fear of water while learning a respect for it.

Parents have enough interest in their children to appreciate the benefit of proper instruction and to consult their friends to ascertain the place to go for a beginner or junior, particularly in large towns.

So that all may have an equal opportunity, The Globe is pleased to sponsor the "learn to swim" program each year for every interested. The editors are particularly happy with the response.

If one tot is learned in the fundamentals of home safety, and they are able to float and possibly proceed for short periods of time. Most important, they have learned to overcome a natural fear of water while learning a respect for it.

School Construction Costs Soar

ACCORDING to a news announcement last week, the construction of new schools in this province is being seriously affected by rising costs for new school buildings.

Dr. W. E. Swift, deputy minister responsible, told reporters the 21st annual school conference didn't concern itself with the matter of finance when the subject of regulations governing the erection of buildings set out that basic factor in the total planning.

Exactly what changes are contemplated was not spelled out in detail by Dr. Swift, but they will be worked out by school officials at the next level throughout the province.

Time and again, it has been a matter of alarm that astronomical costs of new schools prove to be less than the actual bids after tenders have been let. In other words, construction costs are going up. This has been particularly evident since January 1, 1956, as our responsible for the new construction are still tendering in terms of last year's prices.

The increases are running anywhere and about — and they are responsible for scrapping of engineering plans, or re-drawing of specifications authorities for permission to change. Such a situation was faced by Lacombe's school board when it moved to build a modern new school. The original quoted price of $35,000 this spring, for a new junior high school building, was some $8,000 under the estimated bids.

It is to the government's credit that it is facing up to the problem of the education program. The present level of a basic $34 a square foot for school buildings is far less than actual bids after tenders have been let. In other words, construction costs are going up. This has been particularly

ALBERTA SECURITIES COMMISSION

. . . protection for Alberta's investors

Canada's economic development has led to a marked increase in financial offerings of securities. Investors have a corresponding need for protection from fraud and misrepresentation in these transactions. The Province of Alberta is protected by the Alberta Securities Commission through the Alberta Securities Commission Act.

All those offering securities in Alberta must be registered with the Commission or must have their offering exempted from registration. Registration is granted only after the Commission is satisfied that the applicant is financially responsible and has been conducting business in accordance with the law and with standards of fair dealing. Exemptions from registration are granted only when the Commission is satisfied that the investors are sophisticated enough to look after their own interests or that the offering is of such a small amount that investors do not require the protection of registration.

The Commission has a staff of investigators who investigate complaints and conduct audits of registered dealers to ensure compliance with the Act and the Regulations. Where violations are found, the Commission has the power to suspend or cancel registrations, issue cease and desist orders, and prosecute offenders.

The Commission's functions are administered by the Securities Act, The Commodity Exchange Act, The Investment Contracts Act, other legislation as considered necessary, and The Unincorporated Business Act and The Business Corporations Act.

Alberta is a good province in which to invest money—The Alberta Securities Commission helps keep it that way.

New Cereals OK'd For Area

Four new cereal crop varieties have been approved for commercial production in Alberta, it was announced by the Lacombe experimental farm in the 1955 crop year. Mr. Mr. Hamilton, superintendent of the farm, said that the varieties are Selkirk, Redman, Rescue and Thatcher.

Selkirk is a new hard red spring wheat developed by the Dominion Experimental Farm Service. It is a cross of Redman and Exchange. Redman is a cross of Marquis and Kanred. Rescue is a selection from Regent. Thatcher is a cross of Regent and Exchange.

There were four cereal crop varieties licensed for sale in Canada following final testing in 1954. While none of these were developed in or around Alberta, they have been tested for several years in this area and a preliminary announcement of their potential for production in central Alberta was made at that time. This information is now available.

Mr. Hamilton outlines of each follow:

Selkirk Wheat

Developed by the rust area project group centred at the Canada Department of Agriculture Research Station, Winnipeg. It combines two extra genes for stem rust resistance which are lacking in Thatcher — as well it is a good all round hard red variety.

Experimental results to date indicate that Selkirk will be adapted to the eastern and central parts of Alberta. Its maturity is about the same as Thatcher — as well it is a little stronger in straw.

Redman Oats

Developed by co-operative by the rust area project group of the research stations at Ottawa. It is primarily a feed oat in characterization but has slightly higher yield and possesses better resistance to stem rust.

On the brown soils of central Alberta it has provided as well or better than Victory but in the black belt below Eagle. On the black and gray soils it is not better or yield than Victory although its 35 pound bushel must be considered an advantage.

It is anticipated that Harmon will replace most of the Redboy presently being grown as central crops.

Rescue Oats

Developed co-operatively by the rust area project group of the research stations at Ottawa. It is primarily a feed oat in characterization but has slightly higher yield and possesses better resistance to stem rust.

On the brown soils of central Alberta it has provided as well or better than Victory but in the black belt below Eagle. On the black and gray soils it is not better or yield than Victory although its 35 pound bushel must be considered an advantage.

It is anticipated that Harmon will replace most of the Redboy presently being grown as central crops.

Thatcher Wheat

Developed by the experimental farm at Fort Vermilion in co-operation with the research station at Ottawa. This variety represents a distinct improvement in yield, straw strength, and disease resistance over the presently grown early and medium maturing varieties in this area.

In central Alberta Results indicate some 7 days later than Redman and 7 to 10 days earlier than Redboy. On the brown, black and gray soils it has outyielded Redboy by some 10 to 15 per cent. Results is resistant to most of the rust and wilt, but shows promise that could prove valuable in flax production in Alberta.

Foundation stock producers will be established in 1955 but the seed will not provide a large scale supply.

Negotiating Teachers Salaries

WE are happy to see an amicable settlement between the Alberta country and the board (ATA on a new salary schedule for next year without resorting to the distasteful means of arbitration. It remains to be seen whether it's a two-year contract could have been negotiated, but there has been no mention of this being the means of going back year after year for more rounds of talks in December.

Just the methods used in arriving at a decision do not seem to matter. The long-term claims of teachers seemed high when presented, but after more than two years the final salary schedule comes up with some sensible results by both sides and includes only possible increases in salaries which seem to be a satisfactory compromise to the ATA.

This paper believes the public should be given more information on salary negotiations than it is entitled to at present. It is the public purse from which the salaries are paid and the public deserves as a surprise if not a shock, every time teachers are hired, that the salaries have been increased. The public is the boss and it is entitled to know what it is expending, and on what grounds. The public does not know what the teachers are being paid in other districts, or what the qualifications or experience are, and why.

This is not discovering in a few misleading salary bits cases, the details should be made public, and the right to judge the merits of the case.

When salary negotiations merge "in camera," there first hand information about these or many people is denied to the public, and by the past constitutional Ministers are don't.

The two agencies were hard this year working out the settlement, it knows but not one penny more.

All the points has been held in abeyance until the matter was settled, and that amounts will be dropped $30,000 next year. The total salary bill for the district's teaching staff of about $1,000,000 next year.

For this kind of money the public is entitled to know how it is being spent, and not just be the satisfaction of a final settlement.

Goodbye Silver

THE value of silver is soaring — but because the demand is greater than the supply, not because the world's currencies are unsteady. The world's currencies are unsteady because the world's supply of silver is not adequate to meet the demand.

The silver content in Canadian currency is only about 75% , but it may follow suit by reducing the percentage still further.

Just what this could do to the price of silver, Lisa, coincidence — and there are usually coincidences when there is uncertainty — would immediately start to move bold upward. If silver goes to fourteen and fifty-cent pieces, one for every four coins, but for the intrinsic value of the silver they contain.

Experience of the silver dollar in the U.S. is a good example. They are not minting dollars, and in the same manner anywhere, as right away they get a discussion value in a gambling centre like Las Vegas where silver dollars are not worth as much as their face value because the supply has nearly dried up.

While the U.S. will retain a dollar's worth of silver in the silver dollar, perhaps for sentimental purposes, it will not largely eliminate silver dollars from circulation.

"Silver" won't be silver anymore, and in these inflationary times, it won't buy as many goods either.

Reduce Holiday Traffic Toll

EACH year there are two summer week-ends, the holiday of which, makes thinking Canadians shudder. These are the two holidays, July 1 and August 1.

The first of these, coming up shortly, will, no doubt, wind up at usual with a new record in fatalities deaths and injuries, when both provincial and Canadian police are covering the highways in U.S. and Canada in a happy escape from their daily tasks and work.

Dominion automobile association offers the following pointers for the celebration of the safe, sane, accident-free July holidays.

Holiday drivers are advised to arrive at their normal speed rate, or than attempting to maintain 60 m.p.h. just because it's legal to do so. Mr Trollope points out that there are many variables at 60 m.p.h. which do not apply at 50 m.p.h. Speed in itself is not always the killer and manner. The real danger is in driving at variance with existing traffic conditions.

Impatience kills many main travellers than is generally believed.

If you want to see the country through which you are passing, reduce your speed! At 500 miles a day, you see little more than black asphalt and white lines. Keep on the right except when passing another vehicle; never play on the pavement. If you become stalled, push your car on the pavement as quickly as possible; don't pick up any hitch-hikers — they may end up with a licence and not an empty wallet, courtesy of your guests.

Accident frequency peaks up on the evening of the final day of the holiday period. Circumvent this extra hazard by starting home early and be off the road while the final scramble is in progress.

Last year, July holiday casualties were up 10% on 1948. Let's reverse the trend in 1949 by emphasizing the 3 C's of safe driving: Care, Courtesy, and Consideration.

Reflections of the Times . .

The Scourge of Mankind

There is an insect loose on our streets that is the greatest scourge since the twelve fly. It's name, just then was the automobile mosquito and terror as bad as any weed-tank.

Weed-tanks borrow deep, but there is nothing that gets under the skin like the irritating, three prideless and ill-bred creatures that toss garbage and papers all over our streets and highways like they were shaking out their druff.

There is no chemical yet developed that will stamp out litterbugs. They operate on an overdose of thoughtlessness which is an antidote for any method man has so far devised. You could probably strike at them with aspirin of TNT (two-dollar-liner), but the would be akin to spraying mosquitoes with an atomizer. It would sting like the dickens say that you hit, but its overall effect would be practically nil.

The only effective way to get at a litterbug is to give him an injection of PBC (pride - in - his-community). The problem, however, is how to give it. Litterbugs are a type that usually have quite a flesh shot with shells to match. Anyway, they don't think they need any injections. They think you must be after someone else.

There's no question about the damage they do. The mess they make is a black eye for the whole community. Something should be done to draw their attention to what it is they're doing. Maybe a combination of TDF and PBC might work. Between the two it might motivate them to use litter baskets instead of streets.

Everyone with a pride in their community should help stamp out litterbugs — simply by not being one.

Summer Tours Dying

Recently I have been called out to inspect farm shelter belts which were in very poor appearance to be dying.

Upon investigation these trees were found to be infested with spider mites.

If you have anyone in your farm shelter belt you would be well advised to have a careful look at them. If spider mites are present the ends of the branches will be turning brown and you will notice they either threads throughout the branches. These are very small sight-legged creatures not readily visible to the naked eye but may be seen by using a hand magnifying lens.

The spruce spider mites can be controlled by using "Malathion" sprays mixed according to the directions on the container. The second spraying ten days later would destroy any mites that were not hatched at the time of the first sprayed.

Healthy trees next to the infected trees should be sprayed to prevent the spread of spider mites.

Farmstead Planning

Now that the crop is a matter of the farmers in the county are slowly considering some re-organization of their farmstead plan.

Anyone who is planning new buildings or land handling systems would be well advised to get into touch with our office as our extension engineer with the Alberta department of agriculture is available for advice on such matters. However, we must be given a definite notice of this and so that no one plan his schedule accordingly.

Cut That Hay Early

Tests have shown that hay cut early will give more total feed value per ton than hay cut at a later stage. It is recommended that alfalfa be cut at or soon as it has started to blossom.

Alfalfa should be raked while the leaves are still tough so that they won't shatter, and then it should be shocked or baled as soon as it is dry enough.

Fresh Flower Lunch

Now is the time when you will begin cutting flowers from the garden to have for lunch or dinner. Flowers are cheerful and these flowers which have usually a semi-woody stems live longer if the stems are scraped and split. Stems can be split with a knife, then cut length-wise with a knife or clippers as far as the stem is split. Then place cut stems in water.

Bread the prepared stems in hot water with deep newspaper wrapped around the flower heads to prevent them from the rising steam. Lilac chrysanthemums, roses, and other flowers can be treated this way.

Some flower stems like tulips tend to soften and bend. To prevent this, lay the flowers flat on a newspaper and wrap in groups of two or three. Place in cool water for several hours in a dark place before arranging.

Those that soak when cut can be done by snaring the end in a split. Flowers stand in deep warm water for a few minutes to prevent the flower and foliage until cool the stem. Then cut in cool water. Prepare, put in refrigerator and display full in this group.

Zinnias and marigolds last longer if all the foliage is removed and another submerged. This will reduce their strong scent also.

To prevent bruises from opening too quickly, place a bit of water in tissue and wrap it around the bud. Leave it on during "bathing" and for a few hours after cutting. Then remove.

Santa Claus Spirit, Town Wages Raised

It was just like Christmas on June 30 when members of several former Blue Flame and Bingo employees were issued their cheques.

Several members of the town office staff of secretary T. W. Lowe and his assistant, Mrs. Basil Kerr, as well as L.I.C. constable Brian Bisset, and of the five members of the Lacombe police force, chief Hazel Bebee and constables Carl Rasmussen, Dan Beatty, Gus Jamin and Bert Mahon.

After the first wage increases in two years went to eight town employees who were given added responsibilities: Gordon Read, Cliff Lee, Charlie Orwald, Cliff Barker, Jack Hocking, Dan Abercrombie, Alex Penhorsky and foreman Evelin Sanders.

Council was in a generous mood and also a jovial mood, disposing of 16 items on the agenda in less than one hour and a half, some items of the business:

✓ Word was that no public works building is still awaiting provincial approval from the local authorities board in Edmonton for the town to spend $25,000 instead of the original $20,000. "We'll be starting construction in April, 1966," was councillor Don Dore's sly comment.

✓ An important meeting of residents along 49 street was due to be held on June 29, reported councillor Gordon Smith, to organize measures toward construction of a sewer main.

✓ Authorization was given to have Black & Kibbee re-construct parks caretaker for the months of July and August.

✓ Police report for May was passed. Municipal Ind. investigated approximately 35 business places on hand open after hours, served time due to the town in May, 1965. Time due to the town in the first five months, 21,225.

Many Sandwoun Mums Proposed For Alix School

Suggestion was received that the local R&S school authorities, represented by H. E. Martin, that the proposed new centralized building at Alix be named "Mother Sandwoun high school."

School committee members meeting in the county office yesterday deferred any decision until August.

Mr. Martin said naming the school after Miss Sandwoun would be "very fitting," and a proper tribute to a devoted teacher who is due to retire in June, 1967, after 42 years.

THEY'LL EAT WELL . . . [illegible] . . . Supplies taken for the week's menus were 168 loaves of bread, 36 pounds of butter, 144 eggs, 12 cans of jam, 864 slices of bacon, 192 sausages, 12 dozen wieners, 84 packages of pudding, three cans of chocolate malt, 30 pounds of powdered milk, 24 pounds of sugar . . .
